REPORT OF SUMMER WORK

THE Hospital has been doing good work during the past Summer, there having been fewer deaths than the record of any previous year shows, and nearly double the number of Hospital days' treatment. Our family has grown so large that the need of a better water supply was felt, so a tank was erected and the engine not in use in the city was removed to Oceanic, which greatly facilitated matters and gave us a plentiful supply of water. Several cases, treated during the Summer, proved to be very interesting in demonstrating the work of the Hospital, while others were sad enough to call forth the sympathies of the Summer Committee. The Fair this year proved successful, and netted the sum of $1,082.33. To the following friends we owe our thanks for their generous response:

Mr. A. G. Spalding donated a bicycle,

Messrs. Marcus & Co. donated a moonstone necklace, and Messrs. Lewis & Conger a number of very pretty china articles, while the Firms of Messrs. Stern Bros. and Tiffany & Co. gave articles which were very acceptable.

The Ladies of the Summer Committee have been extremely kind and attentive to the wants of the Babies, and all interested in our Hospital work have reason to be very thankful to them.

This Committee is composed of young women who, in turn, visit the Hospital; two of them being on duty each afternoon in the week. They minister to the little patients in many loving ways, which even the babies appreciate; entertain chance visitors; do what is in their power to make the Wards attractive, and assist in such work as the Clothing Committee may suggest. A Bed in the Hospital has been endowed by the Cribside Committee, to which it has given the name of Cradl-Nyst. During the Winter a Sewing Class is organized, in which the Crib-sides gather their young friends, and willing fingers fashion many useful garments for our Babies.

REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

THE Directors of the Hospital, in making their Annual Report for 1895, desire to state that the enlargement of the City Hospital has been the means of furnishing more than two thousand additional hospital days for sick infants.

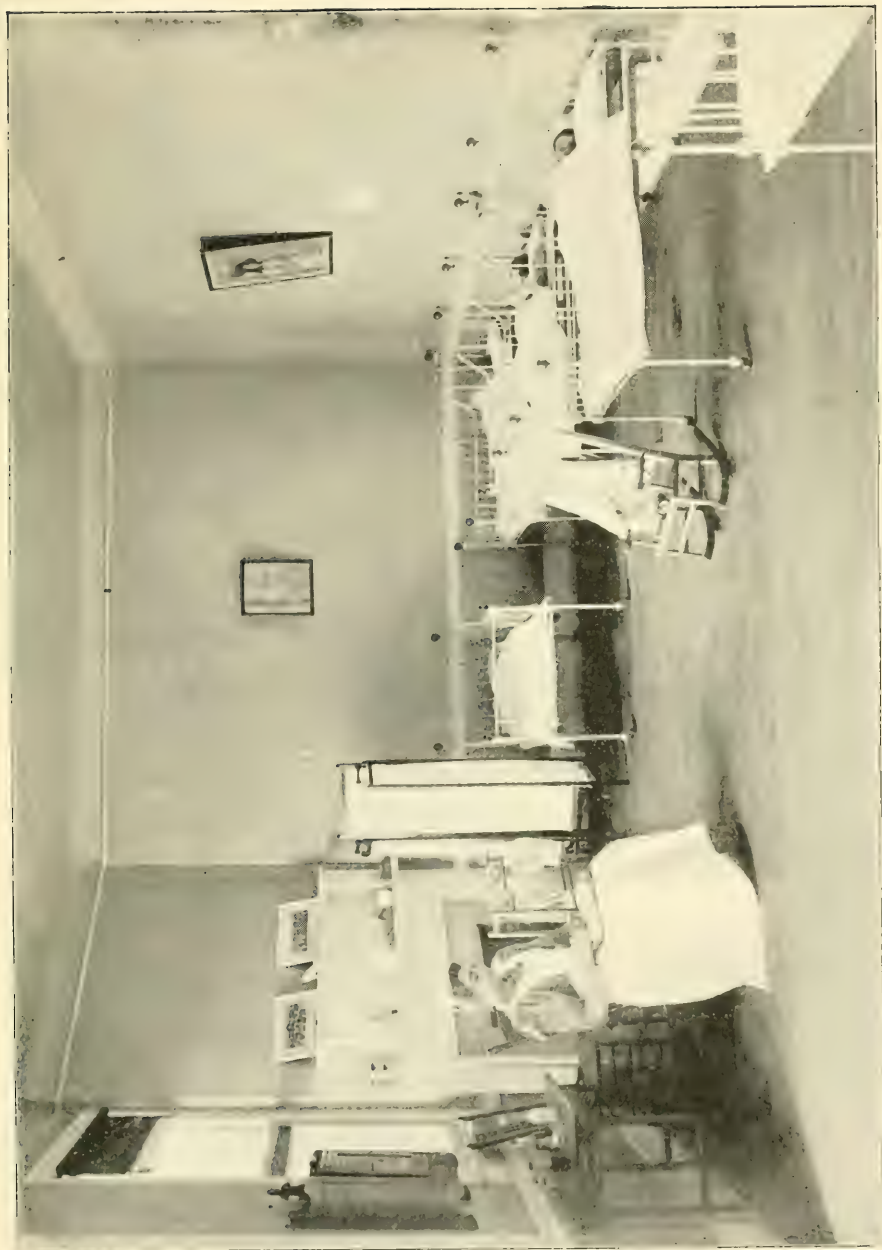

At the same time a high average of success has been attained in the treatment of these cases. In view of the fact that we do not refuse any patient simply because its malady is apparently hopeless, there seems to be good ground for continued encouragement. With an efficient medical service, good and abundant food, methodical and skillful nursing, plenty of fresh air and the financial support of generous friends, we aim to save more than seventy per cent. of our cases.

Work at Oceanic

An unusual amount of satisfaction has attended the operations of the Summer Home at Oceanic, N. J. So very low has been the state of mortality during this season, and so rapidly have some of the worst cases improved, that it is hoped the Home may be kept open for a longer period next year. We now make use of it for four months. We should like to extend the time to eight months, if we can be guaranteed the requisite financial aid for the purpose. But the one hundred and fifty-seven babies that we received strained the capacity of our buildings to the utmost, and we shall soon need more space and more buildings.

Need of More Room in the City

In the City there is also need of more room to accommodate our Nursery Maids. The Training School, now in the seventh year of its existence, has proved so popular that the Managers have not been able to supply one-tenth of the nurses required by the public. It is believed that we should have a separate building, near the Hospital, to be used as a Home for Nurses. There are several houses in the neighborhood, any one of which could be rented for this purpose at a reasonable rate. Should such a building be taken, we should not only be able to extend the usefulness of the Training School, but gain additional room in our Hospital for the sick babies.

In conclusion, we desire to thank those of our new friends who have recently made liberal contributions in answer to our printed appeals. We are also thankful that so many of our old friends have increased the amounts of their annual donations.

THOMAS E. SATTERTHWAITE, M. D.,

President.

CONCERNING THE LADY MANAGERS AND THEIR WORK

BY MRS. ANDREW H. SMITH.

SOME one may ask: "What is the use of a Board of Lady Managers in an Institution which already has a Board of Directors?"

To answer very briefly, "The Lady Managers take care of the details of the Hospital, except in regard to medical matters." Some persons affect to despise details, but according to our observation such persons usually have some one to look after the details for them; when this some one is ill or away, the oversight is neglected, the oil in the domestic machinery is lacking, and then it is that the importance of details becomes apparent. Besides, the Executive Committee, which exercises general supervision of the housekeeping and supplies, there are other Committees for special work. The House Committee has two of its members on duty each month to visit the Hospital regularly, inspect the buildings and look after their order and cleanliness. Its Chairman makes the necessary purchases of utensils and furniture.

The Nurses Committee has charge of matters relating to the Training School; settles questions which may come up, and often wishes that some benevolent person would establish a training school for mistresses! Sometimes our very best nurses are spoiled in the first months of private service by extravagant praise and equally extravagant gifts. On the other hand, there are ladies who think it most unreasonable that a nurse should ever wish to go out.

"Why, I could not think of being obliged to remain home and take care of baby one evening each week," said a young mother. And yet, this same mother considers it extraordinary that a stranger should not be willing to "tie herself down" day and night and take care of this baby with no relaxation.

The Reception Committee has two members on duty every Friday afternoon during the season to receive visitors and explain the work of the Hospital.

Every Wednesday morning the Clothing Committee records, assort and puts away the garments sent by kind friends; acknowledgment of same having been made by the Matron. When there is any special need of clothing for the babies, it is this Committee that appeals to the Board, and then to the public through THE CRIBSIDE paper for the articles required. One of our Committees is intrusted with all matters relating to Endowed and Supported Beds, and sees that the tablets for recording such, in the Managers' room at the Hospital, are correct to date. The Cribside Committee makes a short report elsewhere (see page 16), but we wish here to express our appreciation of its work. Many garments have been made by them, and their frequent visits to the Hospital always bring good cheer. This year they have raised $1,000 for the fund which is to give us a home for our Training School. In the wards there has been much to draw upon our sympathies. Sometimes we can only smooth the passage to the Dark River, and sometimes the babies that come are such little skeletons that we think Death has already marked them for his own; but under wise treatment and tender care, and with the good food they receive, the signs of disease pass away and they develop into plump, rosy children, to the great delight of their kinsfolk.

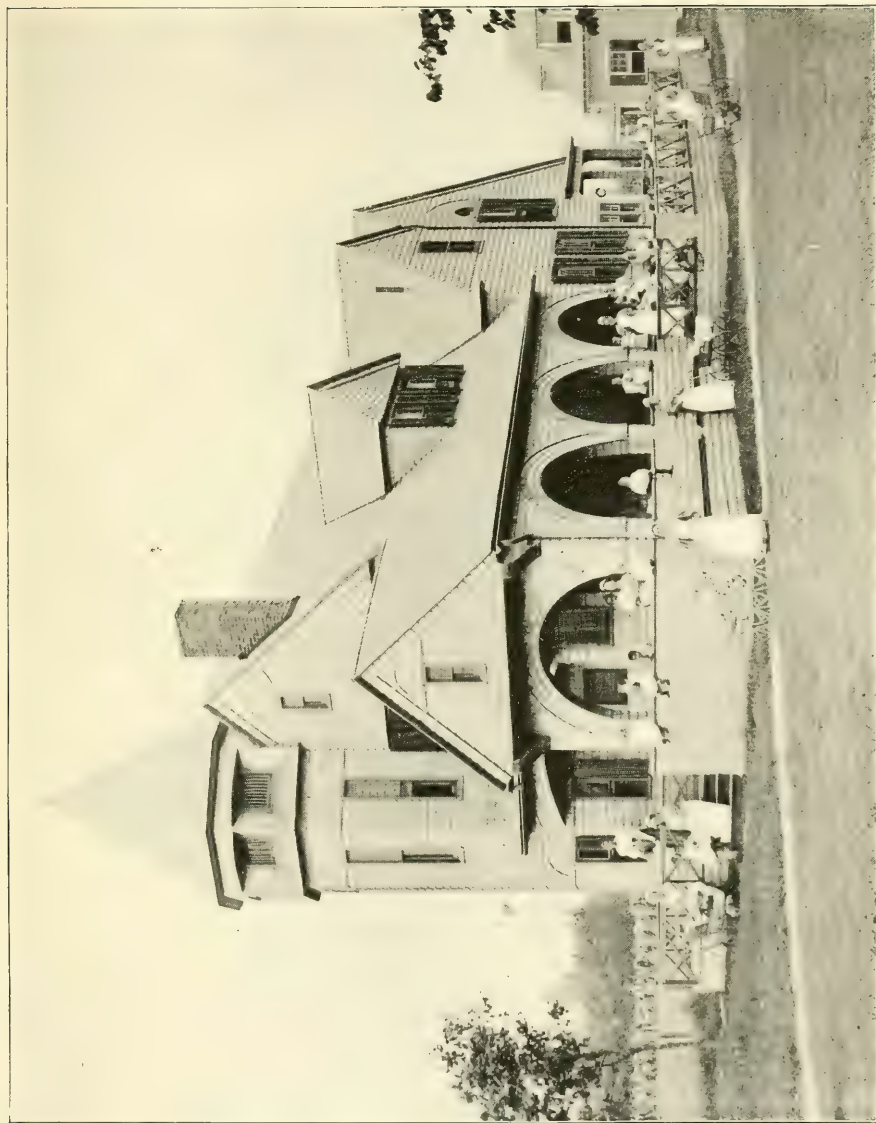

Children's Work for the Babies

Ever since its inception our Hospital has owed much to the interest which children have taken in us. Every year little fingers work and young voices plead for the sick babies. Aunt Marianna, through the columns of the Examiner, reaches many homes, and little rills of help are coming to us from distant hillsides and valleys. In our own "Upper New York" a class of girls, called the Easter Lilies, raised last Spring money to furnish a Bed, and this Autumn they gave us, as the proceeds of a Fair, fifty dollars, which is the foundation stone of a library for the instruction of our Nurses, not in medical science, but in the moral and mental training of children. In drawing this report to a close, we are glad to inform our many friends of the termination of a most successful year as regards the amount of real suffering that has been alleviated, and it is this fact that gives us at the outset of another year, feelings of satisfaction and cause for much encouragement.

ANNUAL REPORT

ATTENDING PHYSICIANS

THE Report of the Medical Service for the past year should be most gratifying to all friends of the Hospital. It shows material progress and growth in every direction. From the Annual Statistical Report, to be found on page 34, it will be seen that we have received and cared for 446 babies during the twelve months ending October 1st, 1895, with a total of 12,446 Hospital days' treatment, an average of 27.91 days to each child. This is a gain of about 30% over any previous year, and it is not due to any increase in our accommodations, for no addition has been made to the number of beds. It is very evident, therefore, that the reputation of the Hospital is growing rapidly among the people; and if such an increment in one year may be accepted as a measure of our future growth, it will soon be necessary to considerably enlarge our present quarters to meet the demand.

The mortality rate has also been slightly lower than in former years, but it is not fair to accept this as a test of the efficiency of the Hospital work, inasmuch as such a large proportion of our cases are practically hopeless on admission. Attention was called last year to the fact that more than half of our deaths occurred in infants under six months of age, and that the chief factors in this mortality were Marasmus and Tuberculosis. This deplorable condition will always obtain while we receive the bulk of our patients from crowded and noisome tenements, and the only hope of amelioration must come through gradual sanitary reforms.

In spite, however, of this discouraging fact, we may hope to improve our mortality rates as the Hospital work becomes better organized, and each year brings better facilities to our aid through the advantages of scientific knowledge.

It is especially gratifying to record the fact that the work of the Hospital has suffered very little interruption through the introduction of contagious diseases. Hereafter we may hope for permanent improvement in this respect, as we have recently added to our equipment a large sterilizer after the model designed by Dr. Dunham. In this, by means of super-heated steam, we can thoroughly and quickly disinfect all clothing, bedding, etc., in fact, everything but the babies themselves. This will be of the greatest assistance, not only in preventing the occurrence and spread of contagion, but also in improving the general sanitary condition of the Hospital.

More than usual attention has been given this year to the subject of infant feeding, the methods of which have been remodeled by the systematic use of modified milk—after the plan of the Walker-Gordon Laboratory. The results from this change have been very gratifying, making the preparation of the food much simpler than heretofore. We have from the beginning deprecated the use of proprietary foods—not from any prejudice, but because our results from other methods were, from every point of view, more successful, and the feeding of cows' milk, as at present employed, has yielded better results than any plan before attempted. But in order to obtain the highest success, we should be able to obtain our milk at least twelve hours earlier than is possible with our present arrangement. The expense of the Laboratory milk has always stood in the way of our using it.

In our Report last year attention was called to the great improvement seen in our protracted cases of pneumonia, empyema and other wasting diseases, when they were transferred to the country in June.

Our experience with similar cases during the past summer has been even more gratifying, and it impresses upon the Medical Officers of the Hospital more strongly than before the advisability of keeping the country branch open during the Spring and Autumn months, while the boats are still running on the Shrewsbury River, for the benefit of those of our children who are convalescing from serious diseases.

The Summer Work at Oceanic has yielded better results than have heretofore been obtained. The buildings and grounds have been improved and are becoming more attractive as the trees and shrubs increase in size. The sanitary conditions have been perfected and the medical equipment re-inforced. In addition to this our neighbors through the surrounding country take the liveliest interest and pride in our progress and furnish us with the most substantial evidences of their sympathy. During the season 153 children were received at Oceanic, and of this number only 23 died. This is a mortality of only 15.03%, a considerable improvement over any previous year.

As stated before, this is not a fair criterion of our usefulness, and should not be used as a basis of unfavorable comparison. In the City we accept most of the babies brought to us, while in the country we are obliged to use more careful discrimination. In former years many children were sent to us chiefly from other institutions, who were moribund before leaving town, and others so ill that the fatigue of the journey rendered them hopeless before reaching Oceanic. We now endeavor to receive only those cases for which there is a reasonable hope of recovery.

It gives us pleasure to allude to the fact that the City Hospital has recently acquired a Long Distance Telephone, through the generosity of Mrs. Wm. F. Have-meyer. This will be of the greatest possible assistance to us in many ways, but chiefly through facilitating our communication with the Board of Health and with other Institutions.

REPORT

OF THE

Superintendent of the Training School for Nursery Maids

(Founded 1889 by Mrs. Robert W. Chapin.)

THERE is in the life of every Institution, from year to year, an unwritten history, which no amount of skill can ever place in tabulated form or construe by the best use of words. This history tells more of the progress of the Institution than all the statistics or reports that can be written, and in this completion of our sixth year, we have reason to consider it the most successful one of our existence. The reports found on the preceding pages tell of the doings of the babies and of the many little ones whom we hope have been helped onward to permanent good health, and this, in great measure, has been accomplished through the faithfulness of our Nursery Maids. Twenty have graduated from our Training School this year, as against eleven last year, and still our supply is not nearly equal to the demand. There is a marked improvement noticeable in the character of our nurses, and this we ascribe to the greater care which we are exercising in admitting on one month's probation only the girls who can fulfill a certain standard of requirement, and be not under twenty years of age, and to the still greater care which we endeavor to exercise over them during the following five months of the course.

At the end of six months suitable certificates are given to those who have earned them and a list of such graduated nurses is kept at the Hospital, where all applications should be made. Excepting in one case, all our nurses this year were of American parentage, and to these preference has always been given. We have found that the American girl is usually more intelligent, more earnest in her work, and possesses a higher standard of morality and refinement. Those that come to us certainly seem to appreciate the fact that engaging in private service is preferable to working in a shop or factory. During the Winter of 1895, Mrs. Henry Holt kindly provided for Kindergarten Instruction for the nurses. We begin our seventh year with a feeling of satisfaction that this branch of the work will appeal to many; and to all our friends we extend a cordial invitation to visit us and see the manner in which our work is accomplished, hoping thus to secure their earnest and hearty co-operation. The following Schedule of Instruction will show the training our nurses go through :

1. Infant Feeding—The care of milk, milk sterilization, care of bottles, preparation of commonly employed infant foods, the general principles of infant feeding, with rules as to quantity and frequency.

2. Bathing—The daily bath; the use of hot, cold and mustard baths.

3. Hygiene of the skin.

4. Care of the mouth, eyes and ears.

5. Nursery Hygiene—Ventilation, temperature, cleanliness, care of napkins, etc.

6. The training of children in proper bodily habits.

7. Miscellaneous—The use of the clinical thermometer, the making of poultices and oil-silk jackets; the giving of enemata.

8. Simple means of treatment in nursery emergencies.

9. The rudiments of Kindergarten work.

The following nurses have graduated during the past year :

DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY AND COTTAGES AT OCEANIC, N. J.

By MRS. JOHN HONE.

(See Illustrations on Pages 7, 11, 25.)

THE Hospital property at Oceanic consists of about three acres of land, free and clear of all debt, and was given by friends of the Hospital in 1891. It is reached by either boat or train, from Redbank or Seabright, and the location is a particularly healthy one, being, as it is, on elevated land, overlooking the North Shrewsbury River, with a distant view of the ocean. Since the acquirement of the property a Hospital and two Cottages have been erected and given to the Institution.

THE HOSPITAL (PROPER)

Built by Dr. and Mrs. A. Blair Thaw in memory of their two little girls who passed away in infancy.

This is a well-built and convenient house and has three large, sunny wards, also a spacious piazza for the little patients, accommodations for officers, nurses and servants, reception and dining rooms, diet kitchen, kitchen, laundry and bath rooms, all fitted up in the very best manner and attractive throughout.

VIEW ON PORCH OF HAMERSLEY COTTAGE, OCEANIC, N. J.

THE HAMERSLEY COTTAGE

ERECTED in 1893 by Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooker Hamersley in memory of their little daughter Rita. It is an exceedingly pretty structure of the modern style of architecture, and contains bright, sunny rooms for the use of the older children.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamersley have kindly sent five hundred dollars each Summer to help in the support of it.

THE KEMP-HAVEMEYER RECEPTION COTTAGE

The second cottage is a charming little Colonial affair, copied after the style of the Hospital, and presented by Mr. Edward Kemp and Mr. William F. Havemeyer. The architect's plans were given by Mr. Brite, who designed the Hospital, and the interior was furnished by Mrs. Joseph T. Low and Mrs. John Hone. This building is used as a Reception Cottage, sheltering the babies before they are admitted to the Hospital, thus avoiding any possibility of contagious disease.

When the Hospital was built Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Adams had the grounds tastefully laid out. Grass was sown, trees planted, flower beds, walks and carriage roads made and drained after the most approved manner.

Each year new flowers are planted and the grounds kept in order by the same kind friends. The beauty of the place is much admired by visitors during the Summer, and we are justly proud of the cool and healthful resort to which we can send our sick babies.

This Committee is composed of young women who, in turn, visit the Hospital; two of them being on duty each afternoon in the week. They minister to the little patients in many loving ways, which even the babies appreciate; entertain chance visitors; do what is in their power to make the Wards attractive, and assist in such work as the Clothing Committee may suggest. A Bed in the Hospital has been endowed by the Cribside Committee, to which it has given the name of Cradl-Nyst. During the Winter a Sewing Class is organized, in which the Crib-sides gather their young friends, and willing fingers fashion many useful garments for our Babies.

CRIBSIDE COMMITTEE

FOR THE ENSUING YEAR

SECRETARY'S REPORT

AT the Annual Meeting of the Cribside Committee of the Babies' Hospital, the following officers for the ensuing year were duly balloted for and unanimously elected:

Mrs. BRYCE GRAY Jr., Chairman, Miss MAUDE H. CURTISS, Treasurer,
Miss LOUISE P. BALDWIN, Vice-Chairman, Miss ELLEN LOUISE ADEE, Secretary.

Such deep sorrow and regret were occasioned by the announcement of the sad death of Virginia Walsh, one of our most willing workers, that a committee was appointed to express our sympathy to her bereaved family. She was endeared to us by many ties of common affection, and we feel that in her we have lost one whose presence among us will be greatly missed during the future.

We are glad to welcome the many new members who have joined our ranks during the past year.

Miss Nicholas compiled and superintended the printing of the Cribside Report for the year 1894-1895, for distribution among our many friends, telling them of our good work, hoping thereby to rouse their interest and enthusiasm.

Miss Brewster having kindly offered her house for a "Cake Sale" to be held Saturday, February the first, many members volunteered their assistance. The "sale" was a great success, $300 being raised in this way.

The Sewing Class was again organized to meet Thursday afternoons during Lent, and the following ladies offered their houses for the meetings:

Mrs. HENRY M. DAY,	Mrs. EDWARD MITCHELL,
Mrs. HENRY G. TREVOR,	Mrs. HENRY CURTISS,
Mrs. SACKETT BARCLAY,	Mrs. GEORGE NICHOLAS.

Several of the meetings were made particularly attractive and entertaining by both instrumental and vocal music.

As a result 190 garments were cut and finished and sent to the Hospital, where they were most welcome, and $35.42 was turned into the Cribside treasury. A vote of thanks from the Managers of the Hospital was extended to this Committee for their assistance in time of need.

A vote of thanks was given Mr. George Morrison for his time and kindness in trying to assist this Committee.

At the last monthly meeting for the year, Miss Curtiss reported $1,130 in the Cribside treasury. Thus another successful year draws to a close and let us hope that throughout the coming year we shall all try to our very utmost to make this cause so successful and far-reaching, that no matter what the demand may be, no mother shall be turned from our doors with the words, "We have no room for your little one," and is not the "Little Mothers'" motto one we may well adopt as ours?

"To do all I can, to all the people I can, in every way I can."

ELLEN LOUISE ADEE, Secretary.

REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

THE Board of Directors desire to express their gratification that the Hospital has been able to close its fiscal year without incurring any debt, while at the same time it has maintained its properties in good condition, and enlarged their scope in several directions.

They realize that the financial strain through which this country has just passed has seriously crippled many of our charitable institutions, so that it is pleasing to know that our work has not been in any way restricted, because our friends have continued to manifest their interest in our success as shown by their donations, annual subscriptions, endowments and miscellaneous gifts.

Increase in Gifts

In fact, although our receipts from public funds have fallen off this year more than $1,100, our increased receipts from friends of the Hospital for current expenses have more than compensated for this loss. At the same time our permanent fund has been increased more than $15,000 by gifts from our Lady Managers and their friends.

Reduction in Expenses

There has also been a reduction in our expenses, of more than $2,500, the cost of each hospital day having been reduced 12 per cent.; while it is thought that a further reduction in our expenses will be accomplished during the present year and without any diminution of the efficacy of the Hospital.

Lowered Death Rate

But even more satisfactory than this is, that there has been a further drop in our death rate. In 1895 it was 28.25 per cent.; in 1896 it has been 26.12 per cent. This remarkably low rate is attributed to the successful operation of our Summer Home, which is kept open from June 1st to October 1st.

The New Laboratory

A great addition to our City Hospital has been the new laboratory, which Dr. Herter has equipped, mainly at his own expense. It is under the direction of Dr. Wollstein and her assistant, and it is of great assistance to the medical staff.

Emergency Ward

Last Spring the Directors decided to keep an Emergency Ward open all Summer in the City Hospital. It was intended for cases that could not be transferred to Oceanic. It is hoped that this Emergency Ward will become a permanent feature of the Hospital.

Nurses' Home

The Directors warmly appreciate the interest that is taken in the Summer Home by the Ladies' Committee of which Mrs. Havemeyer is Chairman, and they favor the plans that have been drawn for the Nurses' Home, for the better accommodation of the Nursery Maids at Oceanic. Such a building can be built and suitably equipped for $10,000, but the Directors do not feel justified in sanctioning this expenditure until a special fund for the purpose has been raised.

Need of Enlarging our City Work

We need additional room for our city work, and especially for our surgical cases, owing to the lack of ward space, an operating room, rooms for transacting business, and other proper conveniences for this branch of our work. We have been obliged to restrict the surgical treatment of infants to emergency cases. A building to provide for this branch of our work would also enable us to train and graduate surgical nurses for infants and more nursery maids. For these latter the demand is altogether inadequate to the supply. A building suitable for this purpose could be bought and equipped for $50,000. We should have this amount in hand before the project is started. It is believed that this new department can be operated by our present staff of physicians and surgeons and that the results would be unusually successful.

In conclusion, the Directors again thank their new friends, as they did last year, for their interest in the Hospital, and their old friends for the increase of the annual donations.

THOMAS E. SATTERTHWAITE, M.D.,
President.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF LADY MANAGERS

BY MRS. ANDREW H. SMITH

THE year which has just closed was one of grave anxiety to all persons engaged in the management of charitable institutions. We, of the Babies' Hospital, were no exception to this rule. The review of the year, therefore, calls for unusual gratitude for the many blessings received from the Giver of all good.

The special need induced by financial depression moved some of our friends to deeds of special generosity, and we yield them our heartfelt thanks.

No less do we appreciate the multitude of smaller gifts which come to us year after year. These subscriptions are the foundation of our financial existence.

The work of the past year was well done. Our house officers are efficient, and the experience of each year perfects the organization.

As other reports describe the various branches of the work, it is only needful to gather up a few facts worthy of acknowledgment or record.

The chairmen of the various standing committees report good work done in their separate departments. The houses have been kept in excellent order, clothing donated has been sorted, acknowledged, stored and given out when needed; visitors have been received and told of the work, and new friends have been won for our babies.

THE CRIBSIDE paper has gone to more than four hundred subscribers, carrying the history of our work, the description of its needs, and the acknowledgment of many benefactions.

The Cribside Committee still carries on its ministry of help. Since it completed the endowment of a bed in perpetuity, it has raised over a thousand dollars, which will be used in supplying some permanent need of the Hospital.

The Training School continues to turn out good nursery maids, thanks to the wisdom and skill of our Superintendent, Miss Wheeler. Twenty-three have graduated during the past year. Our school is represented in Texas, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, Illinois, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts. Two nurses have spent the summer in Europe with their employers. Many letters have come from mothers, expressing great satisfaction with the nurses in their employ. Occasionally a complaint will come, for our graduates are human, but, generally, careful investigation shows that circumstances and not the nurses or their training have been at fault.

The addition of a Secretary to the staff of house officers has been a great assistance, and we have been fortunate in securing one most interested and efficient. Through the kindness of Mrs. Havemeyer, a telephone has greatly aided and simplified the work of the Hospital.

Miss Coolidge, the Assistant Superintendent, is no longer with us. We regret that her decision to study medicine removes from us one so valuable and agreeable, and hope that she will never lose her interest in the work.

A birthday tea at the house of Mrs. Calvert, a collection in the Sunday school of the Brick Church for Little Joe, a cake sale held by our Cribside girls, fairs conducted by some young ladies at the Hospital, in New Rochelle and in Cedarhurst, Long Island, were all financially successful and most helpful in extending the knowledge of our work.

Two beds have been endowed in perpetuity; one by Mrs. Evan T. Walker, and the other by action of the Board of Directors in ordering that the bequest of Mrs. Charles M. Fry be so used as a memorial to herself and husband.

In memory of a little grandson, Mrs. William H. Osborn has endowed a bed for twenty-five years, by placing in trust the sum of three thousand dollars, the interest to be paid annually, and the principal at the end of that time. Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Kunhardt and others, have given large sums, the record of which will be found in the Treasurer's Report.

It was decided to take private patients in special emergency cases, the minimum and maximum charges being seven and ten dollars, according to the attendance required.

The work of the Summer Home was most important. The number of babies removed from the stifling tenements to the pure air of the seashore was larger than ever before.

Through the generosity of Mrs. Havemeyer, Chairman of the Summer Committee, the grounds at Oceanic were kept in order during the entire season. Fresh fruit and vegetables came often from her garden and from those of other friends in the neighborhood, who seemed to be always thinking of the comfort of the inmates of our Hospital.

A fair was organized and carried through with excellent results. Miss Wheeler became the owner of a fine bicycle, and the coffers of the Hospital were replenished.

The need of a cottage home for the nurses at Oceanic is much felt by the workers. Those of us who have lived in seaside cottages know how easily sounds are transmitted from one story to another. After a hard day's work our officers and nurses deserve a quiet night, and this is not always possible in their present rooms in the Hospital building. Plans have been drawn for such a cottage, and the cost of building and equipment will be about ten thousand dollars. Our Directors do not feel it would be wise to erect this home, or to extend the work in town, unless the money were in hand to complete it.

We ask you to remember this in case you should hear of any one wishing to make a gift in definite form, or perhaps a memorial offering. I shall be glad to show the plans at any time.

Once more the shadow of death has fallen upon our Board. Mrs. William James was remarkable for her warm-hearted interest in the work, as well as the faithfulness and discretion with which she did her part. We sadly miss her presence and help, and our earnest sympathy goes to those connected with her in kinship and affection.

In looking forward to the new year, our motto and encouragement is, "Because we have been helped, therefore will we trust."

ATTENDING PHYSICIANS

THE present Report covers the eighth year of the work of this Hospital. As a whole it has been as satisfactory as that of any previous year, although it has been marked by no noteworthy changes. With every year the hospital machinery runs more and more smoothly, with less friction, and consequently with greater efficiency.

The full Statistical Report of the work of the year appears on pages 41 to 45. It will be sufficient to state here that there were admitted during the year 392 children, which, with the 33 remaining at the date of the last report, make 425 treated during the year. To correct an impression which we are told has arisen in the minds of some friends that this is no longer a hospital for babies, we will say that of the 392 who were received during this year:

133 were under six months old,

84 were between six and twelve months old,

109 were between one and two years old, while only 66 were over two years old.

Since the hospital was opened, we have admitted 2,316 children, of which number nearly 60 per cent. have been under one year old. The number of hospital days this year is 11,414, the average to each child being 26.85+ days. The total number of days is slightly less than last year, this being chiefly due to a falling off in admissions during the month of September. Of the medical work done in the City, little that is new can be said. We have been remarkably free from outbreaks of contagious disease during the year. It is unavoidable in any hospital for children that such cases occur from time to time, but with prompt isolation of the first cases developing, there has been no general epidemic.

Laboratory

The opening of the Laboratory, to which the President of the Directors has referred in his report, is a most valuable addition to our equipment, and one, the need of which has long been keenly felt. It has already proven of great assistance in the early diagnosis of such infectious diseases as diphtheria and tuberculosis, in which at the present time so much assistance is given by bacteriology.

Country Conditions

The medical work of the Country Branch has been, as heretofore, chiefly concerned with the diarrhoeal diseases of Summer, and the low mortality of the last year has not been materially altered, although many more very sick babies were sent to Oceanic than last year. It is the conviction of the medical officers of the Hospital that great good would be done by opening the Country Branch, at least six weeks earlier, in order that we might transfer, as soon as the pleasant days of Spring came, many of those who are then just convalescing from pneumonia and other pulmonary diseases, which have filled our wards during the previous two or three months. The same striking benefit was seen last Summer as in former years, on transferring these children to Oceanic.

Death Rate Explained

The number of deaths occurring during the year was 111, or 26.12 per cent., which is slightly lower than that of last year. It is of interest that fifty-one of these deaths, or nearly half the entire number, were due to marasmus; and in a considerable number of the remainder this was an important factor, though the condition which determined the fatal result was often pneumonia or intestinal disease. This marasmus, or simply wasting without organic disease, is a condition with which we have constantly to deal. It is the result of improper food, want of proper care, to which in many cases is added a feeble vitality with which the child came into the world. Fully two-thirds of the babies under six months old, who are brought to the Hospital, are suffering from marasmus when we first see them. Unless you have been in the receiving ward and heard there the tale of poverty, often destitution, neglect, starvation, and, not infrequently, abuse at the hands of a drunken father or husband, which accompanies these little waifs when they are finally landed at our doors—unless you have seen and heard for yourself you can form but a faint conception of what the previous life of these children has been, or, in many cases, what their mothers have suffered before they were born. It is not our intention to arouse your sympathy by the narration of harrowing details, but simply to present a few facts which will illustrate the type of baby which the physician calls marasmus, and which the Superintendent knows when she admits the case adds one to the death list, as it has already passed beyond the point when restoration to health by any human hands was possible.

Dosing with Opiates

We wish first to call your attention to the appalling frequency with which opium is given to these little babies, usually in the form of paregoric, sometimes as "soothing syrups." In many of the children who are brought to us it is impossible to obtain any trustworthy information regarding what has been done for them. But during a single month, October of the present year, out of twenty-two under six months old who were received, there were eleven, in which the mother, or the person who brought the infant, acknowledged that she was in the habit of giving it regularly paregoric or soothing syrup to make it sleep. Of those under six months old who were admitted during the past year, our records justify the statement that fully one-half have been systematically drugged, often almost from the time they were born.

Cases Cited

Clifford K., five months old, weight seven pounds. It was admitted that he had been regularly given large doses of paregoric and soothing syrup almost since his birth. Thirteen days after admission he died of atelectasis, which is a condition of imperfect expansion of the lungs; in the production of this, the continued use of opium appeared to be the most important cause.

Gustav C., eight months old, weight nine pounds. Had always been boarded with a woman who said she had regularly kept him quiet with paregoric, and owned to giving him a teaspoonful every night; also died of atelectasis, eleven days after admission.

A very similar history was given in the case of Constance B., four months old. This child from its birth had been boarded with a woman who acknowledged to Miss Wheeler that she had fed the baby largely upon tea, and had given it paregoric when it cried. When questioned regarding the amount given, she said she never measured it, but simply poured it out of the bottle. Like the two preceding cases, this child also died of atelectasis.

Let us now give you a few examples showing what the mothers of some of these children have gone through before the children were born.

Josephine G., eight months old, weight six pounds. For six months before the child was born the mother was homeless, and wandered about getting a chance meal where she could. The child was in wretched condition on admission, but improved considerably during its six weeks' stay in the Hospital, after which it was transferred to the Foundling Asylum.

Clara D., seven months old, weight six pounds. The father was out of work, and for months before the child was born, the mother had little to eat, except oatmeal and tea, and occasionally beer. The child was in a hopeless condition and died fourteen days later.

Willie B., nine months old. From birth the child had been given paregoric regularly to make it sleep at night. But it is hard to condemn the mother, when we learn that she worked out by the day, and had a drunken husband who so injured her that she was sent to a hospital and he to prison shortly before the little baby was brought to us. The child was in a wretched condition as a result of neglect and drugging, and lingered but a few days, dying, like so many of the others mentioned, of atelectasis.

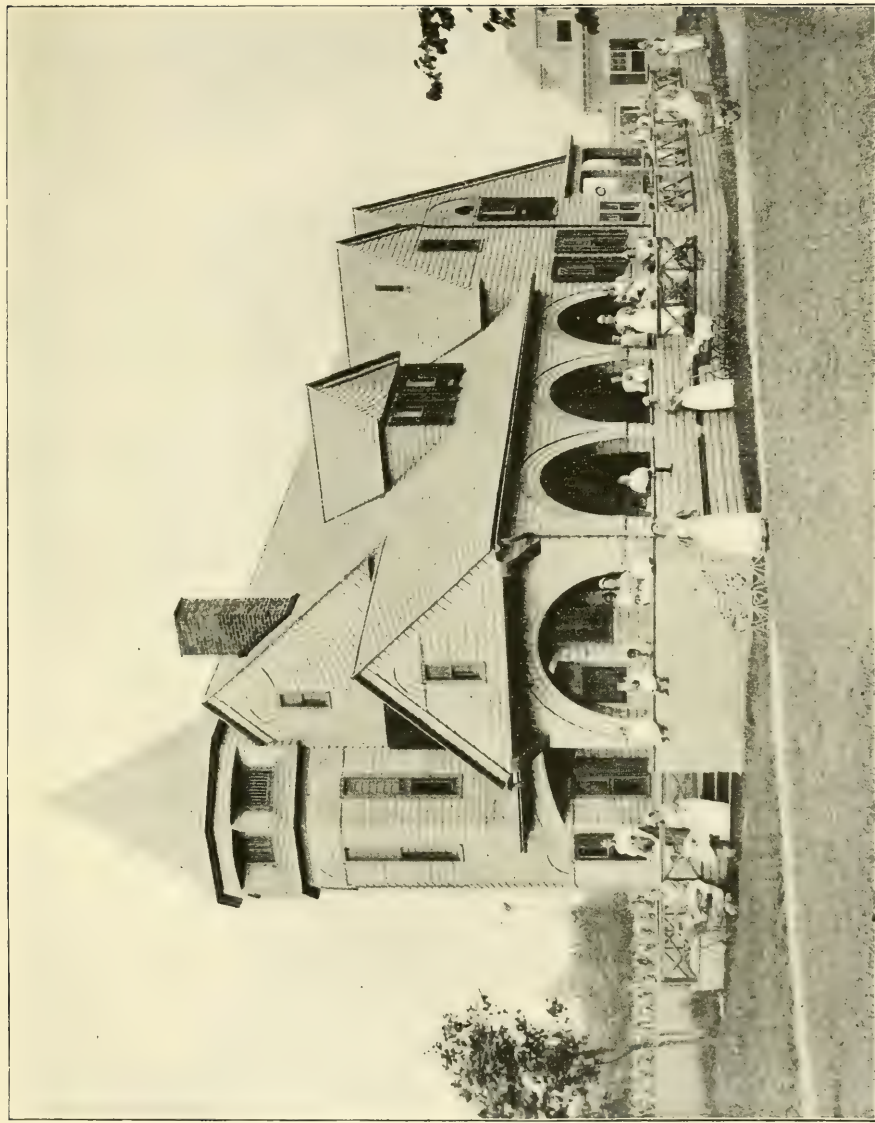

Madeline N., twelve months old, was sent to the Hospital by a missionary. For months before the child was born the mother was kept alive simply by the food which the missionary carried to her. Being unable to obtain other food for the infant, she had nursed it until shortly before it was brought to the hospital, in a condition of starvation, so reduced that it lived but a few days.

Nellie B., six weeks old, weighing five pounds. For eight months before the child was born the mother was starved, it being nothing unusual for her to go an entire day without any food, and frequently having for a whole week nothing but bread and tea. The child was a skeleton on admission, but lived for two weeks.

Bertha D. was eight months old on admission and weighed but ten pounds. The father had died of tuberculosis, and this was the eighth child of a woman who herself was but twenty-seven years old. She had four other children to support, and had but very scanty food for several months before the birth of this child.

Minnie C., six months old, weighing six pounds, was sent to the Hospital by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. The baby was a mere skeleton, and died in twelve days. It had been cared for by a child of twelve years, the mother having died in great destitution at its birth.

The foregoing are but a few of those whose histories we could duplicate by the dozen. We have cited them even at the risk of wearying you, to enable you to sketch for yourselves the homes of wretchedness, poverty and often vice, from which these children come. With such an inheritance, and such a previous history, is it to be wondered at that few of these children survive, and that the hospital which receives them can have other than a high death rate?

We would not have you infer that all our work is as barren of results as that done for marasmus babies seems in one sense to be; for such is not the case. In the acute diseases of the lungs, pneumonia, empyema, etc., the results as in former years have been excellent, and also, as already stated, in intestinal diseases during the Summer.

Out-Patients' Department

The report of the Out-Patients' Department shows that 635 patients were treated and 2,522 visits were made by patients to the Out-Patients' Department, an increase of about 40 per cent. over the work done here last year.

Educational

No report of the Hospital is complete without an account of the educational part of the work. During the entire Winter season a weekly Saturday morning Clinic is held for physicians, which has been largely attended, and has had the effect of awakening much interest in the diseases of infancy, a subject to which is given little consideration in general undergraduate education.

Training Schools for Nursery Maids

The training of nursery maids has gone on regularly, and during the year twenty-three have been graduated. The applications for entrance now far outnumber the places we have to fill, and the waiting list for admission is now a long one. The influence of the work the Babies' Hospital is doing in this direction, is far wider than any of us have any conception of. Within the past year two Babies' Hospitals have been established with training schools like ours, one in Newark and one in Brooklyn. We visited last Summer the one in Montreal which has now been running successfully for over a year. All of these institutions have been modelled after the plan of this Hospital. The managers of one of these have frequently visited our work, and in one case sent their Superintendent to our Hospital for several months' experience under Miss Wheeler. Whenever a new institution of this kind is projected, the call immediately comes, "Have you not some one whom you can send to us to organize and take charge of the work?" To all of these we have had regretfully to say, "No."

It is only within the past few days that a letter has been received from the Board of Education of Muskegon, Mich., which has at its disposal a large sum of money for the establishment of a school for industrial training in that city. This school they expect to make the best of its kind in the country, and influenced by the example of the Babies' Hospital in training nurses for children, the Board is contemplating in addition to the courses in cooking, sewing and laundry work, a department for the instruction of older girls in the care of infants and young children. We think the day is not distant when we shall see this recognized as one of the regular departments of industrial education all over this country. This is a source of great encouragement to those who, in the Babies' Hospital, have labored so long as pioneers in this work.

We cannot close our report without mentioning the assistance which the Hospital has received from the Consulting Medical Board, and the warm appreciation of the untiring energy and devotion to the work of our Superintendent, Miss Wheeler.

REPORT

OF THE

Superintendent of the Training School for Nursery Maids

(Founded 1889 by Mrs. Robert W. Chapin.)

IT IS with great satisfaction that we set forth the results of the past year in our Training School for Nursery Maids. The good work still goes on, and if the demand for well-trained, efficient Nursery Maids is a criterion from which to judge the character of the work in hand, we certainly have reason to feel that our efforts are not in vain.

In all, throughout the year, we graduated twenty-three Nursery Maids, which is three more than last year, or a total of ninety since the foundation of our school in 1889. There are at the present time fifteen on the waiting list whose applications are satisfactory and who are, therefore, eligible for probation.

That this subject of preparing nurses for the care of children is becoming an important one, is shown in the Attending Physicians' Report (pages 35 and 36), and we feel more convinced each year that the old idea that any person could "mind the baby," is about exhausted, and certainly an injustice to the little ones sent to brighten our homes.

Our applicants must be not under twenty years of age and not over thirty, of good character and ordinary intelligence.

The course of training is six months, and those who graduate receive suitable certificates, and usually find situations without any difficulty.

Our accommodations are so limited that we have to do our work on a somewhat smaller scale than we would wish, but the fact that the results obtained have been appreciated by so many mothers and guardians of children has encouraged us, and we begin the eighth year of our existence assuring those interested in us that we shall strive to perfect our work and gain their approbation.

The following schedule shows the course of instruction given in our school :

1. Infant Feeding—The care of milk, milk sterilization, care of bottles, preparation of commonly employed infant foods, the general principles of infant feeding, with rules as to quantity and frequency.
2. Bathing—The daily bath ; the use of hot, cold, and mustard baths.
3. Hygiene of the skin.
4. Care of the mouth, eyes, and ears.
5. Nursery Hygiene—Ventilation, temperature, cleanliness, care of napkins, etc.
6. The training of children in proper bodily habits.
7. Miscellaneous—The use of the clinical thermometer, the making of poultices and oil-silk jackets ; the giving of enemata.
8. Simple means of treatment in nursery emergencies.
9. The rudiments of kindergarten work.

DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY AND COTTAGES AT OCEANIC, N. J.

By MRS. JOHN HONE

(See Illustrations, Pages 10 and 33.)

THE Hospital property at Oceanic consists of about three acres of land, free and clear of all debt, and was given by friends of the Hospital in 1891. It is reached by either boat or train, from Redbank or Seabright, and the location is a particularly healthy one, being, as it is, on elevated land, overlooking the North Shrewsbury River, with a distant view of the ocean. Since the acquirement of the property a Hospital and two Cottages have been erected and given to the Institution.

THE HOSPITAL (PROPER)

Built by Dr. and Mrs. A. Blair Thaw in memory of their two little girls who passed away in infancy.

This is a well-built and convenient house and has three large, sunny wards, also a spacious piazza for the little patients, accommodations for officers, nurses and servants, reception and dining rooms, kitchen, laundry and bath rooms, all fitted up in the very best manner and attractive throughout. Mrs. Have-meyer has added, at her own expense, to this building during the past Summer a much needed diet kitchen.

THE HAMERSLEY COTTAGE

ERECTED in 1893 by Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooker Hamersley in memory of their little daughter Rita. It is an exceedingly pretty structure of the modern style of architecture, and contains bright, sunny rooms for the use of the older children.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamersley have kindly sent five hundred dollars each Summer to help in the support of it.

THE KEMP-HAVEMEYER RECEPTION COTTAGE

The second cottage is a charming little Colonial affair copied after the style of the Hospital, and presented by Mr. Edward Kemp and Mr. William F. Havemeyer. The architect's plans were given by Mr. Brite, who designed the Hospital, and the interior was furnished by Mrs. Joseph T. Low and Mrs. John Hone. This building is used as a Reception Cottage, sheltering the babies before they are admitted to the Hospital, thus avoiding any possibility of contagious disease.

THE Babies' Hospital urgently appeals to the generous public for funds to meet current expenses. It relies to a great extent on the small subscribers, and with many mouths to feed and sick babies to care for, any contributions, however small, are always welcome. It is not the amount so much as the interest shown in contributing.

BOOKS, TOYS, FLOWERS or any miscellaneous articles for house-keeping will greatly aid our work.

WE ARE SUPPORTED mainly by the voluntary gifts of OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

Checks to the order of "The Babies' Hospital" may be sent to

Mrs. E. E. OLCOTT, Acting Treasurer,
Board of Women Managers,
No. 38 West 39th Street,

or to HENRY R. KUNHARDT, Treasurer,

THE Babies' Hospital desires to inform those persons who may think of becoming interested in its welfare, that there are no collectors employed for the purpose of soliciting funds.

Contributions must therefore come through the mails and all our former subscribers are urged to continue their generous support through the season of 1897-98.

Persons desirous of examining the work and methods of the Institution, are invited to do so at any time, without previous notice, or by appointment with any of the Officers.

The Hospital begs to announce the resignations of, Mrs. Eben E. Olcott, as Treasurer of the Women's Board (succeeded by Mrs. John B. Calvert) and that of Mrs. Andrew H. Smith, of the Board of Directors, and 1st Vice-President of the Women's Board.

Mrs. Olcott and Mrs. Smith have been connected with the Hospital from its start, and the success which has attended the work of the Institution is owing largely to their untiring efforts in its behalf.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CRIBSIDE COMMITTEE

OF

THE BABIES' HOSPITAL

FOR THE YEAR 1896-1897

THE Annual Meeting of the Cribside Committee of The Babies' Hospital, for the year 1896-7 was held at the residence of Mrs. Bryce Gray, Jr., 554 Fifth Avenue, on Wednesday, November 11th, 1896, at twelve o'clock.

The following officers for the ensuing year were duly ballotted for and unanimously elected :

MRS. BRYCE GRAY, JR.,	Chairman.
MISS MADELINE I. DINSMORE,	Vice-Chairman.
MISS MAUDE H. CURTISS,	Treasurer.
MISS ELLEN LOUISE ADEE,	Secretary.

Miss Nicholas again compiled and superintended the printing of the Cribside Report for the year 1895-6 for distribution among our many friends, telling them of our good work, hoping thereby to arouse their interest and enthusiasm.

On an urgent appeal from the Hospital Miss Wickham made a donation of $10 for birdseye linen and this Committee made a further appropriation of $25 for the same purpose.

The latter were made by the Employment Societies of St. Bartholomews and the Incarnation.

In January a letter was received from Mrs. Van Sinderen, telling of the founding of a Babies' Hospital in Brooklyn, and also of the formation of a sub-committee of girls, organized upon the same plan and inspired by the good work of the Cribside, and asking if we would be willing to have this committee named after us, the Cribside suggesting that thus our good work could be greatly enlarged, and the name Cribside in whatever city or town it be used or heard, be a synonym for a committee of girls, whose object is to relieve the sufferings of the little ones; we to be a sort of Mother Chapter. After much consideration, Mrs. Van Sinderen was notified of our willingness to have the committee of girls connected with St. Christopher's Hospital, Brooklyn, adopt as their name the Cribside Committee of St. Christopher's Hospital, and she was asked to express to them our appreciation of the honor done us by the same, being much pleased that our efforts should inspire others to advance the good work among the suffering little ones.

The idea of such committees in connection with Babies' Hospitals in other cities also adopting that name, and of all being united through our common interest, we sincerely advocate, reserving to ourselves the right of further bestowing the name and with the condition that the committees be in connection with a Babies' Hospital, not merely a ward, and also that the committees like ours shall be composed of girls.

Cordial letters of appreciation were received from the Cribside Committee of St. Christopher's Hospital, thanking us for our generosity, stating that since both organizations have the same object to save "in His Name" those who need help and tender care, let us hope that this adoption by our members of the name under which you (we) have labored so faithfully may be mutually helpful.

After many propositions and much discussion it was finally decided that we should give a "Matinée Musicale," at the Hotel Waldorf, on Thursday, February 11th, at half past two o'clock.

Through the intervention of friends, Mlle. Marie Engel, Miss Geraldine Morgan, Mr. Paul Morgan, Herr Karl and Mons. Pol. Plancon kindly promised to give their services. Mons. Plancon was prevented from singing for us at the last minute and Signor Campanari generously consented to fill his place.

The splendid success of the concert, both musically and financially, fully repaid us for all our worry and trouble. The gross receipts were $1,688.00, netting us $1,452.75.

The Committee wishing to adopt as their own some special work in connection with the Hospital, the Managers suggested that we should undertake the building of a Nurses' Home at Oceanic, New Jersey, the cost to be about $6,000, as at present the Nurses must sleep in the wards with the babies, and their rest is very much disturbed thereby.

The Home would also contain better and larger laundry accommodation and one or two extra rooms to be used for offices, etc., all of which are much needed.

After much discussion this proposition was finally accepted, but it was further decided not to commence building until the Spring of 1898, by which time we hope to have completed the necessary fund of $6,000.

Mrs. William Moir generously made us a gift of $500 towards this purpose, and another friend, through Miss Curtiss, $250.

A proposition having been received from the Managers of the Virginia Day Nursery, we decided to unite with them in organizing the Cribside and Virginia Sewing Class, which met Thursday afternoons during Lent at the following houses :

Mrs. Henry G. Trevor,	Mrs. Henry F. Osborne,	Mrs. Sackett Barclay,
Mrs. Ramsay Turnbull,	Mrs. William B. Dinsmore,	Mrs. Oliver G. Jennings.

Each member of the Cribside was given the privilege of asking one friend to join the sewing class, and this with the friends of the Virginia Day Nursery, resulted in a large membership. About 200 garments were cut, finished and sent to the Hospital, while an equal number was sent to the Day Nursery, at both of which institutions they were gratefully received.

Thus it will be seen that the year 1896-1897 has been a bright one in the annals of the Cribside Committee. Splendid results have rewarded our efforts, good has been accomplished and a much needed work, that of building the Nurses' Home at Oceanic has been undertaken.

The generosity of our friends toward the fulfilling of this purpose has put us under great obligations to them, to discharge which we must work together, shoulder to shoulder, hand to hand, never flagging until the goal is reached, remembering that success comes only through united and persevering effort, and also remembering "that nothing is troublesome we do willingly."

DIRECTORS' REPORT

THE Board of Managers takes pleasure in stating that the work of the Hospital for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30th, 1897, has been satisfactory in many important respects.

During the year 455 patients were admitted into the wards, an increase of 63 over last year. In all 464 patients were treated, and they received 10,532 days of Hospital care, or an average of about $22\frac{3}{4}$ days each.

But more noteworthy as showing the expanding usefulness of this institution, has been the increased number of patients in our Out-door Department.

During the year ending Sept. 30, 1897, 985 new patients were registered in this department, as against 635 for the year preceding, while 3,779 visits were made at the Dispensary as against 2,522 for the same period. This increase of about 50 per cent. in the number of applicants has led to some overcrowding of our limited quarters, so that if the Dispensary continues to grow we shall soon be called on to provide new space for it. And these prospective needs of this Institution reminds us of the statement made in the last annual report, that a gift of $50,000 will secure for us an adequate building adjacent to the City Building, where we can provide for increasing dispensary work, and at the same time accommodate more babies and nurses.

In this connection also the Directors desire to state that they are using all proper means to ascertain the status of each applicant, so that treatment will be extended to only the deserving poor. Suitable inquiries are made whenever there is an application for hospital or dispensary relief to determine whether the applicant is entitled to gratuitous treatment.

When the circumstances of the applicant are such that payment can be made for either Hospital or Dispensary treatment, a reasonable fee is charged, and as a rule it is cheerfully paid. The consolidated report will show that in this way $347.40 was turned in to the treasury of the Hospital, and it is believed that the receipts from this source will increase in some measure, although at present about 90 per cent. of our patients are quite unable to pay for either treatment or medicine.

It is not inappropriate at this time to announce to our friends that there has been a falling off of donations, subscriptions and endowments during the year of about one thousand dollars, while we have received from public funds about a thousand dollars less than the annual appropriation called for. At the same time our expenses have been greater than last year.

Though it is important to increase our permanent fund, as we are steadily doing, we should not forget that it is even more important to provide sufficient funds for our current expenses. It is to be hoped that this fact will be borne in mind by our generous friends, and that we may be able this year to increase rather than diminish the area of our charitable work.

It is pleasant for us to note the continued diminution of our death rate. In 1894-5 it was 28.25 per cent.; in 1895-6 it was 26.12 per cent.; in 1896-7 it has been 25.86 per cent.

This very satisfactory showing is to be credited chiefly to the successful operation of the Summer Home at Oceanic. But while the summer branch was in full operation from June to October, the City Hospital was never closed. Under the competent care of Miss G. A. Wilkie, the Assistant Superintendent, all worthy cases were received and cared for pending removal to Oceanic.

The popularity that has constantly attended the operation of the Training School for Nursery Maids, founded in 1889 by Mrs. Robert W. Chapin, leads the Directors to emphasize the statement made in last year's report that we need more space and better accommodations for our Nursery Maids, both in the City Hospital and in our Country Branch.

It is especially to be hoped that in the near future, the Cribside Committee of Young Ladies, which has been so helpful to the Hospital in the past, by their devotion to its interests, their enthusiasm and generosity, will see their way during the ensuing year to aid the Hospital in founding what it most needs now at Oceanic, a Nurses' Home, where our nurses can get temporary rest and quiet in the intervals of the daily routine of their arduous life.

In conclusion the Directors desire to express their thanks to the Board of Women Managers for their hearty co-operation; to the Physicians and Surgeons for their faithfulness and self-sacrifice in caring for the sick; to the nurses for their fidelity in the discharge of their duties; and to the Superintendent and her assistants for the able and intelligent management of the Hospitals under their care.

THOMAS E. SATTERTHWAITE, M. D.,
President.

REPORT

OF THE

WOMEN'S BOARD OF MANAGERS.

By Mrs. JOHN JAY KNOX

THE year just ended marks one of special interest to friends of The Babies' Hospital as well as to those immediately connected with its management.

There have been more babies under our care than in any previous year while the scope of the work has been enlarged, and at the same time various changes looking to the reduction of expenses in the household have been made and in nearly every instance with satisfactory results.

Important and needed alterations and additions to the Hospital buildings have been suggested and discussed, but a determination to keep the Hospital free from debt has induced the management to take no further steps for the present.

During the Winter a concert was given at the Hotel Waldorf under the auspices of the Cribside Committee.

The artists all contributed their services and a considerable sum was realized. This with the amount already in their treasury formed the nucleus of a fund with which the Committee generously proposed to build a Cottage Home for Nurses at Oceanic the need of which had been so strongly urged by Mrs. Smith in last year's report. Various obstacles, however, presented themselves, and, after careful consideration by our Board of Directors, the Cribside Committee was asked to postpone the erection of this building.

The work of the Training School calls for more than ordinary mention. Notwithstanding the multiplicity of duties which devolve upon our valuable Superintendent, Miss Wheeler, she finds time to study the personnel of every candidate and with each successive class one cannot fail to observe the higher standard of excellence attained.

The demand for these trained nursery maids is continuous and rarely is there a complaint against their value or efficiency by those in whose homes they have taken service.

VIEW ON PORCH OF HAMERSLEY COTTAGE, OCEANIC, N. J.

During the year a bed has been endowed by Miss Ellen King for twenty-five years. It is through gifts of this character that the permanent fund is being built up and it is earnestly hoped that before many years it will have attained such proportions that we shall have an income sufficient to defray nearly if not quite all the expenses of the Hospital.

The capacity of the Hospital at Oceanic during the Summer was taxed to its utmost.

We missed in no small degree the active supervision of Mrs. Havemeyer, who for so many years had served as Chairman of the Summer Committee, but her continued interest was felt in the number and variety of her benefactions. Hardly a day passed without some expression of care for the little ones and their care-takers. The grounds throughout the season were kept in order by her gardeners, and to her we are indebted for the invigorating weekly airing the children had in a two hours' drive along the ocean—as strong a factor perhaps as any other in the restoration of health.

To Mrs. Borden, Mrs. Spalding and Mrs. Hoagland the household was indebted for a generous supply of fruit and vegetables, and to Dr. Kimball for a telephone.

A musicale was given at Monmouth Beach from which a substantial sum was received. Mrs. Beadleston gave the use of a large room, the artists their services, and the enterprise was cheerfully patronized by the cottagers at Seabright and Monmouth Beach.

A not unimportant feature of our work is under the care of "Aunt Emily," who edits a column in the Examiner in the interest of our Institution. Her appeals have incited various missionary organizations, individuals and energetic and enthusiastic bands of King's Daughters to manifest their interest by donations of clothing, gifts useful and ornamental, and from time to time, money.

In the death of Mrs. George Kemp the Hospital has lost a valuable friend and able adviser. For many years a member of the Board of Managers and of the Executive Committee she was closely identified with its history. Mrs. Kemp brought to the work a clear comprehension of duty and an ever-ready devotion to its demands. We shall not soon again find one combining so many lovable traits and essential qualifications for an executive officer. It is perhaps well to state here that under the will of Mrs. Kemp the sum of $5,000 was bequeathed to the Hospital. This amount being received just after the close of our fiscal year prevents any formal acknowledgment of same in this report.

Once more we extend our thanks to all who have aided us in our work; their sympathy and encouragement have enabled the management to report another successful year.

VIEW IN THE HERTER LABORATORY.

Founded by Dr. Christian A. Herter.

MEDICAL REPORT.

THE ninth year of The Babies' Hospital under its present management has not been characterized by any great steps in advance or any marked changes. The regular routine of hospital work has been continued in the city from October to June, and in the country from June to October, as in former years.

The work of the year was twice interrupted by outbreaks of contagious disease. In the city in January scarlet fever was accidentally introduced by one of the nurses who contracted it outside of the hospital, and although nearly all of the cases occurring among the children were of a mild type, we were obliged to stop admissions and our work was seriously interfered with for over a month.

Soon after the removal to Oceanic in the Summer, diphtheria broke out and five cases occurred, none of them, however, proving fatal. The severest case was that of one of the nurses, who had a most malignant type of the disease, but thanks to the timely administration of anti toxine, made an excellent recovery. With this exception the Summer work went on most smoothly and 167 children were sent to the country, a larger number than ever before.

Uses of Herter Laboratory.

The Herter Laboratory, which was opened a year ago has made possible a more thorough and exhaustive study of cases in the Hospital, and has furnished an opportunity for the prosecution of regular scientific work in the investigation of many phases of disease of infancy and childhood which can be studied nowhere else than in a Hospital like this. Perhaps some may like to know exactly what the work of the Laboratory is. Aside from the microscopical examination of various diseased tissues which make up only a small part of the work, it is here that studies of the blood are made to determine the existence of malarial or typhoid fever, that cultures from throats are taken to distinguish at the earliest possible moment cases of simple sore throat from the dreaded diphtheria and that the expectoration and other discharges are examined to determine the presence of tuberculosis or forms of dysentery. Here also our milk supply is watched and regular examinations made to insure its richness, purity and cleanliness. In short, the Laboratory has become almost the right arm of the hospital service. We owe much, not only to the generosity of Dr. Herter, who has made the Laboratory possible, but to Drs. Wollstein and Cordes whose faithful work has made it so efficient. While the work of a purely scientific kind has been carried on, the Laboratory has thus afforded us the greatest possible practical assistance in caring for the sick children. Much has already been published from the Hospital, both in clinical reports and the results of Laboratory work, and much more will now be possible than ever before, thus making the institution of real value to the profession at large and to the whole infantile world.

Dispensary Department.

While the indoor work of the Hospital has not increased during the year, nor indeed can do so, with our present facilities, the out-patients' department has grown rapidly under the supervision of Drs. Kerley and Southworth and their corps of assistants. During the past year the number of new patients treated was 985, and the number of visits made by old patients was 4,014, or about 40% increase over any previous year. One reason for this growth is that in the average dispensary the babies and little children receive but scant attention, and mothers appreciate the advantages of a special dispensary for children so that cases are brought from one end of Manhattan Island to the other. Our dispensary has now grown to the utmost limits of its present quarters and the need for a larger waiting room and a second examining room is an imperative one if we are going to do justice to these children and avoid the danger of spreading contagious disease among them by crowding thirty children for an hour into a close waiting room.

Efforts to Regulate Free Treatment.

During the past year an earnest effort has been made by many hospitals and dispensaries of the City, and by the Commissioners of Charities to check the growing abuse of medical charity which has become so glaring. With this movement The Babies' Hospital is in full sympathy, and while no case has been refused on the ground of inability to pay, or admission of a needy case even been deferred pending an investigation, careful inquiry has been made in every case and in many doubtful instances a personal investigation made by the Hospital into the circumstances of the people who asked free treatment for their children. In the opinion of the officers of the Hospital, much harm results from giving outright to people what they are able to pay something for; at the same time that their self-respect and appreciation are greatly increased by allowing those who can pay, even a little, to do so. It has been in many instances a source of gratification to parents to feel that they were able to do something for the support of their children while in the Hospital.

The following figures will give some idea of what the fruits of this inquiry have been during the past year. Of 464 patients treated during the year, there were only 47 or about 10 per cent. for whom parents or friends were able to pay anything. The total of days treatment which these 47 patients received was 1,073, or about one-tenth of the whole number furnished. The amount of money received from friends of these children was $347.40, or somewhat over thirty cents for each hospital day. This amount is insignificant when compared with the actual cost to the hospital for the care of these children.

The Gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooker Hamersley, in memory of their daughter Rita.

(For Description see page 50.)

These facts show well how very destitute is the class from which comes the great majority of children admitted to our wards. We are caring not for the children of the well-to-do, nor even of those generally classed as poor, but, in the great majority of cases of those of abject poverty and destitution. It is doubtful if there is any institution in the City, except those under the control of the Department of Charities which deals with so poor a class as does The Babies' Hospital.

The work of instruction both in the training of nursery maids and in the weekly clinics for physicians has been regularly continued as in former years.

Brief Summary.

For the full record of the hospital work you are referred to the statistical report printed elsewhere. To summarize this briefly, there were treated during the year 464 children, of this number 279 were discharged cured, 37 improved, 20 unimproved, 120 died. The number of hospital days furnished was 10,532, or an average of $22\frac{3}{4}$ days to each child. Of those admitted, 171 were under 6 months of age, 91 between 6 months and one year and 193 over one year. Twenty-two nursery maids were graduated and received their diplomas.

We cannot close this report without expressing our appreciation of the untiring energy and devotion of the Superintendent, Miss Wheeler, and her assistants.

REPORT

OF THE

Superintendent of the Training School for Nursery Maids.

(Founded 1889 by Mrs. Robert W. Chapin.)

THE Training School for Nursery Maids is operated for the benefit of our Hospital, and gives many young women who desire the opportunity for a short training among babies valuable, practical learning which, to them, is a means of livelihood. In the prosecution of our work, we find great demand for our nurses, applications for admission to the school still greatly exceeding our accommodations.

Nearly all those that entered on probation have graduated through the year. We feel encouraged because our efforts are two-fold, not only giving the Nursery Maids an elementary training, but also affording proper care to the wretched babies that come under our roof, many of whom would live but a few days, were it not for our faithful helpers. During the year twenty-two (22) Nurses have graduated, making a total of 112 since the foundation of our School. The requirements for entry on probation are :—good moral character, ordinary intelligence, and age between 20 and 30 years.

The following schedule shows the course of instruction given in our school :

1. Infant Feeding—The care of milk, milk sterilization, care of bottles, preparation of commonly employed infant foods, the general principles of infant feeding, with rules as to quantity and frequency.
2. Bathing—The daily bath ; the use of hot, cold, and mustard baths.
3. Hygiene of the skin.
4. Care of the mouth, eyes, and ears.
5. Nursery Hygiene—Ventilation, temperature, cleanliness, care of napkins, etc.
6. The training of children in proper bodily habits.
7. Miscellaneous—The use of the clinical thermometer, the making of poultices and oil-silk jackets ; the giving of enemata.
8. Simple means of treatment in nursery emergencies.
9. The rudiments of kindergarten work.

VUE OF ROBBINS WARD IN HOSPITAL AT OCEANIC, N. J.
Furnished by Mrs. E. H. Landon.

DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY AND COTTAGES AT OCEANIC, N. J.

By MRS. JOHN HONE

(See Illustrations, Pages 11 and 31.)

THE Hospital property at Oceanic consists of about three acres of land, free and clear of all debt, and was given by friends of the Hospital in 1891. It is reached by either boat or train, from Redbank or Seabright, and the location is a particularly healthy one, being, as it is, on elevated land, overlooking the North Shrewsbury River, with a distant view of the ocean. Since the acquirement of the property a Hospital and two Cottages have been erected and given to the Institution.

THE HOSPITAL (PROPER)

Built by Dr. and Mrs. A. Blair Thaw in memory of their two little girls who passed away in infancy.

This is a well-built and convenient house and has three large, sunny wards, also a spacious piazza for the little patients, accommodations for officers, nurses and servants, reception and dining rooms, kitchen, laundry and bath rooms, all fitted up in the very best manner and attractive throughout. Mrs. Have-meyer has added, at her own expense, to this building during the past Summer a much needed diet kitchen.

THE HAMERSLEY COTTAGE

ERECTED in 1893 by Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooker, Hamersley in memory of their little daughter Rita. It is an exceedingly pretty structure of the modern style of architecture, and contains bright, sunny rooms for the use of the older children.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamersley have kindly sent five hundred dollars each Summer to help in the support of it.

THE KEMP-HAVEMEYER RECEPTION COTTAGE

The second cottage is a charming little Colonial affair copied after the style of the Hospital, and presented by Mr. Edward Kemp and Mr. William F. Havemeyer. The architect's plans were given by Mr. Brite, who designed the Hospital, and the interior was furnished by Mrs. Joseph T. Low and Mrs. John Hone. This building is used as a Reception Cottage, sheltering the babies before they are admitted to the Hospital, thus avoiding any possibility of contagious disease.

NICHOLAS GWYNN WARD, CITY HOSPITAL.

Furnished by Mrs. Bryce Gray, Jr.

When the Hospital was built Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Adams had the grounds tastefully laid out. Grass was sown, trees planted, flower beds, walks and carriage roads made and drained after the most approved manner.

Each year new flowers are planted and the grounds kept in order by the same kind friends. The beauty of the place is much admired by visitors during the Summer, and we are justly proud of the cool and healthful resort to which we can send our sick babies.

This season has emphasized the improvement of a year ago in the removal of the laundry from the main building to the lower end of the grounds, thereby relieving the atmosphere of the Hospital of the steam and odors so inseparable from this department of domestic life.

An inadequate water supply has been remedied this summer by the erection of a large tank over the pump-house and the putting in of an extra pump.

The Babies' Hospital carries on a work of charity and philanthropy in caring for sick children, and also what is believed to be of no less importance and value to the public, a work of education in the training of physicians and nurses.

Less than one-fourth the current expenses of the Hospital is provided for from public funds received from the City of New York, the remainder being made up by private subscriptions which must be renewed every year if the work is to be carried forward.

It is, therefore, of vital importance that all the friends who have so generously aided in this work in the past, by their contributions, should continue to give us their support.

There is no mortgage upon the Hospital property either in the city or country, and no floating debt. Money given goes directly to the work of the Institution.

The Directors and Managers urgently ask all old friends to continue their support and send in their contributions as early as possible, and hope that many new friends may come forward who will make it possible greatly to extend the work.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

On September 30th of this year, we closed the first decennium of the Medical and Surgical life of this Hospital; for although it was incorporated in 1887, June 16th, 1888, was the day when the first patient was registered on our books. To those who are unacquainted with the history of this institution, it may be interesting to review some of the main points of its brief career.

The object of the founders of The Babies' Hospital was to establish a special institution for sick infants—a charity then very much needed. Of ten thousand hospital beds in the city in 1887, but twenty-seven were allotted to infants under two years of age, a fact that seemed to demonstrate the need of such an institution as this. Besides, it was known that the mortality of the whole city was largely due to that of infant life, more than one-half of the total mortality in the city being of children under five years of age; about one-third of those under two years; and about one-quarter of infants under one year of age.

The early life of this Hospital was full of embarrassments. After purchasing and furnishing a suitable hospital building at the corner of Lexington Avenue and 45th Street, there came a legal injunction forbidding us to use the building for hospital purposes, and after a delay of six months, this injunction was made permanent, so that a change of base became necessary. But the managers feeling that the enterprise was a worthy one did not relax their efforts. Temporary quarters were secured in East 36th Street, and actual hospital work was in due time begun there. This was in June of 1888, and the work has been continued without intermission until the present time. In 1889, No. 657 Lexington Avenue was purchased and fitted up; and in 1894, No. 659 Lexington Avenue, was added, as the accommodations of a single building were found to be insufficient.

In the summer of 1888, the Summer Branch was established. For two years we rented a small hotel near the village of Oceanic, but in 1890, we were able to move into the main building constructed for us by Dr. and Mrs. Thaw, of Pittsburg, Pa., while at the same time, Mr. W. F. Havemeyer and Mr. Edward Kemp built us jointly a house for the reception of patients. Shortly after, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hamersley, gave us a Convalescent Home. This little group of hospital buildings has been most successful in its operation, and we always regret when the cool autumn weather compels us to close it, because better results for our patients are obtained at Oceanic than in New York City. In fact, our Summer Branch has unusual advantages for the class of patients received, and we are disposed to think we could not have a better location for this particular work.

For apart from the hygienic advantages of the place, we have always been surrounded by friends who have given our interests their unremitting attention. During the past summer nearly $800 was raised by some of these friends of ours at a Fair and a Reading, while Mr. W. A. Street, has generously drilled for us an Artesian well to cost about $800 and Dr. Parmly has given us the use of a piece of his land adjoining our property, now somewhat cramped by the present buildings. When the Nurses' Home, to be built by the Cribside Committee, is added to the present group it will necessitate some crowding, so that it is highly desirable that we now secure additional land adjoining our present piece. In this connection, I may say, that at last accounts the young ladies had raised $4,600 out of the $5,500 required to erect the Home.

Reviewing as I do here, the work of this Hospital for the past ten years it may be appropriate to consider some of the lessons we think we have learned as to hospital management, and first of all, I will say:

That a public hospital like The Babies' Hospital, operated as it is exclusively for the deserving poor, should only receive into its wards cases that are best treated in hospital wards. On the other hand, cases satisfactorily treated at home, or in the out-door department, should never be received into the hospital wards. The number of ward patients should be strictly limited to the capacity of the hospital, each patient receiving a very liberal amount of fresh air, not less than 1,000 cubic feet for each individual. Its wards should be open at regular hours to the Medical profession, and students of medicine, so that both practitioners and students may familiarize themselves with the most recent advances in diagnosis and treatment.

Hospitals that afford such facilities perform a double service. Publicity of wards safe-guards their inmates, advancing at the same time the science of medicine. It is also well for a hospital always to have, as we have, a training-school for nurses, connected with it. A large part of our success is due to the fact that our nurses have special training in the care of infants, and therefore, are much better fitted for our work than ordinary trained-nurses would be. Again, no hospital can be properly conducted without the constant services of a trained pathologist, backed by a laboratory, equipped with the most recent appliances. Modern diagnosis depends largely, and is depending more day by day, on the dictum of the pathologist. Post-mortem examinations in a hospital should be encouraged. They may be necessary to correct, or confirm a diagnosis. Post-mortem examinations in doubtful cases should always be favored by non-professional people. They serve to protect the interests of the public.

But a hospital may be a model one in these particulars and have excellent results, though small in size and with limited accommodations for patients. More than this, all hospitals should be managed on an economical basis, so as to be within the budget of the year. This is not fashionable, and yet there is no propriety in having a hospital show an annual deficit of $50,000, or upwards. It is a profound indiscretion to commit such an error, and shows that the hospital officers are not managing their hospital as they would their own private affairs. Hospitals are also best managed when practical medical men are given seats in the managing Board; hospitals will never be thoroughly well managed until the principle has been recognized and put in practice. Neither is it to be supposed that large hospitals give proportionately better results than small hospitals. The reverse is often the result, indeed this is particularly true of childrens' hospitals, and this one is an instance of it. The Babies' Hospital has never aimed simply at treating a large number of cases, but in getting the best medical and surgical results. Large hospitals for children are pretty sure to be swept by the epidemic diseases of infancy and by what we call hospitalism, which is more to be dreaded in infants than in older persons; and these dangers will always operate against success in hospitals notwithstanding skillful medical care, good nursing and a proper environment.

Looking back over the records of this institution, we find that we have had during our first ten years, a total mortality of just thirty per cent., which is small for a hospital of this class, especially in comparison with the mortality in one of our municipal hospitals for infants, where there has been, we understand, at times a mortality of ninety per cent., and even upwards. And yet we both take the same kind of cases, from the same sources, including marasmus, starvation, poison by drugs, cases brought to us as a last resort (for we never refuse cases because they are in articulo mortis), and diseases that are almost necessarily fatal, such as cancers, etc.

One of the interesting features of the year, in our city home, has been the construction and putting up of a model ward, by some of our generous women workers. In this room there is a single infant and a nurse who for some weeks prior to her graduation has full and exclusive care of one sick infant. This finishing course fits the nurse completely for her first private case.

The Directors take this occasion to emphasize the fact that there is always an examination as to the status of each applicant, so that our treatment so far as we can regulate it, is extended to the deserving poor only. Suitable inquiries are made whenever there is an application for Hospital or Dispensary relief, to determine whether the applicant is entitled to gratuitous treatment. Improper cases are at once refused. When the circumstances of the applicant are such that payment can be made either for hospital or dispensary treatment, a reasonable fee is charged, and as a rule it is cheerfully paid. The amount received in fees, however, is exceedingly small, as about ninety per cent. of our patients are quite unable to pay either for treatment or medicine. With Dispensary receipts of $365.45 for medicine, we expended $330.04, leaving in the Dispensary account a balance of only $35.41.

During the year ending October 1st, 1898, 371 ward patients were admitted, and they received 9,646 days of hospital care or an average of exactly twenty-six days each. In the first fiscal year, made to embrace 17½ months, we admitted 214 patients, giving them 4,393 days of hospital care. How greatly has our work enlarged. In all, during these ten years, we have had 3,060 ward patients, and have given them 84,027 days of hospital care.

In 1891, the out-door department was opened. It was then the only dispensary in this city devoted entirely to the treatment of sick infants. It soon became very popular, so that in its second year 852 visits were made to it. During the past year 5,107 have been made, while 1,156 new cases have been entered on the books. The number of dispensary visits for the previous year was 3,779, while the number of new cases was 985, so that the increase in dispensary visits made this year was 1,328 or about thirty-five per cent., while the increase in ward cases was 171, or about seventeen per cent. This activity in the work of our Dispensary has led to some over-crowding in its limited quarters, and as the Dispensary will continue to grow, we must soon be called upon to provide new space for it. And this reminds us of the statement made in the last Annual Report, that a gift of $50,000 will secure for us an adequate building adjacent to this present one, where we can provide for increasing dispensary work, accommodate more babies and nurses, establish isolating wards, and have a suitable operating-room for our surgeons. With such a building, we could also greatly increase the number of our nursery-maids, which are now in very great demand. In fact, we can not furnish one-twentieth of the nursery-maids for which we have applications.

It is not inappropriate at this time to tell our friends that we greatly need the continuance of their donations, subscriptions, and endowments. It is true that we receive some money from the City, but the amount is so small as to pay only about 25 per cent. of the actual cost to us of caring and treating of each one of our poor patients. But we endeavor to cut our garment according to our cloth, and so we managed to have a small balance in the bank to our credit at the close of the year now ended.

Our friends will also be pleased to know that our present plan of procuring money for current expenses has been successful, so that it is not likely we shall ever return to the former system of house-to-house collection.

At this time the Directors feel that it is also a fitting place to acknowledge the great loss this Hospital has sustained in the death of the First Vice-President of our Board of Woman Managers. Mrs. Havemeyer was for years one of the firmest friends of this Hospital, allowing herself to be excelled by no one of our officers, in practical devotion and sympathy. Her loss is a very serious one for the institution.

In conclusion, the Directors desire to express their thanks to the Board of Woman Managers for their hearty co-operation; to the physicians and surgeons for their faithfulness and self-sacrifice and skill in caring for our sick; to the nurses for their fidelity in the discharge of their duties; and to the Superintendent and her assistants for the able and intelligent management of the Hospitals under their care.

REPORT OF THE SUMMER COMMITTEE.

The work of the "Summer Branch" of The Babies' Hospital at Oceanic, N. J., was conducted under the auspices of a committee, consisting of fifteen ladies, residing at Seabright, Monmouth Beach and Rumson.

The Hospital is not within easy reach for any of them—each visit necessitating a carriage drive; but, nevertheless, each of the committee has been most faithful in attending the meetings and in visiting the Hospital.

Five meetings were held during the Summer. At each meeting a Visiting Committee was nominated, which proved a very important innovation. Not that a special supervision was needed or improvements to be made; on the contrary, it was found that Miss Wheeler, the Superintendent, has, after six years of experience, established a very sound organization. But the frequent intercourse between managers and nurses, the refreshing influence from the healthful outer world and the fuller knowledge of hospital work, acquired through the regular visiting, was mutually inspiring to ever renewed and greater helpfulness.

All "wants" were supplied by the "visiting" ladies in turn, and the frequent gifts of fruit, vegetables and potatoes helped materially to reduce the household expenses.

The Babies' drives along the ocean, which were kindly provided for by some ladies not connected with the committee, proved again a most important factor in their restoration to health.

The amount of various donations appeared in the last number of THE CRIBSIDE. One of the largest sums came through an evening entertainment, arranged with much loving labor by Mrs. John J. Knox and Mrs. George R. Sheldon, at the Monmouth Beach Casino. These ladies were very generously assisted and the beautiful song cycle, "In a Persian Garden," was rendered in a truly artistic manner, and surpassed all expectation.

Another noteworthy assistance to the treasury came through Miss Evelyn Hilliard's reading. This was her own generous offer, an entirely free gift of charity, and was greatly enjoyed by an appreciative audience.

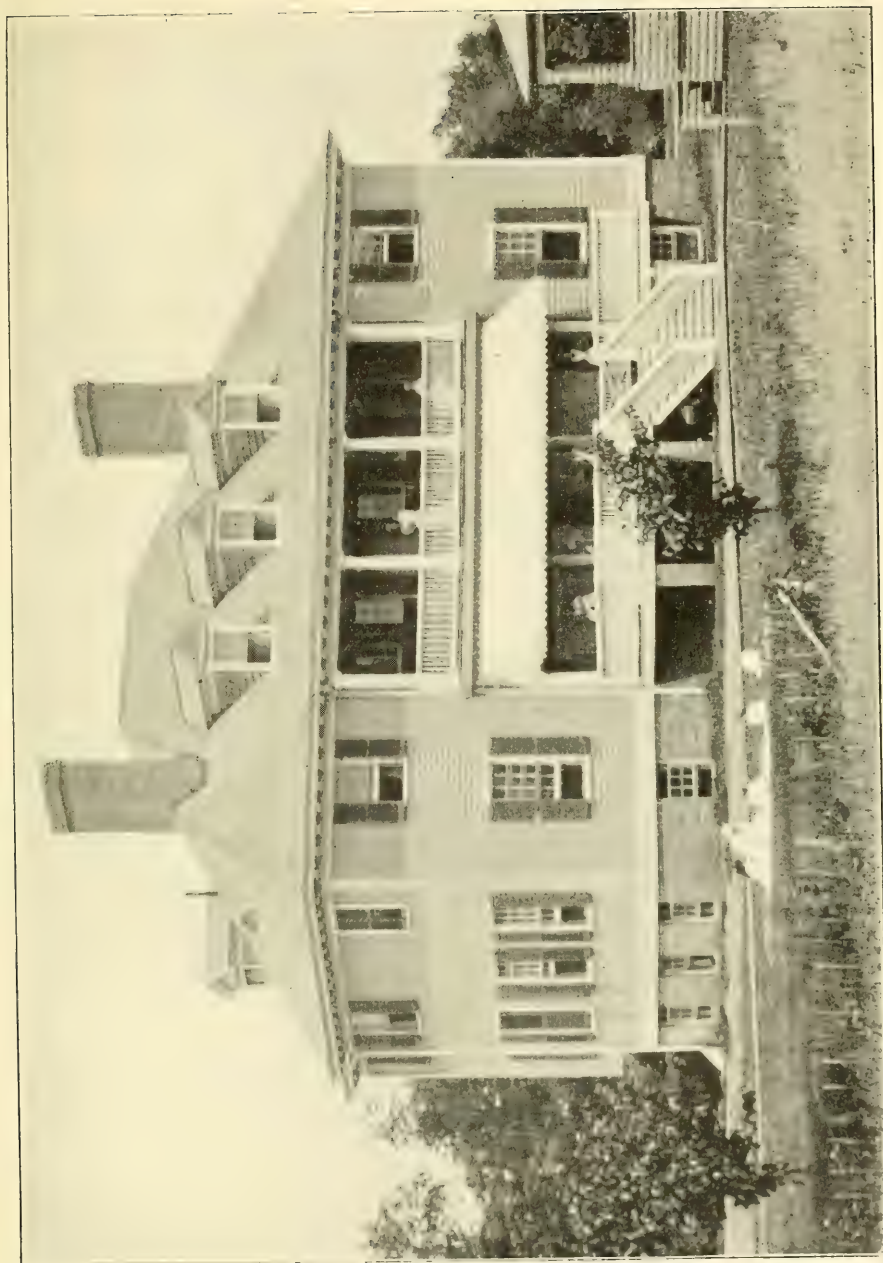

A remarkable present, not in the form of money, but of very substantial value, was given by Mr. William A. Street. It is the long desired artesian well, and the Hospital is now enjoying an unlimited supply of pure water. This involves, however, the erection of a water tower and windmill, costing about $800; but this large sum is also assured and promised to Dr. Kimball by several of the Hospital's Summer friends.

Before closing this little history of last Summer's work I wish to express my thanks to the ladies of the committee, and especially to the treasurer, Mrs. William S. Prentice, and the secretary, Mrs. William A. Street. A responsibility, which I hesitated to accept on account of its novelty, proved to be a great pleasure, owing to the spirit of harmony and willing, ever-ready helpfulness evinced by all, mingled with a feeling of satisfaction at having had the opportunity of rendering some assistance in this work of relieving the pains of many suffering little souls and restoring not a few to better and lasting health.

The Summer Committee dissolved at its last meeting on September 30th, and the officers resigned, with the best wishes for the continued welfare of The Babies' Hospital.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CRIBSIDE COMMITTEE.

FOR THE YEAR 1897-1898.

The Annual meeting of the Cribside Committee of The Babies' Hospital for the year ending November 10th, 1897, was held at the Hospital 657 Lexington Avenue on Wednesday, November 10th at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Bryce Gray as Chairman presided and called the meeting to order.

The following officers for the ensuing year were duly proposed, ballotted for and unanimously elected:

Mrs. BRYCE GRAY,	Chairman.
Miss MADELEINE I. DINSMORE,	Vice-Chairman.
Miss MAUDE H. CURTISS,	Treasurer.
Miss ELLEN LOUISE ADEE,	Secretary.

The Cribside Report for the year 1896-1897 was again compiled and printed for distribution among our many friends, telling them of our good work, and hoping thereby to arouse their interest and enthusiasm.

All the unfinished work left over from the Lenten Sewing Class of the preceding year, was sent to the Employment Society of St. Bartholomew's Church to be made, thus doing a double charity.

A note was read from Miss Hoffman thanking the Cribside for their contribution of garments.

Special votes of thanks were given to Miss Geneviève Robbins for her donation of $50.00, to Mrs. Henry M. Alexander, Jr., and the other ladies on the Executive Committee of the Junior Assemblies for their donation of $29.50; to Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborne for a donation of $19.39 from the Virginia Day Nursery dues of the Cribside and Virginia Sewing Class of the preceding Winter; to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver G. Jennings for their donation of $273.75 to the Building Fund of the Nursery Maids' Home; to Mrs. William Moir for her generous donation of $500.00 to the Building Fund of the Nursery Maids' Home.

On an urgent appeal from the Hospital for blankets for the nurses' beds, $25.00 was appropriated for that purpose, which gift was much appreciated by the Managers.

Miss Hoffman spoke to the Committee of the Hospital Paper "The Cribside" published quarterly, which is sent to all our Patrons and contributors. For the future the paper is to be devoted to matters pertaining to the Hospital only and it is hoped that the leaflet will be instrumental in arousing much interest in the work among the little sufferers.

The Thursday Afternoon Lenten Sewing Class was again organized by this Committee and each member of the Cribside was given the privilege of asking two or more friends as the membership was unlimited. The dues were $1.00 each, and were devoted to the purchasing of materials.

No attempt was made to provide any entertainment for the class apart from tea and chocolate which were served at five o'clock.

Mrs. Jennings again kindly consented to act as Chairman of the Cutting Committee, but later resigned in favor of Miss Maude Curtiss at whose residence all the garments were cut out.

The following ladies kindly gave their houses for the meetings, for which they were duly thanked: Mrs. William B. Dinsmore, Mrs. Henry G. Trevor, Mrs. Henry M. Day, Mrs. Robert Hoe, Mrs. Edward Mitchell, Mrs. Henry W. Curtiss. As a result 216 garments were cut, finished and sent to the Hospital and $18.33 was turned over to the Cribside treasury.

A "Cake Sale" was held on Saturday, March 12th, at the residence of Mrs. Henry W. Curtiss, 24 West 49th Street. Mrs. Curtiss and Mrs. William Adams both very kindly offered their houses for the sale, but the former was selected as being the most central. Both ladies were sincerely thanked for their kindness. The sale was a great success netting us $269.00.

The Cribside Committee wishing to adopt as their own some special work in connection with the Hospital at the suggestion of the Managers, it was unanimously decided to undertake the building of a Nursery Maids' Home to be erected at Oceanic, New Jersey, on the Hospital property, side by side with the three other buildings which compose the Summer Home of the little sufferers.

On Wednesday, February 9th, a motion was carried to commence building this Home as soon as permission can be obtained from the Directors of the Hospital. And on March 9th it was decided to leave all decisions on plans, estimates, and further details to the discretion of the Building Committee.

The members of which Committee are Mrs. John J. Knox, Mrs. Andrew H. Smith, Mrs. William Moir, Miss Marianna Wheeler, from the Board of Managers, Mrs. Brice Gray, Mrs. Samuel Riker Jr., Miss Madeleine Dinsmore, Miss Maude H. Curtiss, Miss Mary Oakley, Miss Ellen Louise Adee, from the Cribside Committee, Oliver G. Jennings, Dr. Thomas E. Satterthwaite, from the Board of Directors.

The following letter was sent to Dr. Thomas E. Satterthwaite, President of the Hospital:

Dr. THOMAS E. SATTERTHWAITE, Pres.

Dear Sir :

As the Cribside Committee of The Babies's Hospital desire to complete the arrangements for the building of a Nursery Maids' Home at Oceanic, N. J., as soon as possible, they would esteem it a favor if the Board of Directors would give their formal sanction to the building of said Home, and if they would also designate the site, upon which the Home shall be erected.

I am requested by the Cribside to ask you to serve on the Building Committee.

Very truly yours,
ELLEN LOUISE ADEE, Sec.

The following letter was received in reply:

Miss ELLEN LOUISE ADEE, Sec.

My dear Miss Adee :

Your letter in reference to the Nursery Maids' Home at Oceanic, addressed to Dr. Thomas E. Satterthwaite President of our Hospital, dated March 8th, was acted upon at the Executive Committee meeting of the Board of Directors, on the evening of March 8th in the following way: "Resolved that the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of The Babies' Hospital approves the building of a Home for Nursery Maids at Oceanic, that the President shall appoint a Committee of three of which he shall be one member to select a site for the same. Carried."

The Committee so appointed consists of Dr. Satterthwaite, Dr. Kimball and Mr. Chisolm.

Yours very truly,
B. OGDEN CHISOLM, Sec.

After much preliminary work a motion was finally carried to accept the drawing of Mr. Edward B. Chestresmith as the estimate on the specifications of $4,984.00 comes within our limit of $5,000.00, and as the plans meet all the other requirements most satisfactorily.

The contract has been awarded, ground has been broken, and the Home begun—so that the building may be completed and ready for occupancy by the first of next April.

A touching incident in connection with this Home, is the contribution to the Building Fund of $1.00 from one of the graduate nurses of the Hospital, who thus shows her appreciation of the need of our work and gives us her best wishes for a successful undertaking.

After much discussion as to the most advantageous way of raising the remaining amount for the completion of the Building Fund for the Nursery Maids' Home a motion was carried to make each member responsible for four books, each of which are to contain fifty spaces for 10 cent pieces (called Tithing Books) a total of $5.00 a book or $20.00 for the four.

This amount to be raised during the summer and to be handed in at or before the annual meeting in November, 1898.

The resignations of a few of our members were received with many regrets, but we gladly welcomed the new names added to our list and sincerely trust that the ensuing year will bring us many more friends and willing workers to help us in our splendid undertaking remembering that many hands make light work.

ELLEN LOUISE ADEE,
Secretary Cribside Committee.

REPORT OF "THE CRIBSIDE" PAPER.

This little paper, which is issued every two months, has for its object the acknowledgment of donations and subscriptions sent to the Hospital.

In addition to this any items of Hospital interest are printed; the "attending Physicians" medical report, the interesting cases of children are quoted, reports are reprinted, and the "wants" of the Hospital are made known.

A "Special number" of "The Cribside" was issued last June and quite a sum of money was raised in this way. Some of it came from the advertisements, but the greater part of it was given by those interested in the welfare of the Hospital. After paying the expenses of this issue there was left over $81.84 which was turned over to the Treasurer for the running expenses of the Hospital.

The subscription to this paper is but one dollar a year. It is these subscriptions which help defray the expenses of printing, postage, etc., and it is earnestly hoped that the list of subscribers may be enlarged.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN FIDELIA HOFFMAN,
Chairman, Editorial Com.

REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF WOMEN MANAGERS.

BY MRS. JOHN J. KNOX.

The Board of Women Managers of The Babies' Hospital submits its report for the year 1898 with a mingled feeling of pride and gratitude, pride in the possession of hospital buildings free from debt and thoroughly equipped with all the machinery conducive to the care and comfort of suffering children, and gratitude to the many friends whose generosity has brought about its present condition of prosperity.

In reviewing the ten years history of the Hospital one cannot fail to be impressed with two important features; first, the rapid growth of its prosperity, and secondly, the certain and permanent hold it has taken upon the confidence of the entire community.

The handful of men and women who so bravely undertook the work of establishing a hospital exclusively for babies, in the face of many and serious obstacles, must, indeed, rejoice to-day, in the complete success which has crowned their initial efforts.

Much still remains to be done, and the time has not come when we may fold our hands.

We need additional space, not only in the wards but in the dispensary and training-school work. To accomplish this, about $25,000 will be required.

We need to build up our permanent fund, which through bequests and the endowment of beds has already assumed modest proportions.

The untiring energy of the Cribside Committee has again found expression in the fulfillment of a long cherished wish to build a nurses' home at Oceanic.

Work has been begun and it is confidently expected that the new building will be ready for occupancy by the first of June.

This will enable us to put more nurses in training during the summer months and emphasizes the importance of enlarged quarters in the city buildings, that we may not be obliged to curtail this branch of our work each autumn.

The Summer Committee, with Mrs. Achelis as its Chairman, rendered efficient service during the past season and included among its number several of those whose names are associated with the earliest efforts in behalf of the Hospital, but who, for various reasons had been unable to serve during the past few years.

Two separate entertainments were given under its auspices, netting nearly a thousand dollars.

To Mrs. Seabury Ford and Miss Marguerite Hall, for gratuitous services in the rendition of the Persian Garden, and to Miss Evelyn Hilliard for a morning of reading, our thanks are due.

The expense of an artesian well was defrayed by Mr. Wm. A. Street and through the efforts of Dr. Kimball a sum of money sufficient to erect a wind-mill was given by several of those generous neighbors at Seabright who so often come to our aid.

The Cribside paper has been for the last year edited by Miss Hoffman. In April, a special number was prepared by her, which has been widely circulated and has proved most helpful.

On Dec. 1st the Persian Garden was again given by the same artists, the profit from this being eleven hundred dollars.

The success of this concert and that of the summer, is largely due to the efforts of Mrs. Geo. R. Sheldon, who, although a comparatively new member of the board, has proved herself a valuable addition.

The able and satisfactory reports of Dr. Satterthwaite and Dr. Holt tell so fully the character and scope of our hospital work that little remains to be said.

Never have we had a more efficient corps of officers and assistants, and each year shows us more and more Miss Wheeler's rare fitness for the position of Superintendent.

Her tact and unvarying cheerfulness enable her to deal as successfully with the mothers of the babies, as she does with the friends and inmates of the Hospital—endearing herself to all.

Once again death has come into our midst and has taken from us one whose loving interest and faithful work had made her a central figure in the board of management. The name of Mrs. Wm. F. Havemeyer will always be mentioned with reverence and affection, and her memory tenderly cherished by her associates in The Babies' Hospital.

We close with an expression of thanks to the Board of Directors—the Medical Board—and to Miss Wheeler and her assistants for their cheerful and hearty co-operation in all our efforts. May the new year bring us a continuance of cause for gratitude.

THE MEDICAL REPORT.

A SURVEY OF TEN YEARS' WORK.

It is fitting at the close of the first decade of The Babies' Hospital that we should take a general view of the work in order to understand and appreciate what has been done and where we stand at present. The report of the President of the Board of Directors has told of our material progress; but we are every day reminded in these times that expansion is not growth and it may prove in hospital as in national affairs that rapid expansion really hinders the best growth and development. If we find ourselves at the end of ten years still in two "converted" houses, not built for hospital work, let us be thankful that they are owned by the Society and that we have no heavy mortgage saddled upon us. If our progress has not been rapid, it has been steady and our growth substantial.

Tables of statistics regarding the 3,060 children which our records show that we have treated and the 84,027 days of hospital care furnished, will give you but an imperfect idea of the work accomplished in the past ten years.

Two ideas were prominent in the minds of the founders of this Hospital and have been potent ever since in shaping its career. The first was, to furnish hospital care for a class of patients not then provided for in our city of great institutions; the second was to furnish a field for the study of disease in infants and the training of physicians and nurses to care for this class of patients.

When the Hospital was opened we had few precedents to follow, and little previous experience to guide us; as not another hospital of the kind existed in the United States, and less than half a dozen general hospitals in this country had wards for infants. While mistakes have been made, on the whole, we have reason to be gratified with what has been done here toward the solution of the problems presented in the hospital treatment of sick infants. The last decade has seen institutions similar to our own established in Newark, Brooklyn, San Francisco and Montreal and the opening of wards for infants in very many general hospitals.

The question of saving infant life is very fast becoming a vital one in social economics. It is estimated that 20 per cent. of all children born, die before the end of the second year. In New York City during the last eight years, the mortality of infants under one year has reached the enormous figure of 86,738, this being about one-fourth the total death rate, while under the age of two years, occur over one-third of all the deaths in our city. This is almost appalling, but it serves to emphasize the importance of the problem which we are confronting, and it is gratifying to note that something is being done to lessen this high mortality. The year 1897 shows a death-rate under one year nearly 1,000 less than that of any recent year. This is the result of many factors: cleaner streets, closer supervision of milk-supply, and many other sanitary measures for which we are indebted to the Board of Health, but also, to a more intelligent understanding of all the problems connected with infant life which institutions like this are helping to solve. Conditions hereafter to be considered make it undesirable and in fact impossible that any large percentage of the sick infants of this city shall be treated in hospitals; but it is none the less true that only in hospitals can any great head-way be made in the solution of many of the problems connected with infantile disease.

Its purely charitable work, we do not underestimate, but we believe that a hospital for infants does more than this for the community, when it can determine from the careful study and observation of the few, what is the best treatment for the many.

As a place of research, a hospital should be well equipped with a pathological, bacteriological and if possible, a chemical laboratory in order to work out in the fullest and best way the problems constantly arising in treatment of acute illness. Much relating to the diseases of infancy has already been published from this Hospital, in the various medical journals, and there is now in preparation a volume to which all the members of the medical staff of the Hospital will contribute, embodying reports of work which has been done here during the last ten years.

Special hospitals are needed also for the teaching of physicians and students and the training of nurses. One of the greatest deficiencies in the curriculum of the medical schools of the day is the insignificant attention paid to subjects connected with infancy. This can never be remedied without the opportunities which a hospital affords. This work in no way interferes with its function in caring for the sick and has a far wider value in pure philanthropy than the caring for the children in the wards. The training of the nurses for the care of infants, we consider no less important than the education of the physicians, and the progress made in this direction has been most gratifying. Here, again, the work of the Hospital has been imitated in the establishment of at least one half dozen schools like our own, in different parts of the country.

Hospital work for infants has its discouragements and we have also learned, its limitations. One of the most discouraging features is the very high mortality, something which was not previously expected, and which as compared with that of ordinary adult hospitals, seems extraordinary. In many cases this has so discouraged boards of managers as to induce them to give up the work altogether. The exceedingly high mortality of infants under one year in cities, outside of hospitals, is to be remembered, and also that in institutions where cases of serious illness are chiefly brought, this must be of necessity very high.

The reasons for this high mortality are to be found in the class of patients who make up the bulk of those admitted.

These are:

1. Marasmus cases, the majority being under six months old; they are children whose mothers are dead, or sick, in hospitals, in asylums, or intemperate. They are often the children of wet-nurses who have been boarded out. Whatever their origin, they have been neglected and badly fed, and have gone steadily down until as a last resort they are sent to a hospital.

2. Cases of acute starvation; usually infants under three months old; often on account of extreme poverty or destitution they have had no shelter and sometimes no food but tea or beer for days. Many of these at last find refuge in a hospital and live a few days or perhaps but a few hours.

3. Cases of neglect where systematic and regular drugging has been continued, usually by opium in some form.

4. Cases of acute pulmonary or intestinal disease which have been some time sick and have grown alarmingly worse at home; sometimes brought by friends as a last resort and sometimes sent in by physicians when they see that a fatal result is probable.

5. Cases of disease which are almost certainly fatal, such as tuberculosis, acute meningitis, or serious malformations.

Regarding cases that are hopeless on admission, like most of those just enumerated, one must admit that they have the same right to hospital care and shelter as have cases of cancer or advanced tuberculosis in adults. They will terminate fatally whether they are admitted to a hospital or not; but no institution which claims to be charitable or philanthropic can refuse to take its share of these hopeless cases. However, the fact that their proportion is so large, is what raises the mortality figures of an infants' hospital so high. But to judge of the usefulness of an institution by its death-rate where many such are received, is manifestly unfair; nor should it be in any way compared with the mortality in hospitals for adults.

Another discouraging feature to hospital managers is the expense required. This consists almost entirely in care and nursing since the cost of food and supplies is but a minor feature; but the public is coming to appreciate the fact that the value of work of this kind consists not in its quantity but in its quality.

There are some peculiar conditions in infants' hospitals which must be considered; those which affect the nutrition of the patients are of the highest importance in modifying the results obtained, and are in fact paramount to every other consideration.

The things to be considered as affecting nutrition are mainly four:

Ventilation, airing, nursing and care, and feeding.

In most hospitals where infants are treated, the maximum allowance has been in former times only 600 or 700 cubic feet to each bed and with this we began. But larger experience has shown that it must be at least 1000 cubic feet and this is what we now try to give. With less than this the results will always be unsatisfactory with children under one year. For those who are beyond this age, a little less may suffice except in cases of very acute illness. Our experience may be stated somewhat as follows: two infants in a ward of a given size do well; three may do fairly; four are sure to do badly, and, if the number is increased beyond this point all will fail rapidly and some will soon die.

The question of ventilation and pure air is also a difficult one. No matter how good the ventilation of the ward, infants must be taken from it once or twice a day to an apartment where an entire change of atmosphere is secured. Separate rooms for airing are good, but we ought to have protected balconies and a sun-garden, if the best results are to be obtained. Some provision must be made to get these infants out of their habitual atmosphere. The youngest and those most acutely ill need it most, and should have a change of at least two or three hours a day, thorough airing and ventilation of the wards they have left being accomplished meanwhile. We have found nothing quite so depressing as overcrowding in close, overheated rooms.

Cleanliness in its minutest details should be secured at whatever cost. Under the artificial conditions of hospital life, purity of the atmosphere is absolutely necessary. Nothing which contaminates the air of the ward can be permitted. This requires the immediate removal of soiled bedding, clothing and napkins, the use of as little gas as possible at night, frequent fumigation of the rooms used for the treatment of acute disease, and wiping of dust from the floors daily with cloths wrung from antiseptic solutions.

All these matters, of course, greatly increase the labor of hospital work, and consequently the expense. Not one of the essential hygienic conditions of a well-appointed nursery can be omitted.

Nursing and care are no less important than the matters already mentioned. Infants require fully four times as much care as any other class of hospital patients. No good results can be expected where a ward with twenty babies is given into the care of three or four nurses, however intelligent and industrious. It has been our experience that even in the case of infants who are not acutely ill, not more than three can be well cared for by a single nurse, and for those who are seriously ill, one nurse to every two children is the minimum. This nursing must be constant, and it does not consist simply in the administration of food and medicines, and the application of clean napkins; infants must be taken from their beds, held, given opportunities for change of position, and in most cases for a certain amount of exercise.

For the kind of work we have mentioned, the connection with the hospital of a training school for nursery maids is, we believe, of much greater value than one for trained nurses.

To obtain the best results, in feeding we ought to have command of every method, not only the most approved methods of artificial feeding, such as are furnished by the modification of milk and preparation of other foods in our diet kitchen, but wet-nurses for certain special cases. The difficulties in artificial feeding in institutions with children under six months old, are very great and sometimes insurmountable. After one year, the conditions of nutrition are not so hard to control and with every month of advancing age, the problem becomes easier.

Certain forms of disease we have found can be satisfactorily treated in an infants' hospital, while for others almost nothing can be done. During the first year it is the acute diseases which are best suited to hospital treatment. Chronic cases requiring a prolonged stay are very apt to do badly because of the difficulties in maintaining the nutrition of the child while subjected to a hospital atmosphere. Even acute cases, we have found it unwise to retain in the Hospital after the acute stage has passed, unless the Hospital was in the country, and even there in a few weeks the baneful effects of "hospitalism", as the condition has been called, are frequently apparent. The retention during the whole period of convalescence is fraught with great danger and often followed by relapses.

During the second and third years, results in the treatment of all diseases are very much more satisfactory; not only may all acute diseases as in the first year be successfully managed, but almost all the chronic disorders of this period. Some of our most striking results are with children who have passed the first year who are suffering from chronic diseases.

One of the most distressing things seen in hospital practice is that children who are admitted for simple malnutrition or some slight ailment, not infrequently develop some serious form of acute disease while in the Hospital; not only the ordinary contagious diseases may be so contracted (although our Hospital has been remarkably free from such outbreaks) but other acute forms, such as pneumonia and the acute intestinal diseases. These come sometimes in spite of all precautions and can only be explained by the depressing effects of a hospital atmosphere upon very young children.

From what has been said, it is easy to see that young infants should not be sent to hospitals for minor ailments and kept there for a long time; also, that combining sick and well children in the same ward has a most injurious effect upon the latter; and, further, that after acute attacks of disease, children should be removed as soon as possible from the hospital atmosphere.

The ideal babies' hospital in our opinion, should not be a large one. Our general hospitals with 200 or 300 beds cannot be imitated here. The greater the degree to which infants are massed and crowded together, the more unnatural are the conditions under which they are placed, the worse are the results of treatment, and the less valuable does the study of disease under such conditions become, as a guide to practice elsewhere. The hospital of 60 beds is greatly to be preferred to one of double or treble the size, but it should be so equipped that its work shall be done under the most approved conditions for achieving the best results. Small wards containing from four to six beds, we believe, are greatly to be preferred to those of fifteen or twenty, if for no other reason, to avoid the danger of contracting contagious disease.

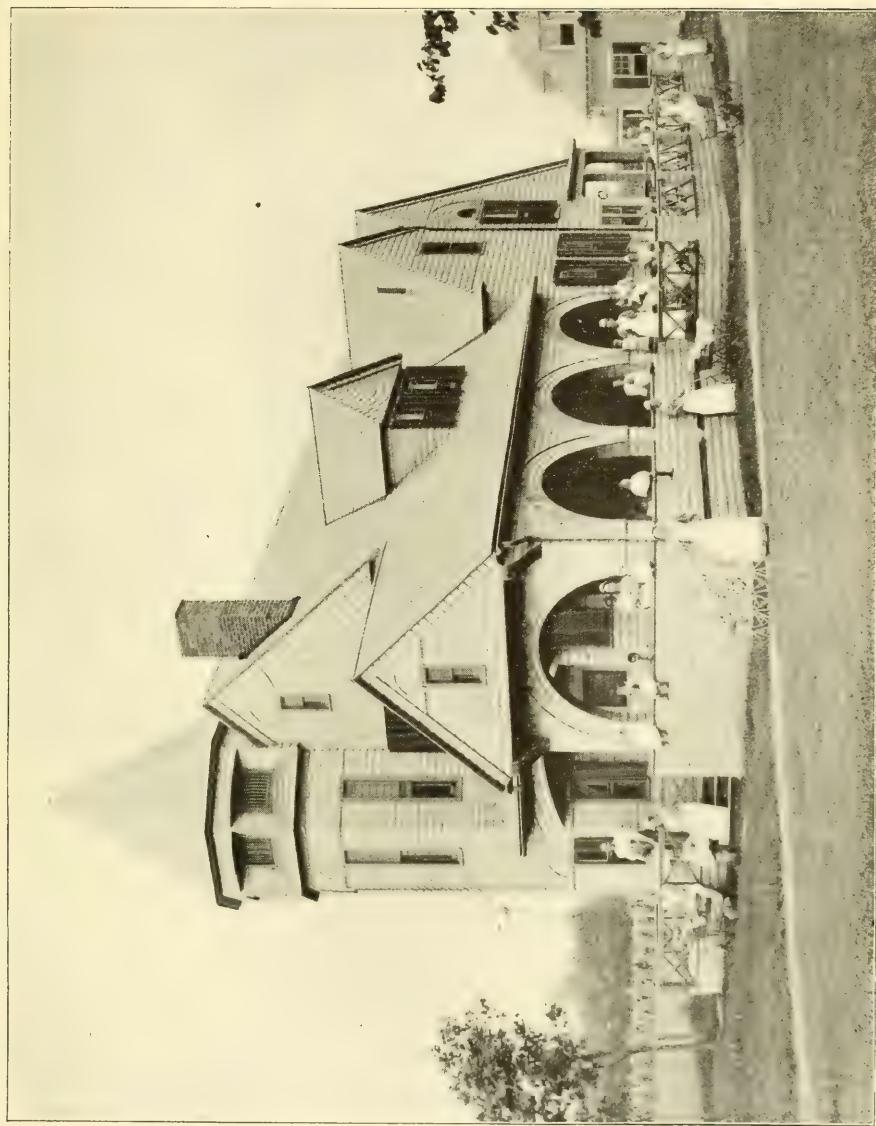

Experience has demonstrated the great value of our Country Branch for the work conducted during the summer. With the class of ailments which fill a hospital during that season of the year, results in close hospital wards in the City are almost as bad as in the tenements; but not so where they can be placed under such surroundings as are furnished at our Home at Oceanic.

Much may be said also of the great value of the work done in the Dispensary, particularly, during the last three years. Here a much larger number are reached than could be cared for in the Hospital wards. The work done there also is very largely of an educational character, teaching mothers how to feed and care for their children, and furnishing them in many cases with printed directions how the food is to be prepared and given at home.

Hospitals for infants are necessary, but they must be conducted with a very definite knowledge of what can be accomplished and what should not be attempted. By recognizing fully their limitations as well as their advantages, they may become of the greatest possible benefit to the profession and to the public, but the work must be well done to be of any value, either to the patients treated or to medical science and when it cannot be well done, it should not be attempted at all.

REPORT

OF THE

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSERY MAIDS.

(Founded 1889 by Mrs. Robert W. Chapin.)

It is nine years this month of November since the opening of the School, and it may be of interest to those who have seen the work from the beginning, and possibly to some others who have not, to learn exactly what has been accomplished during this time. Nine years is not long enough to settle all the questions arising in training of this sort, but they have settled some things regarding which at the outset the officers of the Hospital felt quite doubtful.

When it was proposed to establish such a Training School the question arose whether such work could be done in The Babies' Hospital at all, and if done there, whether it would not seriously interfere with the purpose for which the Hospital was established, viz., the care of sick infants and young children. Then, as we had no precedents to follow, there were other questions as to the age of applicants, terms of service, kind of instruction, compensation, etc., which came up for decision.

At the outset, it was thought best to admit only girls from 18 to 25 years, that the term of service should be four months—the first one being on probation—that the instruction should relate purely to nursery topics, and that the wages should be $7 a month during the training, and $20 a month after the graduation.

The experience of nine years brought no regrets that the Training School was introduced into the Hospital. There is no doubt that the frequent changes incident to a short course of training did, to some extent, embarrass the work of caring for sick infants, until the plan was adopted of giving the Superintendent two permanent assistants in the wards. These, with night nurses and a diet nurse, who also are permanent, make it quite possible, with the help of twelve nursery maids, to furnish adequate nursing to the 35 infants which The Babies' Hospital can accommodate. Our first fear, then, that the training of the nursery maids would be a detriment to the Hospital work has not been realized; most of the care needed by young infants when they are ill is of the nursery-maid character; and from our experience during the last nine years, we are quite prepared to make the statement that the routine work of a babies' hospital is better done by having attached to it a training school for nursery maids than one for trained nurses.

Some changes, but not many, have been made in the plan of the School from the original scheme. After two or three years it was evident that few girls at 18 were qualified to appreciate the training and take the position in private families which we expected our graduates to hold, and therefore, the ages were changed so as to admit only those from 20 to 30 years. When we have made an exception in any case, we have almost invariably had reason to regret it.

After one year, the term of training was lengthened from four to six months, as it was found that to be of real value the course must be long enough not only to impart the technical instruction needed, but also to give that training that can only come from being for a considerable time under strict discipline. This was found especially necessary as about half of our girls had never lived out at service of any kind before they came to the Hospital. It has further been our experience that a good nursery maid can be made from raw material of the right sort in six months; but not from poor material in two or three times that period; in fact, not at all.

A residence in a hospital much longer than six months tends, in our opinion, to unfit girls for the work of nursery maids in a private family. They grow fond of institution life; they fall into the institution way of looking at things; they become accustomed to work with many others about them, and soon grow lonesome and discontented in private positions. Those more ambitious become enamored of the more purely medical work, and are filled with the ambition to become trained nurses.

Some changes have also been made in the matter of compensation. Instead of receiving $7 a month throughout her course, each girl now receives only $5 a month for five months and $12 for the last month, this being held out as an additional inducement to the girl to complete her course, and at the same time enables her to leave the Hospital with a few dollars in her pocket. The regular wages are quite sufficient for the uniform and a few incidentals, for which they are intended. We no longer endeavor to regulate the wages, except during the first six months after graduation, when they receive $20; after that, each girl is allowed to place her own value upon her services like any other person who works for a living. The plan was adopted some years ago of making the first year of private service in a sense a probationary one and withholding, until the expiration of that time, the Hospital pin which is a badge of honorable service. It is taken for granted that a girl who behaves herself well for the six months of training, and for one year after leaving the Hospital, will rarely bring discredit upon the School later than this.

A few additions have been made to the scheme of instruction, but we have closely adhered to the first idea of endeavoring to teach what it is most essential for a nurse to know for the intelligent care of an infant in its home. Some ladies from another city, who had followed our example in this line of industrial education, said to our Superintendent after going over our work: "What! no lectures? No medical instruction? Why, our nursery maids receive lectures from physicians upon anatomy, physiology, drugs, etc." The reply made then and is to all who cherish such opinions, that instruction of the kind referred to, instead of making a nursery maid more useful, tends rather to unfit her for the work she is to do. She is taught just enough to make her a dangerous person in the nursery; and a little such knowledge makes the routine work of the nursery seem of very little importance and soon loses its interest. In our own course, therefore, such simple and fundamental truths are inculcated as those relating to the feeding and care, and general hygienic rules by which a healthy baby is to be kept well, and a delicate child made strong. For this sort of instruction, systematic lectures have seemed to us of little value. A large part of the teaching is done by demonstration, as in bathing, dressing and feeding infants; much by informal talks by the Superintendent, which are given regularly and cover not only the topics mentioned, but dress, deportment, rights and duties in the household, responsibility, obedience, and other matters of equal importance with the technical training. These talks are coupled with quizzing from a catechism written especially for the nurses, which covers in a very simple way the ordinary subjects of a nursery maid's work. This catechism the nurses are usually found studying all their spare moments, and has proven of great assistance in the training, as it places before them on paper a description of the things they are themselves doing every day, with some brief explanation of the reasons why.

The kindergarten training added to our course in recent years has greatly increased the interest of the nurses in their work, especially among children who are from 18 months to 3 years old, of which we always have six or eight at the Hospital. The amount of instruction that can be given in connection with the other duties of the nurses is necessarily limited; thus far, we have been able to spare for it only one evening a week for ten weeks for each class. Of course this is very little; but we have been fortunate in securing excellent teachers in the department who were enthusiastic to see what could be accomplished with a class of intelligent girls in so short a course. Many of the games, songs, and some of the work is thus taught; but more than all, the aim of the course has been to get into the minds of the nurses the "kindergarten idea" and the general principles according to which children are to be properly managed because better understood.

A description of our training would not be complete without reference to our Model Nursery which was fitted up last Spring through the generosity of some of our Board of Women Managers. In this room, which is as tasteful and dainty as any nursery in a home, each nurse serves for two weeks before she leaves the Hospital, having entire charge of one infant, and only one. All the work here, even to the child's daily outings in the baby carriage, and her own "nights out," is carried out as precisely as in a private family. The nurse prepares the food separately from that of the other children of the house, washes the napkins, takes care of the Nursery, and, in fact, does everything for the child, under the watchful eye of the Superintendent.

Although this has been only recently added to the course of instruction, it has already been shown to be altogether the best thing we have attempted, teaching self-reliance and the importance of attention to minute details; and, more than all, revealing the nurse's faults and deficiencies while there is still an opportunity to correct them. No examination could be more searching than this two weeks which each nurse spends in the Model Nursery.

There have been graduated since the opening of the School 125 nurses. These have been divided as follows:

Class of 1890	4	Class of 1895	22
" " 1891	6	" " 1896	21
" " 1892	8	" " 1897	25
" " 1893	7	" " 1898 (up to date) .	17
" " 1894	15

It may be of some interest to know who these girls are and whence they have come. In the early days, before the School was much known, most of our applicants came from the City; during the first five years 64 per cent. were from the City and 36 per cent. from the country. During the last four years, only 42 per cent. have come from the City and 58 per cent from the country. At the outset, considerable difficulty was experienced in getting enough girls of the right sort to take the training; but at the present time we have an average of 150 applicants a year from which to choose the 24 which we can train with our present accommodations. The waiting list is always a long one, and at the present moment there have been enough accepted to fill the classes for twelve months ahead. When the applications are made, references are investigated, and, if satisfactory, the application is placed on file, the girls being taken in order and notified a few months before the place is ready.

Of 125 graduates whose previous occupation was known, 48 had never lived out at service in any capacity; 15 had been household servants of one sort or another; 5 had been saleswomen; 3, factory girls; 2, seamstresses; and 51 had already done some nursing and entered the School because of an ambition to better themselves. More and more, every year, we are drawing from a class of country girls who have never before lived out.

The nationality of 121 graduates was as follows: American born (but chiefly of foreign parentage), 75; Irish (chiefly North of Ireland Protestants), 15; Canadian, 10; Scotch, 9; German, 5; while there were one, two or three each who were French, Swiss, Swedish, English, Danish or Welsh.

It is of much greater importance and interest to know what has become of these girls after graduation. With the assistance of Miss Wheeler's record we are able to present a report regarding all but two, who have been lost sight of.

Thus we find less than fifteen per cent. at anything else than work for which they were trained; all things considered, a remarkably small proportion. Of those not recommended, two have behaved themselves in such a way as to be unworthy of endorsement, and, therefore, were stricken from the list. The other three were dropped because they could not get along as nursery maids in any of the places they were sent, this being largely a matter of temperament.

The appreciation of the work of the Training School by the public may be measured by three things: First, the demand for nurses; secondly, the wages which nurses have been able to command after being some years at service; and, thirdly, the terms of service. Estimating by three months in which an accurate record was kept, over 500 persons applied at the Hospital for nurses during the past year, and the number is steadily increasing. This, while we are able to train but twenty-four! Again, there has hardly been a time during the past three years when every girl in the school has not been engaged, five months ahead or as soon as she has passed her probationary month.

Nothing is more gratifying to the officers of the School than a long term of service in first places. Of 17 who have been graduated four years or more, whose career could be followed up, over half stayed two years or longer in their first places and 8 had been three years or longer in one place; 1 of these being seven years, 2 six years and 2 four years. As to wages, hardly a girl fails to obtain $25 a month after being out of the Hospital one year; and after three or four years we find that more than half of them are getting $30, and a few, $35, or even $40 a month.

The outlook for this work is most encouraging. We think we have demonstrated its place in industrial education, and shown something of its possibilities, as well as the conditions requisite for success. The first one certainly is an efficient Superintendent. As she stands to the girls in the place of the future mistress, she must be their social superior; at the same time she must be enthusiastic, sympathetic and a strict disciplinarian. If the training of nursery maids fails in other places, the chief reason will be because they are not able to place at the head such a Superintendent as we have in Miss Wheeler, to whom more than anyone else, the success of the School is due.

There is surely no work which comes more closely to the home than does that of training those who are to care for the babies and little children. It is educational and philanthropic as well as charitable. It is giving many young women a means of earning a livelihood in an occupation at once healthful, respectable and interesting, and offering an opportunity for the highest kind of usefulness. It is attracting to this work a more refined and intelligent class than have hitherto been engaged in it, and it is lifting this service to a higher plane than it has yet occupied, while at the same time it is giving to the little children of the very poor the best possible care and attention when they are sick.

We can now train 24 nurses a year, when we have demands for 500, and when we have 150 asking for that training! Why should we not have the means at our command which should enable us to at least double our work? Who will contribute the $50,000 to purchase and equip the adjoining house which will nearly make this possible?

The following schedule shows the course of instruction given in the training school:

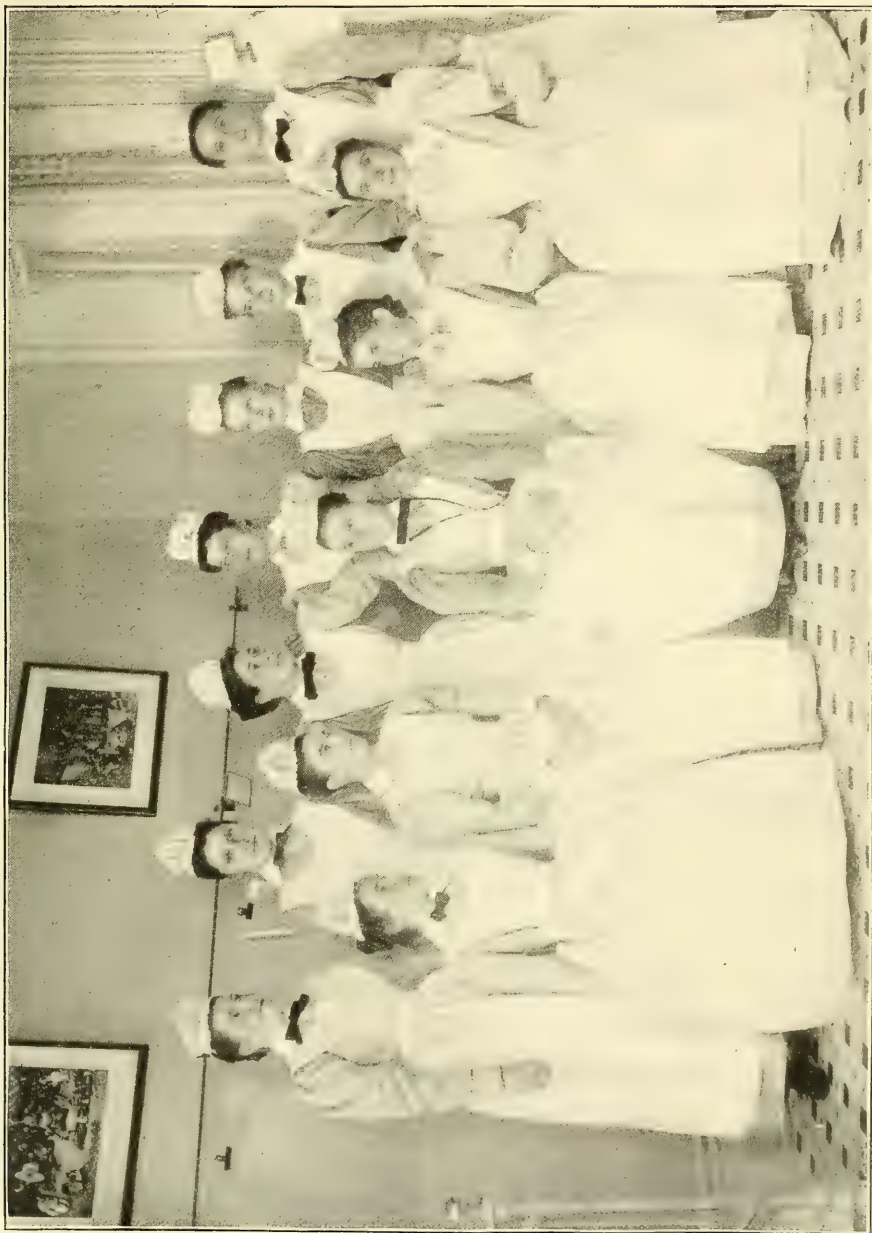

1. Infant Feeding—The care of milk, milk sterilization, care of bottles, preparation of commonly employed infant foods, the general principles of infant feeding, with rules as to quantity and frequency.
2. Bathing—The daily bath; the use of hot, cold, and mustard baths.
3. Hygiene of the skin.
4. Care of the mouth, eyes, and ears.
5. Nursery Hygiene—Ventilation, temperature, cleanliness, care of napkins, etc.
6. The training of children in proper bodily habits.
7. Miscellaneous—The use of the clinical thermometer, the making of poultices and oil-silk jackets; the giving of enemata.
8. Simple means of treatment in nursery emergencies.
9. The rudiments of kindergarten work.

REPORT OF THE SUMMER COMMITTEE.

An organized Summer Committee has become a fixed necessity in order to carry on the work of the Hospital's Summer Branch at Oceanic, N. J., in a satisfactory manner.

This Committee has to be newly appointed each season and it is natural that it consists of many different members each summer, only a few ladies being permanent residents in that part of the country.

The work and duties of the Committee do not begin until the first meeting in early June, after the "moving" has been accomplished and preliminary arrangements have been made by the Board of Managers.

Finding everything in a well-established condition, what then becomes of the work of the Summer Committee?

As I understand it and as I have explained to the ladies who have so generously assisted me, it is one of continual sustaining help of a two-fold character. First, we have to give that moral help of inspiration and interest, so important to Superintendent and nurses, and after that the practical help. The necessary funds, money as means to an end, must be raised and it is with special gratitude that I am able to report what the Committee has accomplished. Voluntary contributions came in constantly and everything that was needed in the way of furnishing or supplies or repairs was generously provided by the members of the Committee.

At the first meeting Mrs. Howell offered to arrange a concert at her house at Monmouth Beach, which brought the sum of $619.50. The concert was given in the morning, and owing to the beautiful singing of Mrs. Cravath and Miss Elliot, it was a very charming entertainment.

The principal event in the Hospital's summer history was the reception and house-warming of the new building. Mr. Wm. D. Guthrie made a very able and pleasing speech, and the social gathering was a very pleasant one. But it was a serious regret to the managers that none of the "Cribside Committee," through whose efforts the new building has been erected, could be present. The Hospital life has gained much through the additional building.

The nurses are better quartered and in the main building there is more room and purer air for the sick babies, so necessary in our hot summers.

The large parlor or Committee room was much appreciated by the managers at the meetings, but the two private wards are of the greatest interest and importance. They have been very tastefully and most completely furnished by Mrs. Guthrie and Mrs. Howell; not the smallest detail was overlooked.

Mrs. E. D. Adams also, in her generous manner thoroughly furnished and equipped the Model Nursery after the plan of the Nursery in New York.

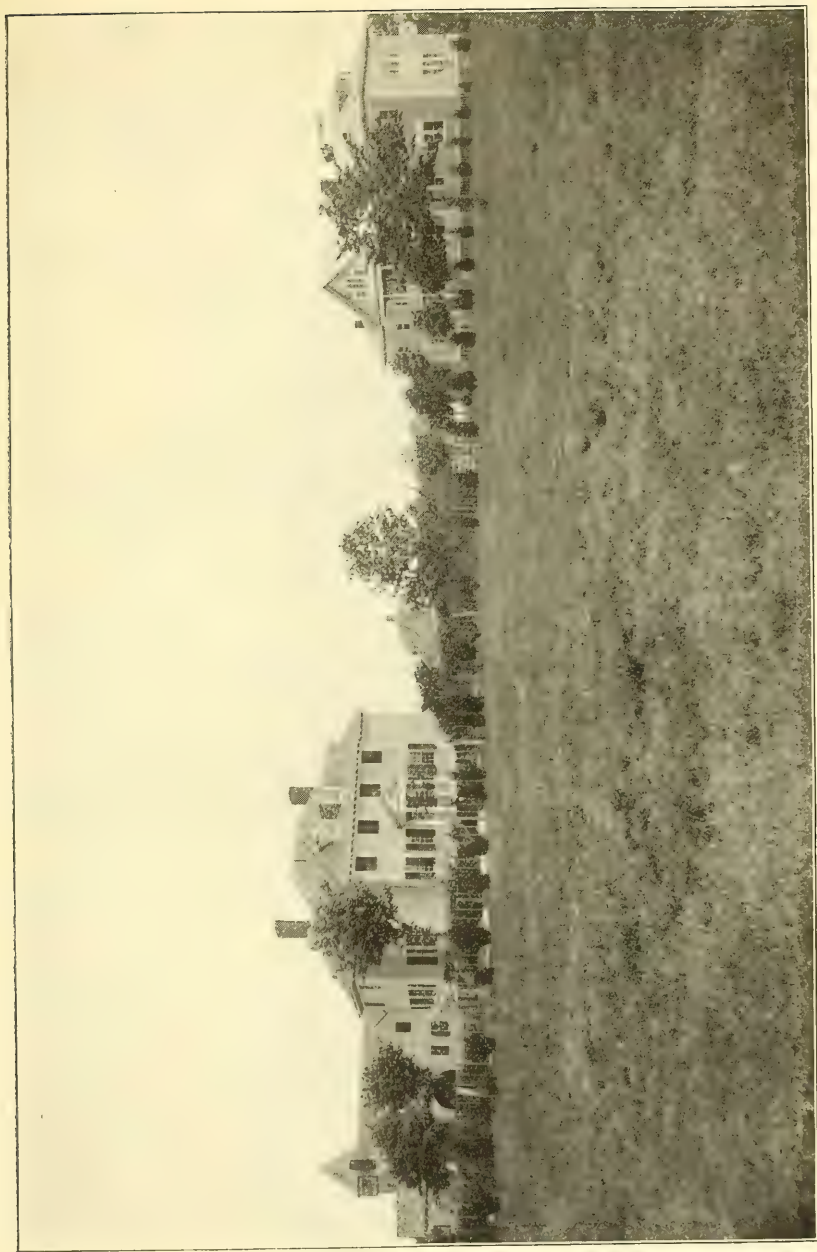

Toward the end of summer two children, a little baby and an older brother, who came both in a very serious condition, were most successfully cared for in these rooms.

Looking back, now in Mid-Winter, on the work of last Summer, only one impression remains: That it was a great pleasure to work harmoniously together with a number of women, all desirous of doing their very best to procure the means for bringing relief from suffering and pain, in many cases cures from disease, to the helpless little babies and in this way comfort to many a poor mother's sorrowful and despairing heart.

Thanks are due to the Treasurer, Mrs. Morrison and the Secretary, Mrs. Street, who carried out their work faithfully beyond the end of the season.

At the last meeting in September the Summer Committee dissolved with the best wishes for the successful continuance of the Summer Branch of the Babies' Hospital.

THE MEDICAL REPORT.

The eleventh year has brought very few changes in the exterior of the Hospital in the city. It is gratifying to record that the work done exceeds that of the previous year, 394 patients having been treated, as against 371 for 1898, and 10,165 days' treatment furnished against 9,646 for the previous year. While this has been the case, our death-rate has been lower. Of the 114 deaths over forty-five per cent. were infants under three months. During the past year an unusual number of cases have been admitted either in a dying condition or so desperately ill that they survived but a day or two. Many of these have been transferred from other institutions and one or two have come in with the report that they had been discharged "cured," and yet were so far reduced from marasmus that they lived only a few days.

The past year has witnessed a renewed effort on the part of the city authorities to investigate very closely the working of all institutions which receive any support whatever from the City Treasury in order to prevent the abuse of medical charity, much of which had certainly existed in New York City during the past years. With this effort to give free treatment only to those who are in need of it, the officers of the Hospital are in full sympathy, and it is our constant endeavor to treat free only those who deserve it. As the times have improved and work is more plenty, it is noticeable that more patients than formerly have shown a willingness and even a desire to pay something toward the care of their children, and although this seldom amounts to more than one-fourth the actual expense incurred by the Hospital in their behalf, still it fosters a feeling of self-respect and they are certainly more appreciative of our assistance than they otherwise would be. It is seldom now that a case is forwarded by us to the city department as deserving free treatment which does not receive their endorsement.

But it is not simply the destitute who are aided by the Hospital, but often others who in consequence of the breaking up of homes or other misfortunes find a sick baby on their hands without any means for securing adequate care and treatment.

One of the most interesting features of the year has been the results which have been attained in the Model Nursery where an infant is put with a private nurse under conditions as nearly like those of a comfortable home as can be secured. It has been most encouraging to see what can be accomplished with some apparently hopeless cases of marasmus under these surroundings, demonstrating clearly that it is unremitting care and attention with a large amount of air space which these children demand if their lives are going to be saved.

We feel very greatly the need of the extra building for the work in the city which will enable us still more to increase the air space allowed to each child and to give nurses and officers more hygienic quarters. To realize how crowded we are, one need only consider how an average household of ten or twelve persons fills a twenty-foot New York house, and then remember that we have nearly thirty people in each one of our houses, to see how much we are in need of more space. It is to be hoped that before another year this need is to be met.

It is gratifying to record the fact that the work of the summer has been most satisfactory, and with the newly erected Nurses' Home we have adequate room for the very best care of fifty patients at a time together with two private rooms. This will be all we shall need for many years to come, but our energies must be devoted toward the better housing for city work. Last summer a larger number of children were sent to the country than the previous year, and the diminishing mortality bears testimony to the effect of our improved surroundings upon the children treated. The keen interest manifested by our neighbors at Seabright and Oceanic is a matter of congratulation.

The work of training nurses has gone on steadily through the year, and twenty-four nurses have been sent out. We have reason to believe that the institution is giving these girls more and more exactly what they need for the work in the home. The two weeks which each one spends in the private nursery before leaving the hospital is the most searching examination as to her qualifications.

What the public demands in nurses has been well expressed by one applicant at the Hospital who desired "an angel who would take her meals in the kitchen." While we have not yet succeeded in producing anything approaching this, we do believe that we are teaching a class of intelligent, sensible girls in a practical way how they are to fill the responsible position which they take in the household.

The work of the dispensary has gone on steadily during the year, and it is now crowded far beyond its hygienic capacity. Leaflets are now printed for distribution giving instruction to the mothers who come how they may care for and feed their children at home, and in this way the work of education is going on in the tenements ; a slow but steady improvement is seen in the intelligence manifested by these mothers in the care of their children.

The following illustrative cases will give a fair idea of the character of the work which the Hospital is doing, showing at the same time some of the gratifying results as well as some of the discouraging cases.

Daniel McD——, was admitted October 9th. The mother was a very respectable woman, a seamstress in the dressmaking department of one of our large stores. She had been deserted by her husband, and had to be away from the child the entire day while at work. At home, the infant was badly cared for and when brought to the Hospital it was in a deplorable condition, half starved, suffering from bronchitis, together with a sore mouth and throat. Under good care and careful feeding he improved rapidly, and was discharged at the end of nine weeks, the picture of health, having gained five pounds during his stay in the Hospital.

Louis A——, three months old, was brought to the hospital at Oceanic by the father, who came to ask admission for his child, having applied at several hospitals in the city he was unable to secure admittance for the baby. A friend had directed him to our institution. The father was a clerk in a large store and earning a fair salary, but his wife had recently developed tuberculosis, and her physician thought she might be saved by leaving the city at once and going to the mountains. She had another child of three years which she could take with her, but there was absolutely no one with whom they could leave the little baby who even then was reported seriously ill. The child was admitted although its condition was hopeless, and it died of tuberculosis four days later. The father paid its board while in the Hospital.

John M——, sixteen months old, was admitted October 16th. The father was intemperate and had deserted his family. The mother was at work in a factory during the day, and three children were left to the care of an aged grandmother. This child had been seriously ill for a week, and at the time of its admission to the Hospital in consequence of improper feeding, its digestion was so disturbed that it was four weeks before it could be able to assimilate very much food. After many efforts and a great deal of anxiety the digestion was finally relieved, and from this time it made rapid improvement. It is still in the Hospital, having gained three pounds in weight and is well on the way toward complete recovery.

Ruby S——, fourteen months old, was sent in by a physician outside with the diagnosis of malaria. The parents were too poor to pay longer for medical attendance, and in consequence of this the child had been directed to the Hospital. She was found to be suffering from tubercular meningitis, from which she died twelve hours after admission.

Philip O'C——, two years old, was admitted October 23d. This was one of eight children; had always been delicate, and three or four weeks previous to admission had been in another Hospital, but was failing so rapidly that it was removed by the mother. At home had suffered from pneumonia, after which a large swelling on the upper part of the thigh had developed. On admission his condition was wretched; he was too weak to walk or even stand, greatly prostrated and emaciated. The abscess was opened and careful attention given to his diet and nutrition. He began to improve in a few days and was discharged at the end of a month in splendid condition, walking and running about freely, having gained four pounds in weight during his stay with us.

As an illustration of how the good-nature of the officers of the Hospital is often imposed upon by other institutions, the case of Julia C—— may be cited.

A telephone message was received one evening a few months ago from a down town hospital, saying that they had had an infant for several weeks, but that she was not sick, in fact was now improving, and as they were crowded for room they would be very glad to place the child with us. The baby was brought at night in an ambulance, and when the numerous blankets in which it was enveloped were removed a perfect skeleton of a baby was revealed. She was seven months old and weighed seven pounds. A photograph was taken for preservation among the archives of the Hospital.

Everything possible was done for this infant, and even the private nursery for a week was given up to her, and although she made a slight improvement for the first few days, after that she went steadily down and died of tuberculosis three weeks after she was admitted.

The tiniest baby ever received at the Hospital was a wee baby of two pounds, twelve ounces, who was admitted when nine weeks old. This child was put in the Model Nursery and kept there with the entire care of one nurse, night and day, and improved at first so that we had strong hopes of saving it, but its vitality was found to be very feeble, and gradually it became dropsical, owing to the watery condition of the blood, and it died after about five weeks, all our efforts proving unavailing.

No more striking benefit was seen in any child during the year than in the case of George E——, ten months old, admitted November 6th.

In consequence of improper feeding the child had developed scurvy, which had not been recognized by the physicians who had charge of the case outside. The condition had gone on until both legs were greatly swollen, and exceedingly tender so that the slightest movement caused the child to scream. A false point of motion was detected at the lower part of the left leg, and it was first thought that the leg might have been broken, but it was afterward determined that this was simply the separation of the bone, owing to the disease. The child was extremely anæmic, the coloring matter in the blood being reduced to 42 per cent of the normal. It was emaciated, waxy in appearance, and fretted constantly day and night.

Under the influence of careful food and orange juice, and without a dose of medicine, improvement began in two or three days, and at the end of a week it was very marked. The child was discharged at the end of the month, well. It had improved very greatly in its general appearance and in the composition of the blood, the pain and soreness had entirely disappeared, and it was kicking its legs about freely like any other healthy baby.

Those who attended the annual reception of the Hospital on January 4th must have been struck by a fat, rosy-cheeked, jolly boy of two years in the Arnold Ward. He was brought back that day by his mother to make us a New Year call.

His history is interesting as answering the question so often asked, "What becomes of the children after they leave the Hospital?" He was admitted in October, 1898, suffering from extreme malnutrition, eczema and broncho-pneumonia. He slowly improved until January 6th, when, as he was nearly ready to be discharged, he contracted measles, and had to be transferred to the Riverside Hospital. On his return, February 5th, his condition was wretched. He was emaciated in the extreme; then eighteen months old, he weighed only ten pounds, and the outlook seemed almost hopeless. However, under the Hospital regime and careful feeding he slowly improved, and at the end of two months he had gained three pounds in weight, and was sent home.

During the past summer he was returned with an acute intestinal attack which continued the greater part of the summer. At the time of his New Year call, January 4th, his weight was twenty-six pounds, and a more magnificent child in every respect could not be found in New York City.

DESCRIPTION

OF

NURSERY MAIDS' HOME, OCEANIC.

ERECTED 1899.

The Cribside Committee of the Babies' Hospital, with the hearty co-operation of the Board of Managers and the Board of Directors, decided to build a Nursery Maids' Home at Oceanic, New Jersey, on the Hospital property adjacent to the three other buildings which compose the Summer home of the Institution.

After much preliminary work the drawings of Edward B. Chestresmith were accepted, and on October 25th, 1898, the estimate of $4,984 was awarded.

Ground was broken, work was begun immediately thereafter, and the building was completed and ready for occupancy by the first of June, 1899.

The style of the building is Colonial, has an attractive exterior, combined with beauty of proportion and utility inside.

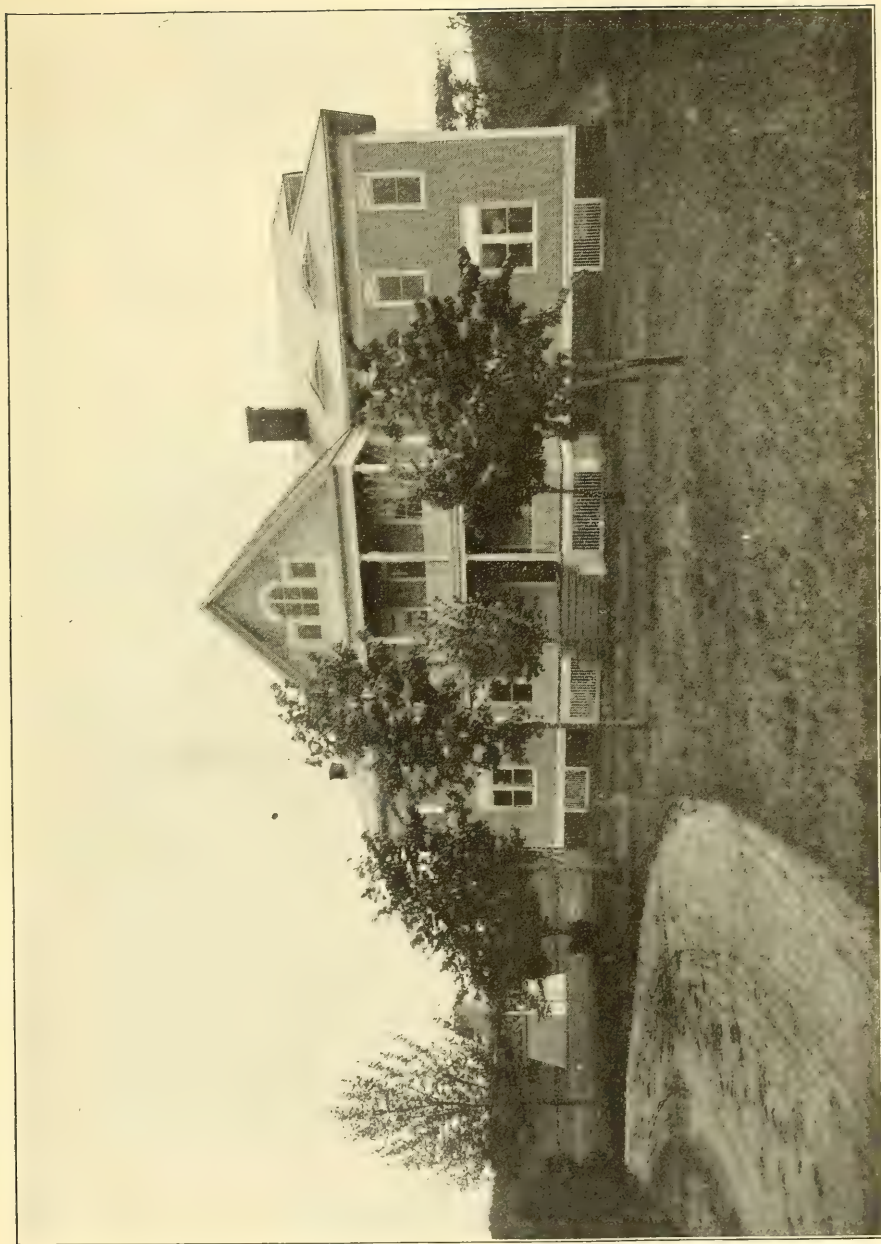

The first story contains an entrance hall leading into a large central hall out of which a broad stairway goes up to the second story. On the right are the bedrooms of the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent. Opposite the front door is the parlor or meeting-room. On the left is a large general bath-room, a servants' toilet-room, laundry fitted with tubs, drying apparatus, stove, closets, etc.

The second story contains seventeen bed-rooms, in each of which is a stationary wardrobe, and the third story or attic is used for a store-room.

The broad piazzas on both front and back make a cool and delightful place where the babies may be well protected from the hot Summer sun, and benefitted by every cool breeze.

The Home relieves a long felt need, and through the generous donation of $500 from Mrs. William Moir, the Committee was enabled to furnish the building in suitable style and thus make the gift complete.

The rooms which were fitted up for private patients have proved very useful, having been occupied most of the Summer.

NURSERY MAIDS' HOME, OCEANIC, N. J.
Erected 1899, under the auspices of Cribside Committee.

The added expense of maintaining and running this new building compels us to appeal to our many friends and to hope that their generosity may still continue so that our ever-increasing work may not be curtailed for lack of funds.

It may be interesting to some to know the cost of this building:

Original Contract,	$4,984.00
Extras,	461.00
Architect's fee,	305.25
<hr/>
Total,	$5,750.25

EXTRACT FROM MINUTES OF MEETING.

NEW YORK, October 8th, 1900.

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE BABIES' HOSPITAL.

GENTLEMEN :

In accordance with Section 5, Article III, of By-laws, your Committee has the honor of submitting herewith, for your approval, the Twelfth Annual Report of our Institution, comprising a record of all events and facts of interest, principally from October 1st, 1899, to September 30th, 1900, and would respectfully request that a resolution be adopted, authorizing publication of same.

(Signed)	B. OGDEN CHISOLM,	} Collection Committee.
(Signed)	THOMAS E. SATTERTHWAITE,
(Signed)	MARY M. CALVERT,

On motion, duly seconded, the Report of the Collection Committee was accepted, and the Twelfth Annual Report, as presented, ordered printed.

(Signed) B. OGDEN CHISOLM,
Secretary.

STATEMENT OF FACTS.

First.—The Hospital's Income is largely dependent upon public charity and therefore needs, besides its occasional contributors, regular subscribers. It aims to increase these year by year. Will you lend your aid ?

Second.—The increased number of Supported Beds this year is a welcome feature in our Report, and persons are respectfully asked to consider this form of contribution.

Third.—Not until we secure our new building will the very best results be seen in the practical Hospital work.

Will not some one present a memorial gift or building to partly fill this need ? The estimated cost of the structure is $100,000 and we aim to secure $50,000 additional as an Endowment Fund.

Fourth.—A continuance of the generous gifts of miscellaneous articles, all of which find ready use, is earnestly requested.

All remittances by check should be drawn to the order of "The Babies' Hospital" and will be promptly and gratefully acknowledged.

If for current use, send to MRS. JOHN B. CALVERT, 15 East 57th Street.

If for permanent use, send to HENRY R. KUNHARDT, 32 Beaver Street.

If for Building Fund, send to FELIX M. WARBURG, 27 Pine Street.

N. B.—The use of the "Remittance Blank" by subscribers found in Report, will greatly facilitate the officers in applying money gifts to the purposes for which they are intended, and therefore attention is called to this.

No collectors are employed for soliciting funds for any purpose whatsoever. Our friends will please bear this in mind.

There is no mortgage indebtedness of any kind upon the Hospital's property, a feature for favorable consideration when becoming a regular subscriber, as each gift goes directly for the pledged purpose of the Institution and not towards the payment of interest on mortgages.

NOTE.—This report is a record of all events occurring, names of officers and others serving during the past year. As elections do not take place until about January 1st, changes, if any, in names presented here will be recorded in next year's Report, issued about October 15th, 1901.

THE BABIES' HOSPITAL

ITS ORIGIN, DEVELOPMENT, WORK AND PRESENT NEEDS

(Written by L. EMMETT HOLT, M. D., and printed in CRIBSIDE PAPER April 1900.)

ORIGIN.

The Babies' Hospital had its beginning in 1887, as a ward in one of the larger hospitals; but this proving impracticable for further development it was organized as a separate institution the following year with a Board of Directors and Lady Managers. It was felt to be needed because of 10,000 hospital beds in New York City at that time only 27 were devoted to children under one year, and not a single institution existed for that work alone.

The need for more careful study of diseases of infancy was shown by the fact that 26% of the total death rate of New York occurs in children under one year, and 34% of the total, in children under two years, and that practically nothing was being done by the hospitals either to care for those acutely sick, or to solve this problem of high infant mortality. It felt that many problems existed that could only be worked out in a hospital especially devoted to infants.

FINANCIAL HISTORY.

A single brown-stone corner house at 55th Street and Lexington Avenue was purchased in 1888, leaving a large mortgage upon the property. This mortgage was paid off in 1894 by a gift from "A Friend of the Hospital" of $17,000 and $10,000 from Mrs. Evan T. Walker, and the same year the adjoining house was purchased through the gifts of Mrs. M. C. D. Borden, $10,000, and others donating smaller sums.

In 1892 a country branch for the summer work was built at Oceanic, N. J., the building being given by Dr. A. B. Thaw. Since then three other cottages have been added. This gives us excellent facilities for this part of the work, and all that will be needed for many years to come.

Since its organization the Hospital has paid its running expenses, and now owns free from debt two brown-stone houses on the N. E. corner of Lexington Avenue and 55th Street, each 20 x 80 ft., together with three and a half acres of land at Oceanic upon which stand the four cottages mentioned. A small beginning has been made toward an endowment fund, this having now reached about $17,000.* The development and growth have been slow but steady; the policy which has guided the officers having been not to move faster than funds could be provided, so that the institution has not and never has had a floating debt.

CHARACTER OF THE PATIENTS TREATED.

These are from the poorest tenements of the city, being sent in by physicians, city missionaries, day nurseries, district nurses, and many are referred by other institutions. The following facts regarding 210 cases taken successively give a fair idea of the condition of the people to whom the Hospital ministers: Of these the father was dead in 37, was out of work in 45, had deserted his family in 32, was sick, in prison or did not support his family in 19 others; in 14 the mother was dead, in 18 the mother was in a hospital, sick at home or in an insane asylum. This is a fair sample of what are the usual conditions. At the present time there is hardly a child in the Hospital who has not lost either one or both parents. The friends at home can frequently care for a well child in such an emergency, but rarely can any adequate attention be given to one who is acutely ill.

CAPACITY AND SCOPE.

At the present time the Hospital has 35 beds in the city and 50 at the country branch. The applications are greatly in excess of our ability to receive them. The city branch is kept open actively for eight months; the country branch for four months. During the summer one ward in the city hospital is open to receive children who are transferred every other day to the country by boat, the sick ones being carried down, the well ones returned.

In addition there is an out-patient department to which last year nearly 5,000 visits were made. The institution is not a home, but receives sick children under three years, and these are admitted when vacancies exist, without distinction, no matter how hopeless their condition, except that no contagious diseases are received. Since it was opened 3,899 infants have been treated.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSERY MAIDS.

In 1890 there was organized in connection with the Hospital the first Training School for Nursery Maids in this country. The purpose of this has been to train nurses to take care of well children in the home. Thus far 167 have been graduated from the School, and there are now at least twenty times as many applications as we can fill. Nurses are engaged four or five months before they have finished their term. The effect of this has been to bring a much more competent class into the work of caring for infants at home and to furnish a means of earning an excellent living to a large number of intelligent young women.

* Since the writing of this article, $71,000 additional has been added, of which $50,000 from one donor is conditional on the entire amount required for a Building and Endowment Fund, ($200,000), being raised by June 1st, 1901.

SUPPORT OF THE HOSPITAL.

At the present time about one quarter of the current expenses are provided for from city funds. We are receiving 38 cents a day for such cases as are passed upon by the Department of Charities; the balance is made up by annual subscriptions, small donations and a few supported beds. * * * * *

The Babies' Hospital is the only institution on Manhattan Island which is devoted exclusively to the care of sick infants. It has earned the commendation not only of the general public but of all the charitable organizations in the city, and particularly of the city department of the Public Charities. The example of its organization has been imitated in Brooklyn, Newark, Montreal and San Francisco where already institutions modeled after it have been established and are in successful operation. * * *

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS.

The Directors of the Babies' Hospital wish continually to emphasize the fact that this institution occupies a unique position among the many hospitals of this city, in that it is the only one in Manhattan for the treatment of babies exclusively.

While a dispensary that furnishes advice and medicine to the babies of the ignorant poor fills a great want, a babies' hospital, where such babies can be taken in for a few weeks and started under new and proper care with skilled treatment, fills a far greater want.

Education, the Great Factor.

Equally important is the education of the mothers in the simple rudiments of child-care and hygiene, both of which can be carried on at the same time.

This work of saving sick children in our great cities is one which has aroused the serious consideration of the medical profession throughout the world. In France at the present time the government has taken up this subject and is making a careful examination to ascertain what steps can be taken to prevent the high mortality.

Looked at from a scientific standpoint the subject is one embracing many lessons in political economy. The Directors feel that they are helping this great philanthropic work. But they still are conscious of the fact that we as a community are not making the progress commensurate with the age in the direction of saving, or even helping to save, the lives of the sick infants in this city. They earnestly wish that better results might be seen in the direction of lowering the death rate for babies under one year, for the loss in the city at that age is still appalling.

When Death Rate Increases.

If we were to go more closely into this matter we would certainly find the death rate greater as the ages of babies decrease below twelve months. It is these little fragments of humanity that die off every year in the crowded districts of our large cities, and frequently with no one to help or advise, no ready medical assistance, except from a private doctor who must be paid for his services. Ignorance, prejudice and poverty play a large part in these causes.

We, therefore, need some agency to help remove these causes and start the young growth of humanity towards a healthier and happier life. Mortality statistics tell the story in part, but should never be considered for a moment in the reception of needy cases ; otherwise, the true usefulness of the hospital will be subverted.

Out-Patient Department.

The work of the out-patient department for the last year has been satisfactory, having given temporary relief and advice to 4,754 applicants. Of this number 1,677 were free patients, and the balance, 3,077 or 64 per cent., paid something for the treatment or the medicine they received. All free cases were treated with discrimination as to the ability of the applicants to pay, and the Directors are satisfied that Doctors Kerley and Southworth have both endeavored to regulate these matters to the best of their ability.

There is no question in the minds of the Directors that the free treatment of patients in metropolitan dispensaries generally is greatly abused, but there is little or none of it in this institution. We approve most heartily of every effort which will prevent abuse of this free treatment in dispensaries as a class without detracting from other beneficent results.

Proposed New Building.

And now a word as to the need of a new building for the purposes to which this institution is pledged. The Directors feel that the time has arrived for them to seriously consider this subject, and the earnestness of their intentions has at least taken definite form in the shape of their recent resolutions to raise a building fund, which is now about $27,000.

With a new and larger building to operate and maintain, conservative management naturally expects additional expense, and to provide for this contingency it has been voted not to undertake the project until $150,000 is raised, a portion of the same to become an independent endowment fund.

Appeal for Funds.

We wish, however, to state emphatically our great need in this direction, and hope that contributions will soon be received in sums sufficient to complete the amount required. The conservative policy which has always prevailed in the management of hospital finances makes the Directors unwilling to go ahead until they have the means in hand, and no faster than their resources will permit.

They, therefore, make a most earnest appeal in this direction. Will not some one come forward and specify a gift to be used as a pavilion, a wing, or a ward in our proposed new building? One gift often brings another or is the means of bringing it, and as the friends of this hospital have always shown their practical interest, we hope and feel that soon the prospect of a new building will be an assured fact.

Constant Repairs on Old Buildings.

A matter which it might be well to emphasize at this point would be in relation to the large amount of money which we are required to spend annually upon our old buildings, and upon investigation it has been found that the sum of $13,329.65 has been used during the past ten years, or $1,333.00 per year on an average. This sum would pay the interest on quite a large investment. Besides this, old buildings which continually need repairs cannot be kept in the best sanitary condition for hospital work.

The income of the past year has been derived from several sources, primarily from subscriptions $12,022.73, as against $8,105.59 last year. This being an increase over last year, we are gratified to find that our friends are not lacking in their interest and appreciation of our work.

Death of James A. Garland.

Death has taken from us a valuable friend in the person of James A. Garland, who died at Hamilton, Mass., in the 62d year of his age, on July 26, 1900.

Mr. Garland at the time of his death was one of our Honorary Directors and for many years was a director in our Board. While unable of late years to engage in the active work of the Hospital, he was always an interested friend and counsellor to whose forethought and help much of the early success and progress of this institution are due.

Summer Committee's Work.

The Summer Committee, who direct the operations of the Hospital during the months of June, July, August and September, are entitled to much credit for their efforts in the management of affairs at Oceanic, N. J. Mrs. W. S. P. Prentice has ably filled the position of Chairman during the past season, and as the success of the summer branch in no small way depends upon the activity and interest shown by the Summer Committee and its officers, thanks are due to them. In the same excellent manner also Mrs. R. B. Kimball as Assistant Treasurer and Mrs. Walter F. Chappell as Secretary, have been faithful and efficient in their respective positions—discharging all the various duties cheerfully and administering the financial department in a thoroughly competent and economical manner.

Usefulness of Summer Branch.

The Directors are always conscious of a feeling of satisfaction when the summer work begins. Many a case that will not yield to treatment in the City Hospital at springtime, improves rapidly at Oceanic, where surroundings are so totally different.

It may be said without fear of exaggeration that the medical results are four-fold more satisfactory there than they could be in the city for the class of cases making up the bulk of the summer patients. Our close acquaintance with the babies that come to us in the summer time makes us wonder that, with distressing diseases and disorders, they could have existed at all in the tenements which are their homes, where proper food, comfort and quiet in sickness are impossible.

Training School for Nursery Maids.

A word may here be said about the Training School for Nursery Maids, in reference to which a report will be found on page 43. This is truly a double-sided philanthropic work—to train young women for an honorable calling in life, and in so doing to have them help in bringing back to life the helpless babies of the tenements that find their way to our Hospital is certainly helping both to help themselves.

We only wish that other branches of work, similar to these, could be established in different parts of our great city for the real good that might be accomplished.

Work of Cribside Committee.

Before closing their report the Directors wish to emphasize the valuable services which are continually rendered to this Institution by the Cribside Committee, made up of a number of young women who are deeply in earnest in their work of helping the Hospital. During the year previous to this they erected the Nursery Maids' Home, and this is but one of their many great services. During the past year they have assisted in raising the funds for the entertainment held in March, 1900, besides contributing many useful garments for the use of the babies.

Condition of Treasury.

The Directors feel that the satisfactory condition of the treasury requires certain acknowledgment. It has been aided to a great extent by the increase in the number of newly supported beds. Last year we had seven at $250 each, and through the efforts of our friends this has been increased to twelve. Mrs. Lawrence Williams is supporting two, besides which she has donated $300 for current expenses. There are, also, several new Life Members.

Mrs. Robert MacCartee through Dr. Arthur L. Fisk has given $500 for the purchase of surgical instruments, which are frequently needed, and they are expensive to obtain. This is a most welcome gift.

Miscellaneous Gifts.

Among the many miscellaneous articles received through the year none were better suited to the Hospital needs than those sent by Mrs. G. W. Pack, consisting of some fifty articles and utensils for household use. They filled many a want in the practical work of the Hospital's kitchen.

Conclusion.

In conclusion, the Directors desire to express their gratitude to the many persons connected with carrying on the work of the Babies' Hospital, and feel they have shown a sincere interest as manifested by the many gifts received.

The Women's Board and its officers have given close and earnest attention to every interest pertaining to the inside work of the Institution, and to them is due, to a very large extent, both the past and present satisfactory condition of the Hospital's affairs. The work in the various departments has been done in a manner highly gratifying, with an evidence of untiring energy and a hearty co-operation on the part of the Medical Board, of Miss Wheeler, the Superintendent, and her Assistants, for which the Directors feel greatly thankful.

MAIN HOSPITAL, OCEANIC, N. J.

The Gift of Dr. and Mrs. A. Blair Thaw, in memory of their two children.

REPORT OF THE SUMMER COMMITTEE.

The work this Summer has been most satisfactory, as the intense heat made great demand upon the Hospital. No baby has been refused, however hopeless its condition when brought to us; in fact many of the little ones did not live to reach Oceanic.

As a consequence our death list is somewhat larger than last year.

We have had a very efficient Summer Board, all working in an interested and harmonious way for the babies committed to its charge.

Through the kindness of Mrs. H. L. Terrell, at whose house a Subscription Dance was given on July 27th, we were able to raise $1,220.50. This has been a great benefit to the Hospital's Treasury.

The Committee dissolved at the end of September, when the inmates of the Hospital moved to New York. I am sure that not one of the Committee will forget that the work goes on just the same during the Winter, and I hope their interest having once been aroused in behalf of the suffering little ones, each member of the Board will continue to do what she can for them.

ELLA SHELDON PRENTICE,

Chairman.

MEDICAL REPORT.

The medical report for the last year is a gratifying record of progress in every department of the Institution. While the number of patients in the Hospital proper has not materially increased, merely from lack of room, the Dispensary work has made enormous strides, and Drs. Kerley and Southworth report 1,000 new patients. This is really the most valuable department of our Hospital work because it is able to furnish relief to so many more patients, and, in addition, it affords great facilities for the education of the mothers in regard to hygiene and feeding of children.

The admirable situation of our Hospital at the threshold of the teeming Eastside tenement district, will always be a source of unfailing material and also an opportunity for accomplishing most beneficent work among our poorer neighbors. As a matter of fact, we have always been crowded in our present quarters, even from the very first, and we need a much larger building equipped with every modern convenience, where the actual wards should all be up in the sunlight above the level of the surrounding buildings, and the whole of the upper floor should be used as a solarium. As we go to press I am happy to say that our hopes of obtaining such a building are very bright. Almost three-fourths of the necessary amount has already been subscribed by generous friends. The specific gifts will be printed elsewhere.

A pleasing feature of this year's work is the grateful appreciation shown by the friends and parents of the children under our care. This has been much more noticeable than usual and it adds very materially to our pleasure in serving them.

I am happy to say that the laboratory, so long supported by Dr. Herter, is to remain a feature. Provision has been made by the Board of Directors for supporting it from the general funds. The work done in the laboratory is of a very high order, and is a wonderful help to us in diagnosis. It is a matter of regret that we have not one similar at Oceanic. Perhaps in the near future we may find a friend who will supply even this deficiency.

It is noticeable that we have treated many more serious cases this year than usual, and, in consequence, our death rate has been higher than in any preceding year. This year the deaths foot up to 145 as against 114 in 1899. I am sorry to learn that this has been the occasion for some unfavorable comment, but am very sure that this increase is really more apparent than real. I mean by this that we are comparing only with our own work in former years, and this is due to the fact that we have received absolutely every child who has come to us, without any regard to its condition. Our death rate compares most favorably with that of any institution in this city or country, and in Berlin, which is one of the greatest centers of medical learning in the world, the mortality in the Charity Hospital last summer varied from 59% to 92%. There are institutions in this city where patients are not allowed to die on the premises, if it can be avoided. To accomplish this requires a great deal of chicanery. The cases are first culled with the greatest possible care, and if then they do not thrive they are promptly sent to other institutions. An excellent example of this has recently come under our notice. Of the 18 patients first received in the Hospital upon our return to the city this autumn 16 came from other hospitals. If we expect to do good, honest work among the poor, we must accept all cases, and do the very best we can. I am positive myself that the result for the year has been relatively much better than ever before.

The question is so often put to me by persons, whose sensibilities are shocked by the pitiful appearance of so many of our patients: "Does it pay?" "Is it worth so much trouble and expense to save so few of these little sufferers?" The chances for saving babies with marasmus are so poor, and even if they survive babyhood, will they have strength to fight the battle of life?

It seems to me there is but one answer to these questions. We cannot select the promising ones and leave the others to their fate. No mortal can positively predict whether the issue in any case will be life or death. Twice in my experience I have seen children apparently dead brought back to life. (In one case the sheet had been drawn over the baby's face preparatory to removal to the morgue.) It is not pleasant, of course, to have a dozen babies sent to us, as happened last summer, who died within 24 hours, but our reward may possibly be to save the thirteenth. If we have a high mortality rate, it is certainly to our credit that we take far greater chances. Our usefulness can not be gauged by our death rate.

The past summer has been much warmer than usual, and during the early months there was a long continued drought. The death rate in all of our cities was appalling. In addition to this, during the past few years several institutions similar to ours have come into existence nearer New York, and whereas, we were for years the only institution of this kind, now there are several more accessible to the city, and these naturally get more cases on that account. We are now doing better than ever. If we obtain our new hospital in the city, we can hope for great improvement.

Our summer branch at Oceanic, is the finest of its kind anywhere. Its equipment is complete, and its officers, who of course, are the same we have in town, have all had many years of the most active experience. I can think of nothing that we need, except, as I said before, a new laboratory, and a continuance of the kindly interest of our friends.

The Committee numbered thirty-two active and twenty-seven honorary and associate members. The balance in the Treasury, deposited in the Fifth Avenue Trust Co., amounted to $36.23. Final reports of the gift, by the Committee, of a Nursery Maids' Home, in connection with the Summer Branch at Oceanic, N. J., were read, and the members of the Committee heard with pleasure of the practical use it had been to the Hospital during the Summer. They learned then that Mr. Oliver G. Jennings had himself generously paid $95 to cover certain extras necessary to finish the Home, which were not included in the specifications. The Committee, wishing to make this gift complete, decided to repay the $95. to Mr. Jennings as soon as funds in the Treasury should permit, and gave him a unanimous vote of thanks for the trouble he had taken in the work of building the Home.

The Committee decided that, as there was no pressing need for them to raise money on their own account, they should assist the Managers of the Hospital in an entertainment to be given for its benefit. This entertainment, which consisted of impersonations by Miss Beatrice Herford and music, was held at Sherry's on the afternoon of March sixteenth. The Committee turned in as their share $375. This included, besides the tickets sold by members, a generous gift of $200. from Mrs. Benjamin Brewster, but it did not include a large number of tickets sold by those members of the Committee who are also Managers of the Hospital. The proceeds of the entertainment were $2,135.

The Thursday Afternoon Sewing Class held its six meetings as usual during Lent, and was most successful. Each member of the class had the privilege of inviting guests, and the class numbered seventy-three members. Over three hundred garments were made and given to the Hospital. The donations and dues amounted to $91. and the cost of materials was $74. leaving a balance of $17. Friends of the Committee loaned their houses for the meetings, and each time some entertainment was provided.

At the May meeting of the Committee—the last before the Summer vacation—the balance in the treasury was $85.27 and the number of active members was forty-one (twelve new members having come in, and three having resigned). Then the Cribside Committee closed a year in which no great enterprise had been undertaken, but during which they had tried as far as possible, to help The Babies' Hospital in the splendid work it is doing among the children of New York City.

ROBBINS WARD IN HOSPITAL, OCEANIC, N. J.

OF

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSERY MAIDS.

(FOUNDED IN 1890 BY MRS. ROBERT W. CHAPIN.)

Our Training School has just completed its first decade, and a most successful one, we should judge, from the growing demand for its nurses, not only for places in private families, but for positions in day nurseries, children's homes and assistants in babies' wards of hospitals. The increased number of applicants for admission to our school enables us each year to make a more careful selection of candidates, thus raising our standard. This year from our overflow we have been able to send many young women to sister schools which are younger and not as well known as ours. In fact we have, from our surplus, formed the entire new class of a school just starting in another city. This year we have twenty-three graduates against twenty-four of last year. This is due partly to the fact that a nurses' room had to be given up for other purposes, consequently we cannot receive as many nurses as formerly; also that there were more pupils obliged to drop out this year than usual. Out of 167 applicants, twenty-nine were selected as desirable candidates. Of this number one was obliged to leave after two months, as she showed signs of incipient tuberculosis; another was called home on account of sickness in her family; the remaining four after one month's probation, were considered not up to our standard and asked to retire, so instead of graduating 29 only 23 finished the course.

In the past five years we have known of several schools patterned after ours. This year we hear of two more: one at Oakland, Cal., the other at Albany, N. Y. The latter is to be under the supervision of Emelyn Lincoln Coolidge, our former Assistant Superintendent, which assures, to a great extent, the success of the undertaking.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25, 1900. We have examined all the accounts, books, vouchers, etc., of The Babies' Hospital and have found them correct.

O. G. JENNINGS, } Auditing
F. M. WARBURG, } Committee.

CASH CONTRIBUTIONS FROM ALL SOURCES

FROM OCTOBER 1, 1899, TO SEPTEMBER 30, 1900.

Owing to the fact that there have been and still are many persons who contribute annually, and are termed "Annual Subscribers," it has been thought best to continue this arrangement. The Committee respectfully desires, however, to disclaim any suggestion on its part or on the part of the Treasurer of implied continuity of any subscription received, however desirable, because of this classification. It is part of the system of collecting, and implies nothing obligatory on the part of a subscriber but merely separates one class of names from another.

It might be well, however, to express the hope that many more persons would subscribe two or more years consecutively and thus be included in this class.

The second class, termed "Donations," is made up of persons either new in name, or who have not contributed for the specified two or more consecutive years. This class is none the less valuable, as each year it helps to supply names to the annual list.

In sending the regular reminder notices to the friends of the Hospital each year, the Committee would ask that these be looked upon as merely "Reminders" and being part of the business of collecting. It would surprise some of our more regular subscribers if they could realize how many contributors there are who would not lend their support unless so reminded.

All contributions are received with grateful acknowledgment and no hint or suggestion to give again unless so inclined.

The Committee feels that the character of the work undertaken by this Hospital, is of sufficient interest to all charitably disposed persons to warrant its ample support by its many friends and others who may become acquainted with its far-reaching charitable results.

HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION OF THE SUMMER BRANCH AT OCEANIC, N. J.

The great need of some suitable situation to carry on the work of the Hospital during the hot months, was the moving spring that started the Summer Branch at Oceanic, N. J.

The necessity appealed as much to the residents in that neighborhood as it did to the active workers, for hardly had the suggestion been made when offers of money and assistance were at hand. Three acres of land were purchased in 1891, at a cost of about $1,200, and donated to the Hospital by W. E. Connor and others, following which Mrs. Edward D. Adams laid out the grounds at her own expense.

In 1892, Dr. and Mrs. A. Blair Thaw were the first to break ground for a building. This is the Main Hospital, erected at a cost of about $10,000, in memory of their two daughters, Ruth and Margaret.

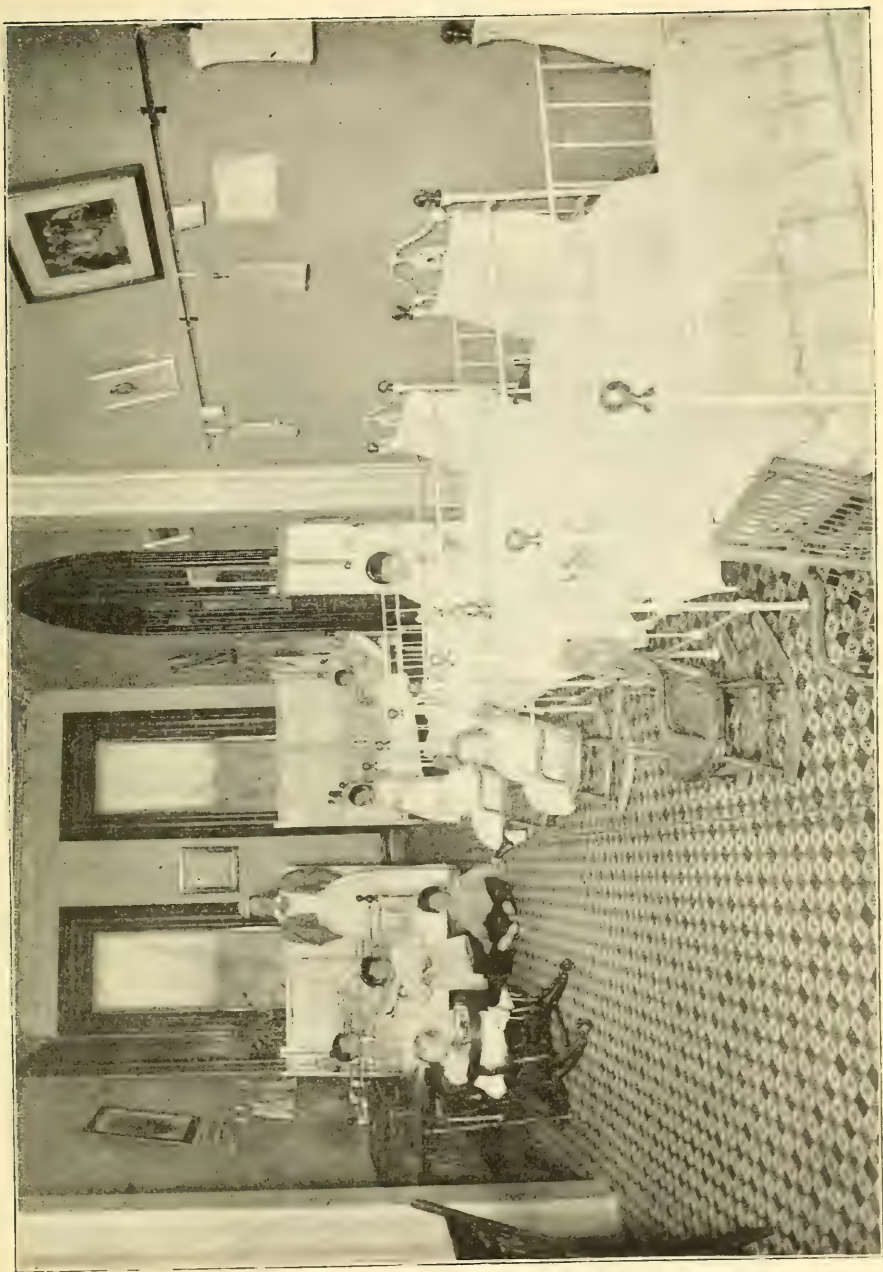

It is a roomy, well-built, well-planned structure, filling in every sense the requirements.

Following this and next in necessity was a Reception Cottage, small but sufficient in size, to receive all new patients of doubtful health.

The cost of this building was about $1,000, donated, in equal shares, by George Kemp and Wm. F. Havemeyer in 1892.

Through the generous gift of Mrs. Jos. T. Low and Mrs. John Hone, it was suitably furnished and became a valuable feature and addition to the work at Oceanic. By this time the results of the Summer experiment began to prove most satisfactory, and, with the Main Hospital accommodations full to their utmost capacity, no small amount of satisfaction was experienced when in 1893 it was learned of the intention of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooker Hamersley to erect a cottage in memory of their daughter Rita.

In due time this building was completed and opened for patients, at a cost of about $3,500. Like the Main Hospital, it is roomy and well-planned, with plenty of piazza space, a feature not always thought of in structures of this kind. The donors have done their full share, not only in the shape of generous donations each year towards its maintenance, but have made repairs when needed and kept the building in most excellent condition.

NICHOLAS GWYNN WARD, CITY HOSPITAL.

In 1896, the late Mrs. Wm. F. Havemeyer constructed, at her own expense, a suitable Diet Kitchen on one end of the Main Hospital. This was a much-needed gift, and in its use during the four years past has proved itself a most desirable feature.

This generous gift is only one of the many expressions of sympathy and kindness displayed by our friends.

In 1898, the Cribside Committee began an earnest endeavor to raise $5,000 for a Nursery Maids' Home. Eventually this Committee was successful, and a most suitable structure was completed and opened for use in June, 1899, at a cost of $5,750.

The furnishings, to a large extent, were the generous donation of Mrs. Wm. Moir.

This building has proved itself to be a most valuable one and affords ample space for the nurses. It is particularly valuable, because the rooms formerly occupied by them, in other buildings, are now given over to the babies under treatment.

The great need of a suitable water supply was remedied in the Summer of 1899, when a fund of about $800 was raised among the Summer residents for the construction of a water tower, with tank and windmill. W. E. Strong, at his own expense, had an artesian well drilled, so that the supply for all purposes is now beyond question.

To all these persons who have so generously donated, and to others who have interested themselves in the work of the Hospital, the management is most sincere in its gratitude. Little more than this can be said except that we are all working for one and the same purpose—the saving of human lives.

MRS. JOHN HONE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5, 1900.

"CRIBSIDE PAPER,"

"The Organ and Chronicle of The Babies' Hospital of the City of New York, 657 and 659 Lexington Ave."

This little organ is intended to furnish to its subscribers news and bits of information touching upon this and other babies' hospitals, as well as items of mutual interest. It is issued every two months, and the subscription price is one dollar ($1.00) per year in advance. The Editorial Committee is very anxious to enlarge its scope and to extend its sphere of influence.

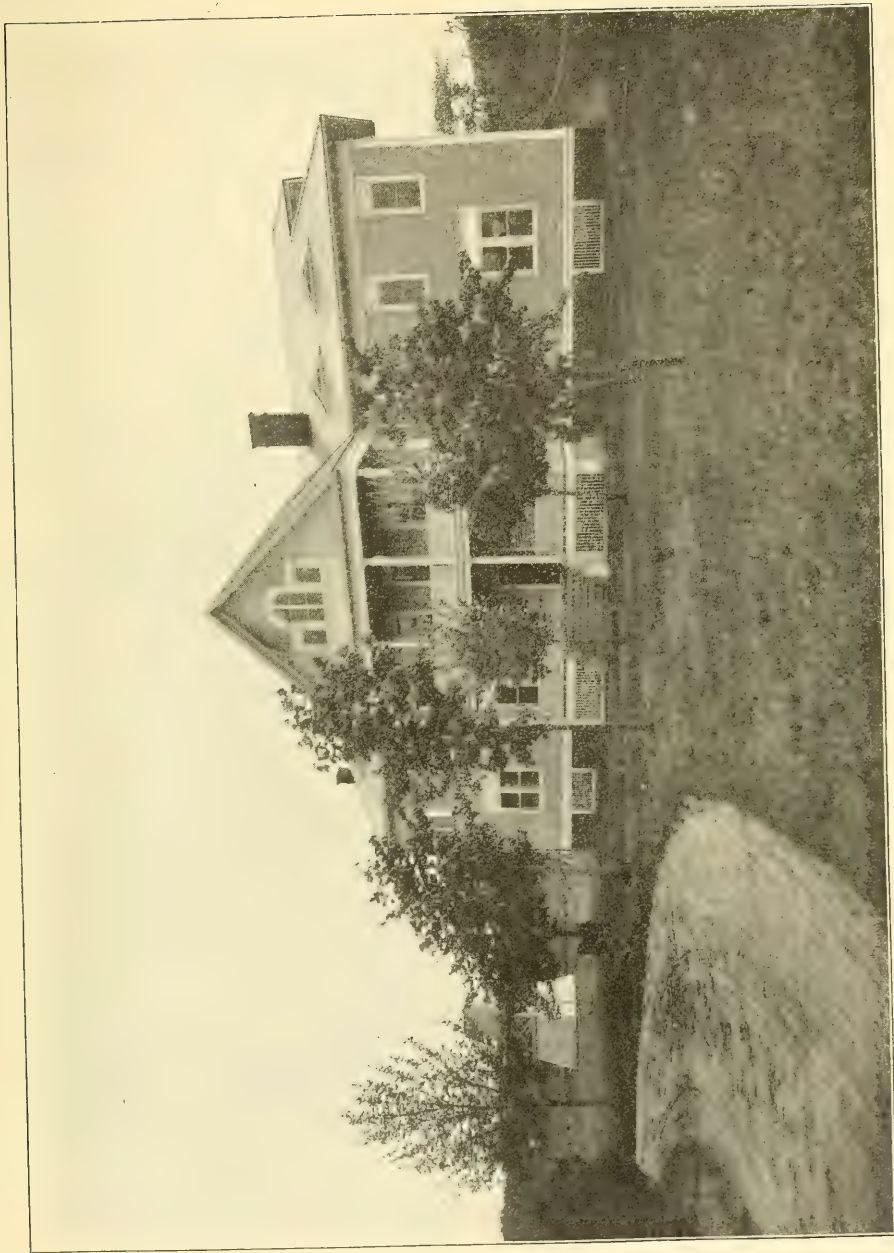

There are several ways by which this can be accomplished.

If every one of our 500 or more contributors this year would subscribe, the number of homes into which the Cribside would enter would be greatly increased. Business firms who have knowledge of, and interest in, the Hospital, would assist the work materially by authorizing a small advertisement to be inserted throughout the year. The expense of this would not be great, and the returns might more than pay the cost.

Interesting articles, either long or short, suitable stories and experiences, more especially adapted to babies and the objects to which the Cribside is pledged, are earnestly solicited, will be gratefully received, and published, as soon as the limits of the paper will permit.

Address all communications for insertion, and those relating to business management, to Mrs. W. K. Draper, Chairman Editorial Committee, 116 East 38th Street.

Subscriptions should be sent to Mrs. Knight D. Cheney, Jr., 640 Madison Ave., or Miss Maude H. Curtiss, 24 West 49th St., payable to "The Babies' Hospital."

NURSERY MAIDS' HOME, OCEANIC, N. J.
Erected 1899, under the auspices of Grubside Committee.

THE "CHILDREN'S CHARITY."

This is a Society formed for the purpose of interesting children in the practical work of the Hospital. The method of securing this co-operation is attained: First—by inviting any children to join the Society and pay the yearly dues of $1.00 each; Second—by asking the members to interest themselves in any practical work or unselfish way for the benefit of the babies. This can be done in more ways than one. Some little self-denial or the saving of pennies, remembering the babies at Christmas time, etc., etc.

The proceeds from yearly dues, now about $100, are turned over to the Treasurer and disbursed for the actual needs of the babies, being all expended in nursery necessities, for warmth, comfort, etc.

Each child can feel that his or her dollar goes, as it were, directly to help clothe or comfort some less fortunate one.

An invitation is extended to all children, whose parents or friends have the Hospital's interest at heart, to join the "Children's Charity," communicating with Mrs. E. K. Beddall, 335 West 77th Street, for this purpose, to whom also the yearly dues may be sent and by whom they will be acknowledged.

CONTRIBUTION OF MISCELLANEOUS ARTICLES

FROM

PERSON AND SOCIETIES.

There have been received during the 12 months ending October 1st, 1900, a great many articles, consisting of :

Babies' clothing, baby carriages and go-cart, bed clothing, fruit, vegetables and flowers, groceries, household furniture and utensils, magazines and books, medical supplies, nursery articles, phonograph and accessories, sewing machine, shoes, toys, and many other articles too numerous to classify, for which the management desires to return to the donors its heartfelt thanks. Owing to the frequent difficulty encountered by the Clothing Committee, in determining the correct names and addresses on parcels and other gifts, making it difficult to give prompt and proper acknowledgment, it is suggested that the labels forwarded in reports be used, or names, with initials and addresses, be made very distinct.

If persons having suitable and useful gifts for the Hospital find it inconvenient to deliver them, the Management would be pleased to know of it, so that a messenger may be sent for them.

In such cases address B. Ogden Chisolm, Secretary, 66 Beaver Street.

STATEMENT OF FACTS.

First.—The Hospital's Income is largely dependent upon public charity, and therefore it needs, besides its occasional contributors, regular subscribers. It aims to increase these year by year. Will you lend your aid?

In 1900, 251 annual subscriptions,	-	-	-	$4,549.00
In 1901, 336 " " "	-	-	-	5,779.50

Second.—The number of supported beds this year has increased and this is the best evidence that the work of the Hospital is appreciated. Persons are asked to consider this form of contribution.

Third.—When we are able to occupy our new fire-proof building, it is hoped that the best results will then be seen. There are on the 4th, 5th and 6th floors, several large Wards to be furnished, and on the 4th floor, 4 model nurseries. Will not someone come forward and become interested in these?

Fourth.—All our friends are urged to not only continue their interest in our work, but are asked to endeavor to interest others in it.

Remittances by check should be drawn to the order of "The Babies' Hospital."

If for current funds, send to Mrs. John B. Calvert, 15 East 57th Street.

If for permanent fund, send to Henry R. Kunhardt, 32 Beaver Street.

If for building fund, send to Felix M. Warburg, 27 Pine Street.

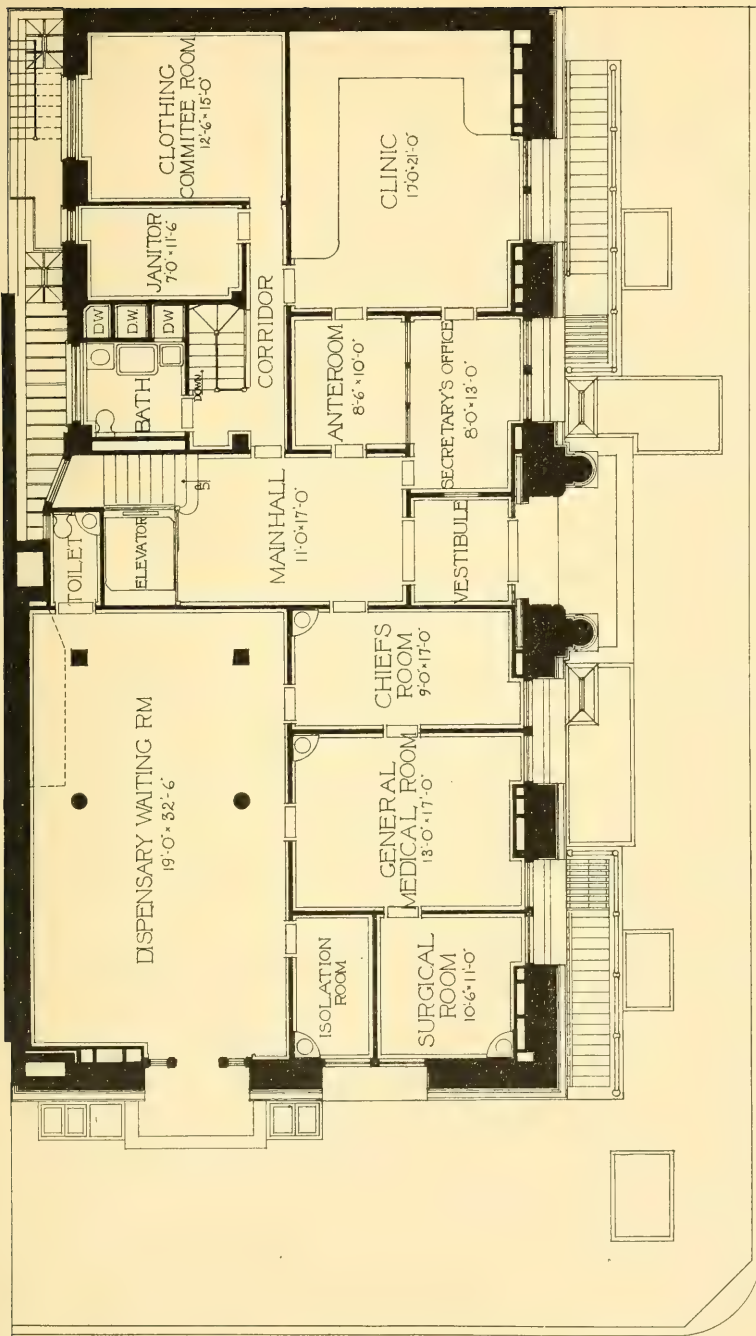

No collectors are employed for soliciting funds for any purpose whatever.

There is no mortgage indebtedness of any kind upon the Hospital's property.

JAMES HOOKER HAMERSLEY.

James Hooker Hamersley, late President of this Hospital, died at Garrisons, New York, on September 15th, 1901. Mr. Hamersley was born in New York on January 26th, 1844, and acquired a reputation of prominence at the New York Bar. He was interested in many New York charities, and this Hospital has lost a true friend and wise counsellor. He was, in every sense of the word, a true Christian gentleman. He was a deep thinking man and a scholar of no mean ability. His sterling qualities were many. In business and in his many charities there was no subject of an uplifting nature too small for his consideration. The Hospital owes much to the wise but progressive policy which at all times he has defined. His name and the high character of his life will always remain with us.

NEW HOSPITAL BUILDING.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

DIRECTORS OF THE BABIES' HOSPITAL OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,

FROM OCTOBER 1, 1900, TO SEPTEMBER 30, 1901.

The year just closed is of exceptional importance in the history of The Babies' Hospital, inasmuch as it marks another important step forward in the progress of the institution.

New Building.

We refer to the fact that work on the new Hospital building, situated on the site of the old one, 55th street and Lexington avenue, was actually commenced, and is now in progress. It is hoped that before the completion of another year we may be occupying the new building. The new structure has been designed and planned by Messrs. York & Sawyer, and when completed will be, it is hoped, a worthy addition to the several new hospital buildings recently erected in this city. It is a satisfaction to be able to state that the greater part of the cost of this undertaking has already been subscribed. Pending completion of the new building, the Hospital will occupy a portion of the Nursery and Childs Hospital, where the different departments will be housed, except the Out-Patient Department, which has been located directly west of Lexington avenue, on the north side of the street.

Old Building.

The old Hospital has gradually become unfit for use, notwithstanding the many repairs which have been made. Under the crowded conditions often found in hospital buildings which have formerly been residences, they are not a

OLD HOSPITAL.

Mothers' and Babies' Hospital.

Some confusion has been caused during this year by a similarity in the name of our institution and that of the Mothers' and Babies' Hospital, a lying-in hospital, formerly situated at 592 Lexington avenue. As we understand the latter has discontinued its work, no further trouble of this nature is looked for.

Summer Committee.

Mrs. Ernest R. Adee, Chairman; Mrs. David M. Morrison, Treasurer, and Mrs. W. F. Chappell, Secretary, have been most diligent in the work of the Summer Committee this year. The real good that is accomplished during the hot months by this committee can hardly be appreciated without closer knowledge and insight into the work during the months when it is in operation. To the officers and members of this committee the officers are duly grateful for the admirable manner in which it has been conducted.

success from a sanitary point of view. The officers have felt this for some time, so that they had not many regrets when leaving the old structure.

Death of James Hooker Hamersley.

On September 15, 1901, our President, James Hooker Hamersley, died very suddenly at Garrisons, New York. Mr. Hamersley had for many years been deeply interested in the affairs of the Hospital, and no efforts were spared on his part where the Hospital's interests were concerned. His management of the internal affairs, and particularly in outlining a conservative policy, was all that could be desired. The officers deeply deplore the loss of Mr. Hamersley, both as an officer and a friend.

Pathological Laboratory.

During the past few years the report of the Pathological Laboratory has not been published, but as interest in these matters is constantly increasing, the officers call attention to the report set forth this year. This laboratory was founded in 1895, by Dr. Christian A. Herter and, until recently, for many years has received his generous support.

Training School for Nursery Maids.

The number of nursery maids graduated through the year is 23, making a total of 190 since the establishment of the School. The officers are much impressed with the importance of this branch of the work. This year a re-arranged list of graduates, with addresses, is presented, and will probably serve to identify nurses who have been connected with our School.

Out-Patient Department.

Although the number of new patients this year is slightly under that of last, the number of visits is greater, and the work of the department has been, as usual, very satisfactory. The physicians are always endeavoring to operate this department so that it will be a benefit to the worthy poor. Whenever applicants can afford to pay, the charge of 10 cents for each prescription is made.

Cribside Committee.

This committee continues to act in sympathy with all the interests of the Hospital's work. Its diligence and the painstaking care of its members in visiting regularly and intelligently at the Hospital and administering to the various wants of the patients, make it of inestimable value. The officers are very grateful for the sympathy thus shown and the practical assistance rendered.

Receipts and Expenditures.

The receipts this year applicable to income, while apparently greater than last year, are really somewhat less. It is thought that the confusion of another hospital of similar name has had something to do with this. Additional support has been given this year through increased number of supported beds, among the names of which will be found Mr. Reinhard Siedenburg, for support of Henrietta Siedenburg bed for four years; Mrs. Roswell Miller, Mrs. Albert Bostwick and Mrs. J. C. Hoagland. The expenses are somewhat greater, but due economy has been exercised in all departments. The receipts applicable to both permanent and building funds have been very satisfactory, but a greater sum is still needed to complete the fund necessary for the new building.

Work in the General Hospital.

The actual work in the general Hospital has been most satisfactory. The number of patients admitted is greatly in excess of that of last year, but the number of hospital days' treatment less, which indicates that each child has remained on an average a shorter time in the Hospital. Owing to the extreme heat and the generous policy of the Hospital in not refusing any case, no matter what its condition, a slight increase in the death rate will be noticed.

Officers and Committees.

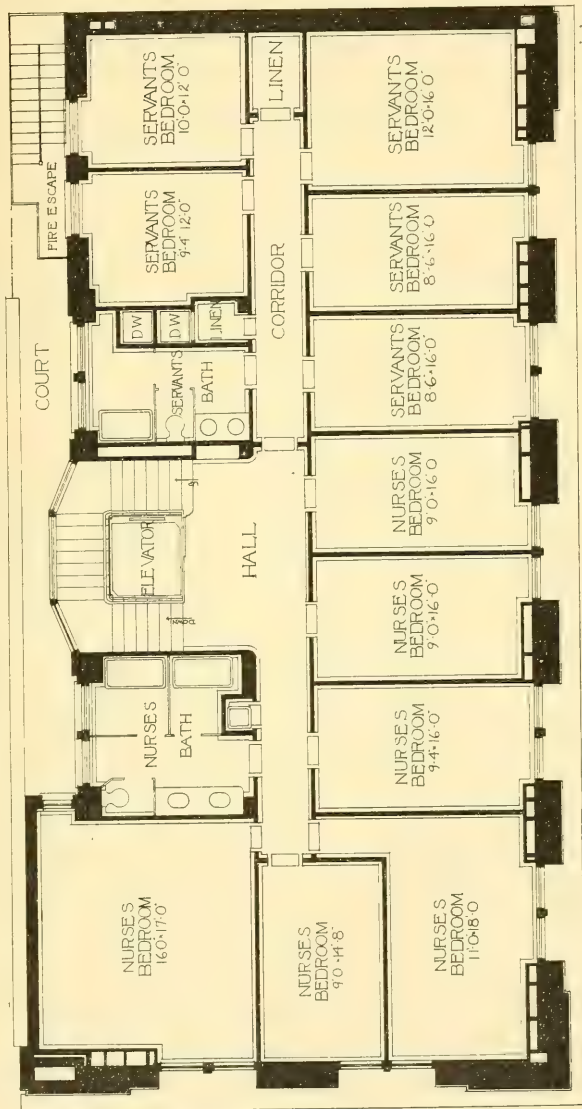

The officers and committees remain very much the same as they were last year. To the members of the Women's Board much praise may be given for their activity in all matters pertaining to the Hospital's interest, especially in the direction of helping to raise funds for the new building. To the house officers and to the Building Committee itself the officers are very grateful.

By order of the Board of Directors,

OLIVER G. JENNINGS, President.

B. OGDEN CHISOLM, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE SUMMER COMMITTEE.

Our summer has been very pleasant and uneventful, the Committee most interested and harmonious.

As the dance last year was so successful, it was decided to give another to raise funds for the Hospital. Mrs. Ira Barrows kindly offered to defray the cost of hiring the Monmouth Beach Country Club, and it was given there on July 13th. Individual members of the Committee donated all the expenses for supper, music, etc., amounting to $305, and we were enabled to turn the entire amount received from the tickets, $1,337, over to the Treasurer. This was a larger sum than we have ever raised at one time during the summer before.

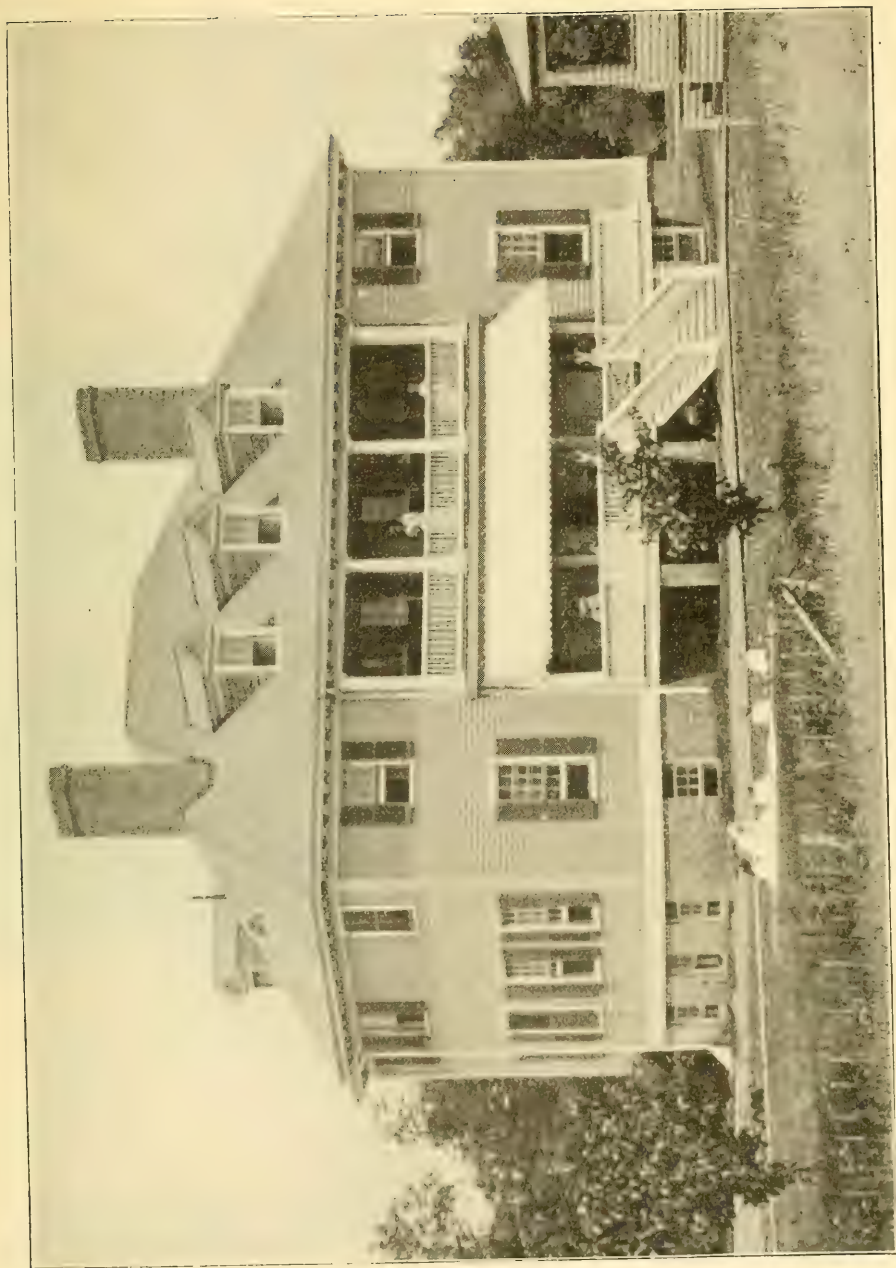

In September it was suggested that a Bridge Tournament be held for the benefit of the Hospital. Mrs. W. N. Cromwell very kindly gave her house and a delightful tea to complete the entertainment, and prizes were presented by Mrs. Prentice, Mrs. Connor, Mrs. Knox and Mrs. Adeë. This netted us $319.10.

Donations from interested neighbors and members of the Committee amounted to $893, making a total of $2,549 raised by the Committee. In this connection it should be remembered that at Oceanic our neighbors are all old friends who give to us generously during the winter. It is not as if we were calling on a new set of people—the entire burden falls on those who already do their full share toward the support of the city hospital, but who come forward with unabated interest and enable us to continue the work during the summer months. The Committee appreciate this fact and are extremely grateful for the assistance they received from the summer residents.

MEDICAL REPORT.

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE BABIES' HOSPITAL:

The past year has seen a number of important changes in the medical work of the Hospital. On November 1st, 1900, Miss Wheeler, greatly feeling the need of complete rest, decided to take one year's vacation, and Dr. Coolidge, formerly our Assistant Superintendent, was chosen to fill her place. Dr. Coolidge's assistant, Miss McCullom, was taken ill in the middle of the winter, and in February was obliged to give up her position altogether. On March 1st, Dr. l'Esperance came to substitute for a few weeks, and her work was so acceptable that she remained with us until November 1st, in the summer having had complete charge of the work at Oceanic for a month.

The winter's work in the city was greatly embarrassed by the number of nurses who were ill, this having exceeded any previous experience in the Hospital. Almost from the time of the return from the country, hospital sore-throats became of frequent occurrence, three or four nurses being off duty on this account a considerable part of the time. There was scarcely a week during the entire winter in which some of them were not ill.

This state of things was largely the result of unsanitary and crowded conditions of our old Hospital, and was one of the most pressing reasons for a new building.

A striking feature of the winter service was the large number of premature infants admitted. Never since the Hospital was opened have so many come to our doors. In the course of two months eight applied, including one pair of twins; the average weight of these eight infants was only three and a half pounds, and the vitality of most of them was so lowered that they survived but a short time, four dying within twenty-four hours.

With the exception of diphtheria early in the winter, the City Hospital was remarkably free from contagious diseases. Diphtheria infection, however, became so great in the institution, in spite of repeated fumigation, and the most thorough cleansing and disinfection possible, that it became necessary to administer a protective dose of diphtheria antitoxin to every child admitted, and only in this way did we finally succeed in stamping out the disease. This practice was continued for several months, antitoxin being given to even the youngest infants without the slightest unfavorable consequences.

On July 26th, the City Hospital moved from the old building, its home since 1887, to its present temporary quarters at the Nursery and Child's Hospital; we now occupy the Isolation and Reception Pavilions of that institution. This gives us five small wards which are well lighted and well ventilated, and makes it possible for us to conduct not a large but a very active service, without any serious interruption to our work. Thus far these quarters have been satisfactory, and we have been much more comfortable than would have been possible in any other building available.

During the entire summer, one ward was kept open, and a number of children treated here who were too ill to be moved to Oceanic. The applications for private rooms were more numerous during the past year than ever before, and are constantly increasing. This is a need which we hope to supply in our new building.

The work during the past summer has been, perhaps, the most satisfactory since the Country Branch was opened. One hundred and seventy-five children were sent to Oceanic, a larger number than during any previous year; and while the number of acute diarrhoeal cases of a severe character was considerably larger, the mortality was not above previous years.

A case which excited very great interest during the summer was one which had all the symptoms of tumor of the brain, including the usual changes in the eyes, stupor, convulsions, partial paralysis, etc. The diagnosis of tumor of the brain was confirmed by the Hospital staff as well as several other New York physicians who saw the case, including Dr. M. A. Starr. The operation of puncturing the spinal canal and the removal of fluid was performed without very great expectation that much benefit would result ; but from this time the child began to improve, and went home at the end of three months to all appearances entirely well, having regained her sight and the use of her limbs, and increased in weight nearly eight pounds.

During the entire summer, the Hospital was free from contagious disease, this always being an embarrassing complication. The health of the nurses was excellent, and they all showed decided improvement from their stay in the country.

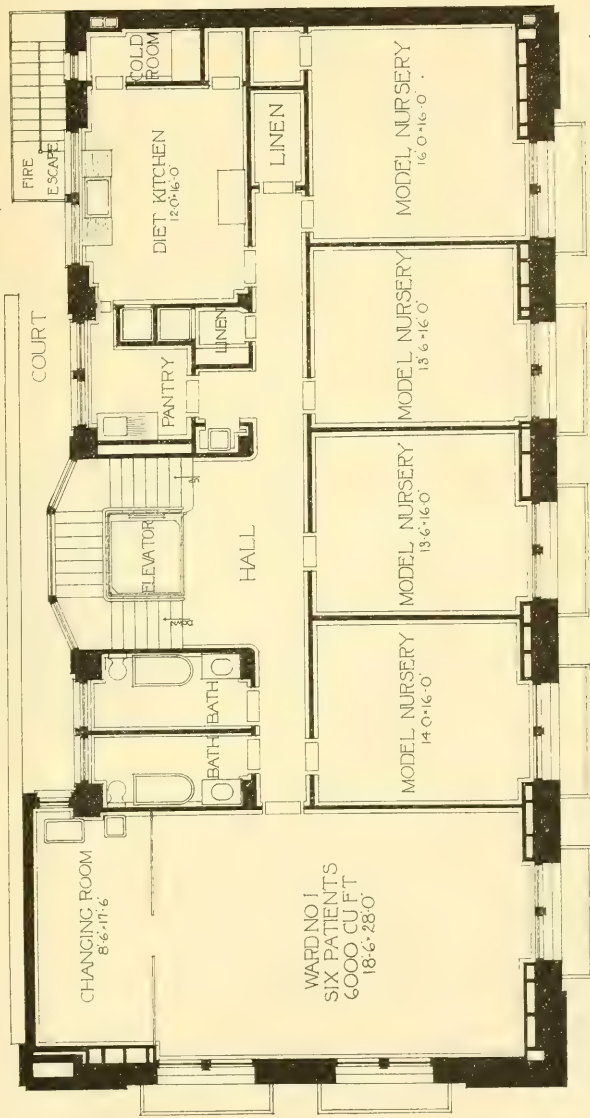

For the first time in the history of the Hospital, a laboratory was fitted up at Oceanic, a room in the Isolation Cottage being set apart for this purpose. Dr. Cordes and Dr. Wollstein each remained at Oceanic for a month. The laboratory has become such a necessity in the work of the institution that it has always been greatly missed in the summer. This year it was much appreciated, not only by the Hospital staff, but by many physicians along the Jersey shore, from Atlantic Highlands to Elberon, who sent many specimens there for examination.

The total number of patients treated during the year was 475 as against 395 for the previous year. The average stay in the Hospital was, however, much shorter, being 19.6 as against 27.8 days for the previous year. For the detailed work of the Hospital, reference is made to the statistical report which is printed elsewhere.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CRIBSIDE COMMITTEE OF THE BABIES' HOSPITAL.

During the season of 1900-1901 the Cribside Committee of The Babies' Hospital held, as usual, its regular monthly meeting at the Hospital, on the second Wednesday in the month, at twelve o'clock.

At the November meeting the following Officers were re-elected for the ensuing year:

MRS. BRYCE GRAY.....Chairman
 MISS ELLEN LOUISE ADEE, Vice-Chairman
 MISS AMIE WILLETTS... ..Secretary
 MISS MAUDE H. CURTISS.....Treasurer

The list of members at the last meeting in May was as follows:

Active members40
 Associate members..... 6
 Honorary members22

The regular work of the Cribside was carried on successfully during the year, and its members also took upon themselves several new duties.

Clothing was donated to the Hospital in accordance with the needs of the babies, and each month a Committee was appointed to visit and inspect the Hospital.

The Thursday Afternoon Sewing Class was again organized during Lent, and the Managers of the Hospital were invited to join. Friends of the Cribside loaned their houses for the meetings, and music and refreshments were provided.

Two hundred and fifty-four garments were cut out, and all but a small percentage have already been given to the Hospital. The dues, including a few donations, amounted to $113, and a balance of $52.10, after the cost of materials was deducted, was turned over to the Hospital.

The plans for the new Hospital were followed with great interest by the Cribside, whose members, besides making individual efforts to procure subscriptions for the building fund, united in assisting the Managers to sell tickets for a concert, given at Sherry's on December 5th. Mrs. Francis L. Wellman and Mr. Myron W. Whitney, Jr., sang, and the returns from the concert amounted to more than $1,700.

The Cribside will begin another year with its November meeting, and there is every reason to hope that each year will be marked by greater activity and by more successful attempts to help on the splendid work of the Hospital.

Secretary.

REPORT

OF

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSERY MAIDS.

(FOUNDED IN 1890 BY MRS. ROBERT W. CHAPIN.)

The work of the Training School has continued during the past year much the same as usual. The number of young women applying to enter the School has increased so much that we have been obliged to exclude Canadians for a time, giving the preference to girls living in the United States, and recommending the Canadian applicants to go to similar schools. Out of the thirty-seven girls admitted on probation, fourteen have been rejected as unsuitable for the work, the standard thus being carefully maintained, if not made higher. Two have been obliged to leave the school on account of illness at home, only a short time before their course was completed, thus reducing the number of graduates.

This year we have adopted the system of giving each girl a sealed envelope in which is a printed form telling her whether or not she is considered suitable to become a regular member of the Training School, at the end of her probationary month; this is signed by the Chairman of the Nurses' Committee and by the Superintendent. We also have a set of rules and regulations which we send to each person applying for one of our nursery maids, so that the employer may be thoroughly cognizant of the work, privileges and restrictions expected of nurse, thus avoiding future friction. They are as follows:

1. Nursery maids wear the Hospital uniform, including cap, while in the house.
2. Take entire charge of an infant under the mother's supervision, night and day, prepare food, wash the napkins, take care of the nursery and do the baby's mending.
3. Do not wash their own clothing.
4. Time off duty: One afternoon every other week, an evening the intervening week, and every other Sunday afternoon and the intervening Sunday evening.

5. Have their meals served in the kitchen.
6. Are competent to meet simple nursery emergencies, but are not allowed to give medicines or in any way to prescribe for a baby without a physician's orders.
7. For first six months, they receive $20 per month ; if their work has proven satisfactory during this time they then receive $25 per month.
8. All complaints should be made either in person or by letter addressed to the Superintendent, who will bring such complaint before the Nurses' Committee. Any complaints coming through others and not from the employer will not be considered.
9. It is earnestly requested that when a nurse leaves her place a letter be sent to the Hospital from her employer, stating whether the nurse's services were satisfactory or not.

The demand for our nurses still increases, notwithstanding the growth of other institutions having training schools for nursery maids. Nearly three hundred people have applied for our maids during the past year, a very small proportion of whom could be supplied.

The nurses' quarters in the City Hospital have been so crowded that much illness has resulted; during the entire winter there has rarely been a time when the whole class has been on duty. This is one of our chief reasons for so strongly desiring a new building, and we are anticipating a much more prosperous school when our model hospital shall be completed.

The general schedule of instruction has been the same as in former years. Two lectures given by Dr. Holt on the modification of cow's milk were much appreciated by the winter class.

A Training School for Nursery Maids has recently been established in Baltimore and one in Montclair, New Jersey. The managers of both these institutions have asked us for assistance in establishing their new schools, and have patterned them very much like ours.

We have endeavored during the past year to keep up the reputation of the School, which our Superintendent, Miss Wheeler, established and has so long maintained, and we will all gladly welcome her back, when her year's vacation has expired.

EMELYN LINCOLN COOLIDGE, M. D.,
Acting Superintendent.

CASH CONTRIBUTIONS FROM ALL SOURCES

FROM OCTOBER 1, 1900, TO SEPTEMBER 30, 1901.

The following classification of money gifts has been arranged so as to avoid repeating the same name in the different lists as was formerly done, and this simplifies matters into one alphabet.

In the first column the annual subscriptions are from persons who have also subscribed to the funds of the Society the previous year or longer. The amount thus entered against a name implies no obligation of any kind.

In the second column the donations are those gifts either new or occasional, but none the less appreciated by the officers. The management feels that the character of the work undertaken by this Hospital is of such a nature that it will readily appeal to all persons seeking a worthy charity. Contributions are most welcome. New interests and new names are especially gratifying.

ESTABLISHING AND MAINTAINING WARDS.

The following rule in relation to wards was rescinded by the Board of Directors April 10, 1901:

"$250 will furnish a ward for two years, donor having right to name the ward for that period; at the end of this time an annual gift of $100 will continue above privilege."

As the wards in the new Hospital are much larger, no definite sum can be fixed upon at the present time in relation to establishing and maintaining them. During the year, however, one considerable gift has been received for this special purpose.

From FELIX M. WARBURG, $2,000 "to furnish a ward in the new Hospital."

There are several large wards as yet unnamed and persons who may feel an interest in them are invited to address the Secretary.

In City Hospital.

HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION OF THE SUMMER BRANCH AT OCEANIC, N. J.

The Hospital Summer Branch, at Oceanic, New Jersey, was an absolute necessity, and so appealed to neighboring and other friends that money and assistance were very soon forthcoming. Three acres of land, costing about twelve hundred dollars, were given by Mr. W. E. Connor and others in 1891, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Adams laid out the pretty grounds at their own expense. In 1892, Dr. and Mrs. A. Blair Thaw, of Pittsburg, erected the main Hospital in memory of their two daughters, Ruth and Margaret. This building cost over ten thousand dollars, and it has been all that could be desired. This same year, 1892, a Reception cottage, where the babies are examined before being admitted to the Hospital, was built by Mr. W. F. Havemeyer and Mr. Edward Kemp, costing one thousand dollars. The cottage was furnished by Mrs. Joseph T. Low and Mrs. John Hone. The Summer Branch of the Hospital having proved most satisfactory, and the accommodations of the main Hospital being stretched to their utmost, the hearts of the Managers were gladdened when, in 1893, Mr.* and Mrs. J. Hooker Hamersley erected a cottage, costing about four thousand five hundred dollars, in memory of their daughter Rita. The wide piazzas are especially appreciated by the children. These kind friends have not only given largely each year towards the maintenance of the building, but have kept all in excellent repair. The late Mrs. W. F. Havemeyer built a large diet kitchen in the main Hospital in 1896. This was much needed, and for the last five years has proved a great convenience. In 1898, the Crib-side Committee began earnestly to raise five thousand dollars for a Nursery Maids' Home, and were most successful. In June, 1899, the new building was opened, and almost entirely furnished by Mrs. William Moir. The sum expended was $5,750. This building is particularly valuable, because the nurses formerly occupied rooms which are now wholly given over to the sick babies. The great need of a proper water supply was met by a fund of $800 raised by the summer residents for a water tower, with a windmill and tank, and an artesian well was drilled, and donated by Mr. William A. Street, so that the water supply for all purposes is now beyond doubt. The generosity of these gifts shows the sympathy and kindness of the people who are interested in the growth of our Hospital, for which the Managers are sincerely grateful ; and, when we think of the thousands of human lives our Hospital has saved, each one interested is glad of the assistance, great or small, he or she has been able to give. We cannot close this report without an expression of the sense of the deep loss the Hospital and its Board of Managers have sustained in the death, this summer, of Mr. J. Hooker Hamersley, late President of the Board of Directors. Mr. Hamersley was uniformly courteous, and greatly interested in the Institution. His place will be hard to fill.

“CRIBSIDE PAPER,”

“The Organ and Chronicle of The Babies' Hospital of the City of New York,
657 and 659 Lexington Ave.”

This little organ is intended to furnish to its subscribers news and bits of information touching upon this and other babies' hospitals, as well as items of mutual interest. It is issued every two months, and the subscription price is one dollar ($1.00) per year in advance. The Editorial Committee is very anxious to enlarge its scope and to extend its sphere of influence.

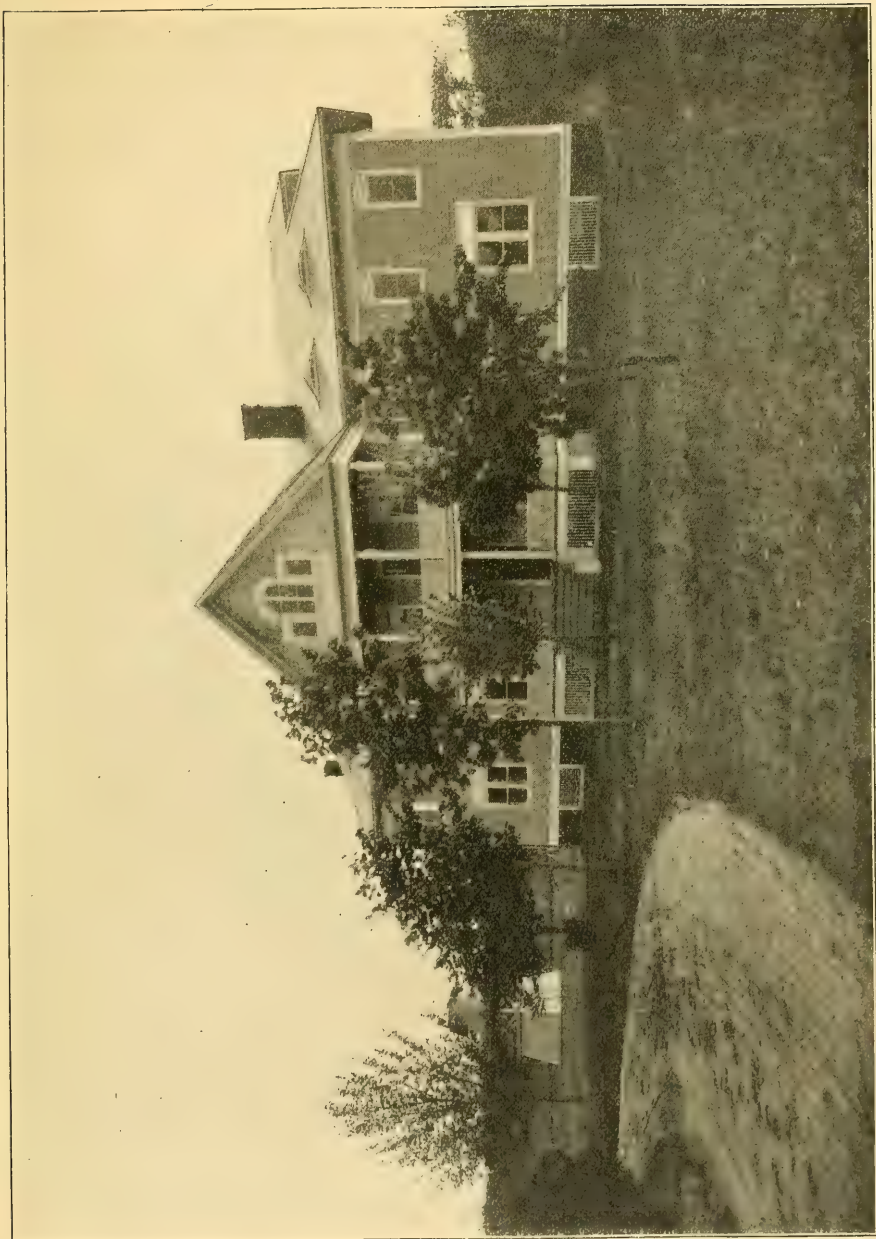

There are several ways by which this can be accomplished.

If every one of our 500 or more contributors this year would subscribe, the number of homes into which the Cribside would enter would be greatly increased. Business firms who have knowledge of, and interest in, the Hospital, would assist the work materially by authorizing a small advertisement to be inserted throughout the year. The expense of this would not be great, and the returns might more than pay the cost.

Interesting articles, either long or short, suitable stories and experiences, more especially adapted to babies and the objects to which the Cribside is pledged, are earnestly solicited, will be gratefully received, and published as soon as the limits of the paper will permit.

Address all communications for insertion, and those relating to business management, to Mrs. W. K. Draper, Chairman Editorial Committee, 116 East 38th Street.

Subscriptions should be sent to Mrs. Knight D. Cheney, Jr., 640 Madison Ave., or Miss Maude H. Curtiss, 24 West 49th St., payable to “The Babies' Hospital.”

NURSERY MAIDS' HOME, OCEANIC, N. J.
Erected 1899, under the auspices of Cribside Committee.

THE "CHILDREN'S CHARITY."

This is a Society formed for the purpose of interesting children in the practical work of the Hospital. The method of securing this co-operation is attained: First—by inviting any children to join the Society and pay the yearly dues of $1.00 each; Second—by asking the members to interest themselves in any practical work or unselfish way for the benefit of the babies. This can be done in more ways than one. Some little self-denial or the saving of pennies, remembering the babies at Christmas time, etc., etc.

The proceeds from this year's dues, $123, has been turned over to the Treasurer and disbursed for the actual needs of the babies, being all expended in nursery necessities, for warmth, comfort, etc.

Each child can feel that his or her dollar goes, as it were, directly to help clothe or comfort some less fortunate one.

An invitation is extended to all children, whose parents or friends have the Hospital's interest at heart, to join the "Children's Charity," communicating with Mrs. E. K. Beddall, 335 West 77th Street, for this purpose, to whom also the yearly dues may be sent and by whom they will be acknowledged.
